DEDICATION

Mary Louise Weyer Pendergast

The 1987 Sabiduria is dedicated to the memory of Mary Louise Weyer Pendergast and to T. J. Pendergast, Jr. Since 1976, the Pendergast/Weyer Foundation has contributed annually to the College with emphasis on Mass Communication. In 1980, the Mary Louise Weyer Pendergast Learning Resources Center was dedicated. This continuing support exemplifies the basic concept of the Pendergast/Weyer Foundation: "Giving, Helping."

HOMECOMING '86

Valley at the Movies

Homecoming, the first big event of the year, gave the students a chance to forget about their dreaded readin', writin' and arithmetic and the opportunity to show their enthusiasm by participating in Spirit Week. The Homecoming Banquet on Thursday kicked off the festivities for the weekend. Coach Ken Gibler spoke about the Viking season and the MVC Swing Choir, under the direction of Diana Malan performed. On Friday evening the Specialty Team headed for Liberty, Missouri where various organizations participated in the annual Torch Run. Later that evening the torch was back on campus to ignite the bonfire. At 2 pm on Saturday, October 18 the band, clowns, Homecoming court, and all the floats gathered at Marshall High School to start the day off with the parade. As the sun went down, tension went up for members of the Viking football team. Yet, it was the crowd who kept the spirit up for the highlight of Homecoming - the 7:30 pm football game. By halftime, everyone was fired up, Valley was ahead - and excitement filled the air as everyone awaited the announcement of the new queen. To everyone's pleasure, Kelly Call, a junior from Ava, Missouri was crowned the 1986 Homecoming Queen. The rest of the evening was everybody's own to be enjoyed, since it would soon be back to the readin', writin' and arithmetic.

Wheel of Fortune Debuts at MVC

On Wednesday, October 29th, the Office of Student Life participated in the latest game show craze by sponsoring a "Wheel of Fortune" show on campus. Nine MVC students competed in three rounds, and the winner of each was able to "buy" prizes donated by local area businesses and the Student Life Office. The three winners, Tia Banks, Lynn Rasch, and Lisa Harris, then progressed to a final playoff round, where Tia Banks emerged as the grand prize winner, and was given the opportunity to walk away with all of the remaining prizes (retail value of about $150). Pat "Sojerk" was played by David Midgett, dressed in a tuxedo with tails, and Vanna "Black" was played by Carmen Gordon, who was tastefully attired in a black lace tiered dress and white high-top sneakers. The MVC game show was staged to match the real thing as closely as possible, down to the painted wheel and the unseen announcer, played by Tommy Linkous. The students in the "studio audience" even enjoyed getting into the act, by responding to cue cards with appropriately placed cheers, applause, "ooo's", "ahh's", and "boo's".

Tia Banks smiles at her good fortune.

CRIMES OF THE HEART

BY

BETH HENLEY

Directed -- Rita Ludwig
Student Director -- Linda Larberg
Faculty Assistant -- Susan Dittmer

The fall play "Crimes of the Heart" was the second production of the 1986-1987 season at Valley. It was presented in Mabee Chapel on December 4, 5, and 6. The play was under the direction of Rita Ludwig and student director Linda Larberg. The zany, modern comedy centered around the reunion of the Magrath sisters Meg (played by Christy Bradley), Babe (played by Mlissa Brown), and Lenny (Andrea Buchanan). Prior to their reunion, Babe had shot her husband, a political big wig, in the stomach because she didn't "like his stinking looks"; Lenny was celebrating her 30th birthday and mourning the death of her pet horse, which was struck by lightning; and Meg had returned home after failing to launch a Hollywood singing career. Other cast members were: Nicole Freed, Robbie Harper, and Matthew Norton. The technical director for the show was David Midgett.

Students and faculty alike celebrated the true meaning of Christmas during the traditional Banquet and Hanging of the Greens on December 14th. The evening began with a home-style holiday dinner in Ferguson Cafeteria. President Reeves and Christy Bradley (Student Senate President) welcomed the students and staff after which Dr. Tim Nelson led the prayer and carols. Following closing remarks by Dean of Students Ken Bryant, everyone gathered outside to hang Christmas wreaths on all campus buildings. Luminarias lit the paths as the group caroled from one building to another. When all wreaths were hung, the campus community was treated to joyous holiday sounds of the Christmas Concert. Three musical groups (Swing Choir, Gospel Singers, and Women's Glee Club) performed under the direction of Diana Malan, and Instructor Robbie Ludy signed the lyrics for the hearing-impaired.

Courtwarming Ceremonies

It was Courtwarming at MVC and the final home game of the regular men's basketball season. Rick Rainwater, graduating senior, led the Vikes in victory over Graceland College from Lamoni, Iowa. He was honored by Coach Denny Fox in a pre-game tribute for his contributions to the men's basketball team. Half-time ceremonies included a half-court shootout, and entertainment by the "Half-time Hi-Lites", MVC's drill team. But the focal point of the evening was when Leslie Perry and Frank Mazza were crowned Courtwarming King and Queen from a group of candidates that included Christy Bradley, Cynthia Collins, Randy Hoover, and Rick Rainwater.

The Boyfriend A Musical Spoof

A musical spoof of the roaring 1920's complete with lots of singing and dancing best describes the spring musical "The Boyfriend." The play, under the direction of Rita Ludwig and her faculty assistant Susan Dittmer, was presented in Mabee Chapel February 19, 20, and 21. It was the second time that "The Boyfriend" hit the MVC stage. Ludwig also directed the play in 1971. Also making a comeback was instrumental music, a first in many years. The musical ensemble, under the direction of Diana Malan, was composed of nine students, two faculty members and a Valley volunteer. Cast for lead roles were Scot Hildreth, Vicki Bellanti, and Jeannie Butler. Other MVC students appearing in the play were Roxanne Cox, Matt. Norton, Rebecca Meiners, Mlissa Brown, Tony Adams, Robbie Harper, Tommy Briones, Linda Larberg, Bobby Wehrle, Kris Clemens, Michelle Gibler, Derek VerDught, and Tara Goslik.

"The Assassination Game" (a.k.a. TAG) began on March 24th with the distribution of weapons (plastic dart guns) to 80 participants. The purpose was for one person, who was issued a "license to kill" card, to "stalk" and shoot the victim listed on the card. Once this was accomplished, each "killer" went on to another victim until there was only one person left "alive" at the end of the game. The game was sponsored and completely operated as a project for Jane Bartlett's Leadership Class by Roger Ward, Phil Mitchell, and Tom Ledbetter. These three students took on this enormous project to "promote and generate student involvement and to bring the activity alive on campus." Participants enjoyed and got very involved in the game. During the first week, most were eliminated, but the craftier ones resorted to disguises and hiding behind bushes and trees to capture their prey. When the game ended one month later, Jasper Bianco had been proclaimed the 1987 "Champion Assassin".

The five national sororities and fraternities on campus participated in Greek Week April 5-11. Competition began with track and field events Sunday evening and was followed throughout the week with wrestling, weightlifting, basketball, darts, ping pong, volleyball, a quiz bowl, tug-of-war, and the traditional chariot races. Something new added to this year's roster was softball on Saturday afternoon for both men and women.

Alpha Sigma Alpha took first in the sorority competition against Alpha Xi Delta. Tau Kappa Epsilon took first among the fraternities, closely followed by Alpha Sigma Phi. Sigma Nu took third place, this being the first time in five years that Sigma Nu did not reign as the Greek Week champions.

VISITING DIGNITARIES LECTURE ON CAMPUS

Noted Scholar Speaks at MVC

On Thursday, April 9th, Professor Allen Wittenborn, noted scholar on Chinese and Asian affairs, spoke to a crowd at Mabee Chapel on the MVC campus. The topic he covered was "China's Second Revolution: The Modern Economic Transformation." Dr. Wittenborn has a doctorate degree in Asian Studies with a major in International Relations and a minor in Chinese and Japanese history. As a result of his long time study of Chinese and Asian culture, he has published several articles in major journals, and has lectured on historical as well as contemporary issues in China. Since 1981, Wittenborn has traveled extensively throughout China, including over 40 major cities, and spent several months as a Sinologist aboard a Yangtze River cruise ship. He has lived in Japan, Taiwan, and Hong Kong, in addition to Turkey and Germany. He speaks and reads Chinese and Japanese, conducts research in Classical Chinese, and has translated for the U.S. Joint Publication Service and the Berlitz Translation Service. Additionally, he has conducted business negotiations in Beijing and Shanghai. Professor Wittenborn came to campus on an invitation issued by President Reeves.

Senator Danforth Holds "Town Meeting"

Senator Jack Danforth spent a Sunday afternoon on the MVC campus on April 12th. He dined at the Ferguson Cafeteria for brunch and interacted with a variety of students and staff/faculty members. Danforth then proceeded to Mabee Chapel to conduct a "Keeping in Touch Town Meeting." He spoke to an audience regarding such issues as his vote to override President Reagan's veto on the transportation bill and issues in trade relation (protectionism vs. reciprocity). Senator Danforth also responded to questions from local townspeople concerning the new tax bill.

Campus Joins Together During Special Olympics

The coming of Spring brought the coming of a tradition -- Special Olympics. Even two rain delays didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the volunteers or participants. Chairperson Marty Woytus, Assistant Chair Mike Wagoner, and the rest of the campus committee organized and planned the day's activities and fundraising strategies for the two hundred-plus children and adults from twenty-nine schools who participated. Various student organizations and community groups sponsored track and field events that included running events, softball throws, long jump, and pentathlon. Many students turned out to "stand and cheer" for the exceptional athletes, and the day was enjoyed by the volunteers and participants alike.

First Annual Buffalo Roast

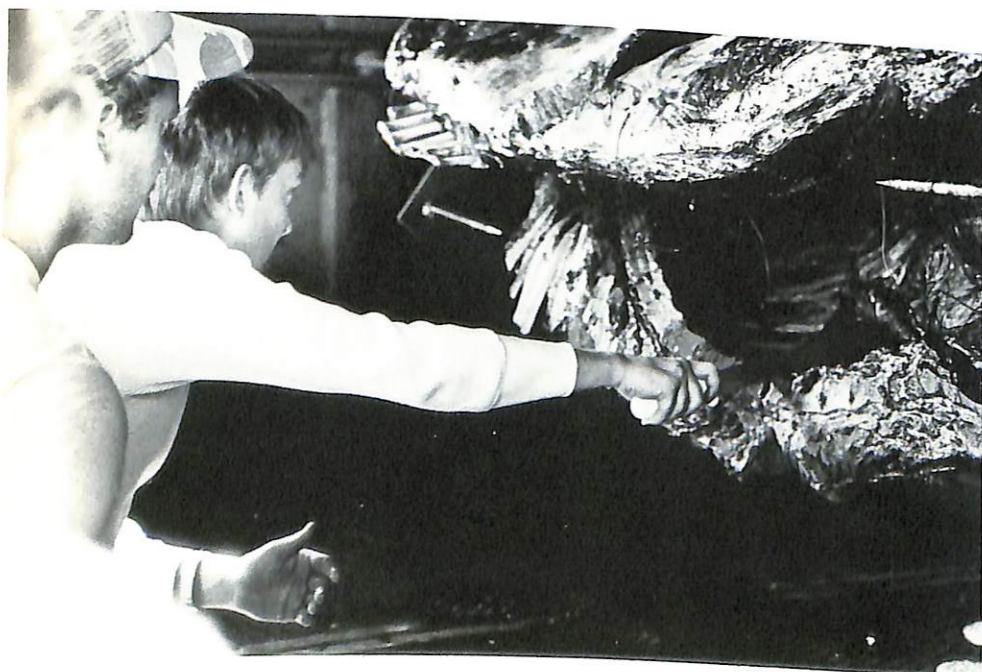

On Thursday, April 23, 1987, Missouri Valley students were treated to their first annual buffalo roast, sponsored by American Food Management. The meat was roasted all day on a barbecue spit in the center of campus, and dinner was served picnic-style. Most students were daring enough to try the tasty meat, but regular hamburgers were served to the less adventurous.

Intramural Program Encourages Involvement

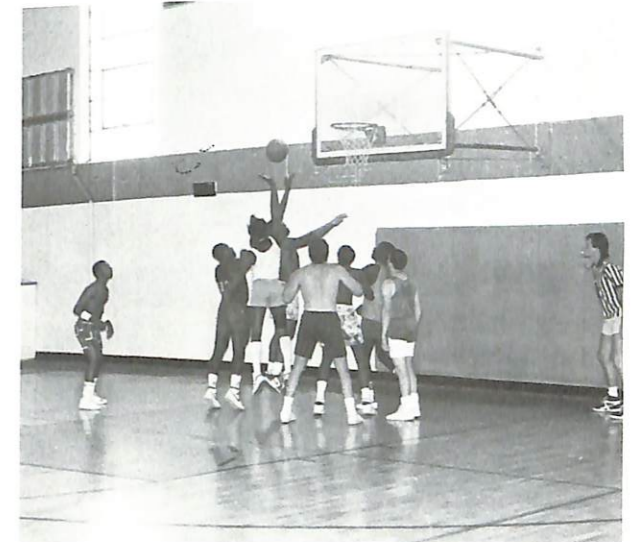

In the spring of 1987, the Student Life Office implemented a new comprehensive intramural program which was designed: to provide more opportunities for student participation in extracurricular activities, to minimize dependence on limited athletic facilities, to find events which more "non-athletic" students may enjoy, and to provide a central unifying vehicle for residence hall and floor spirit. The nine teams were based in the various men's residence hall units, with a number of women from MacDonald Hall chosen proportionately to play with each team to make them coed.

Tournaments were held in men's basketball, coed ping pong, coed Trivial Pursuit, and an all-day coed "Battle of the College Stars." The intramural champ for 1987 was the team from Second Floor Young Hall.

BATTLE OF THE COLLEGE STARS

Intramural Competition Starts New Tradition

On Sunday, May 3rd, the first annual "Battle of the College Stars" took place, as part of Missouri Valley College's Intramural program. A variety of "athletic" events were held, with intramural points being awarded to the winners of each. Events included an egg relay race, basketball relay race, three-legged race, crab walk, piggy back race, potato sack race, orange pass, lifesaver pass, sheet race, banana and lemon eating contests, jello slurping contest, pyramid building, and obstacle course. The day's events were followed by a dance on the patio outside of Ferguson Cafeteria, complete with disk jockey and Air Band/Lip Sync Competition. This competition also yielded intramural points for the winners. At the end of the evening, when all the lip sync groups had performed, first place for the day went to Second Floor Young Hall, second place was Third Floor Young, and third place was Tau Kappa Epsilon.

MVC CHOIRS KICK OFF A GREAT SPRING CONCERT

The spring musical show produced by the MVC choirs was held on May 8th and 16th in Mabee Chapel. The performance on May 16th was dedicated to the 1987 graduates and Missouri Valley College alumni. This year's show was one of the most entertaining that the groups ever done. Diana Malan, Director, made great use of the volume of talent among this year's members, many of whom had previous dance and performance experience prior to coming to MVC. Linda Larberg helped in technical direction and Robbie Harper choreographed several selections.

The selected music was fast-paced, appealed to all ages, and ranged from pop/broadway tunes to contemporary gospel selections.

Campus Forum

It may not sound unique, but "General Studies 100, Campus Forum: Topics and Tours Beyond Academics" is unlike other lecture classes.

The one- or two-credit course created and taught by Ken Bryant, dean of students, takes students out of the classroom lecture format to experience discussions by visiting specialists from the community and tours of local spots of interest.

The idea grew out of Bryant's desire for students to learn more about the community of Marshall. In the class's first year, students learned about Jim the psychic wonder dog, wood-carving, road safety and alcohol education.

Women's Hall of Fame Tea

On May 15, 1987, three outstanding women were honored at Missouri Valley's Hall of Fame Tea. Jane Staley was elected the 17th woman to MVC's Women's Hall of Fame for her outstanding service to her profession and her community and for her contributions to Missouri Valley College.

Jill Huey Marker was presented the Valley Dames' Scholarship Award. This award is presented to a sophomore or junior for their outstanding scholarship and leadership.

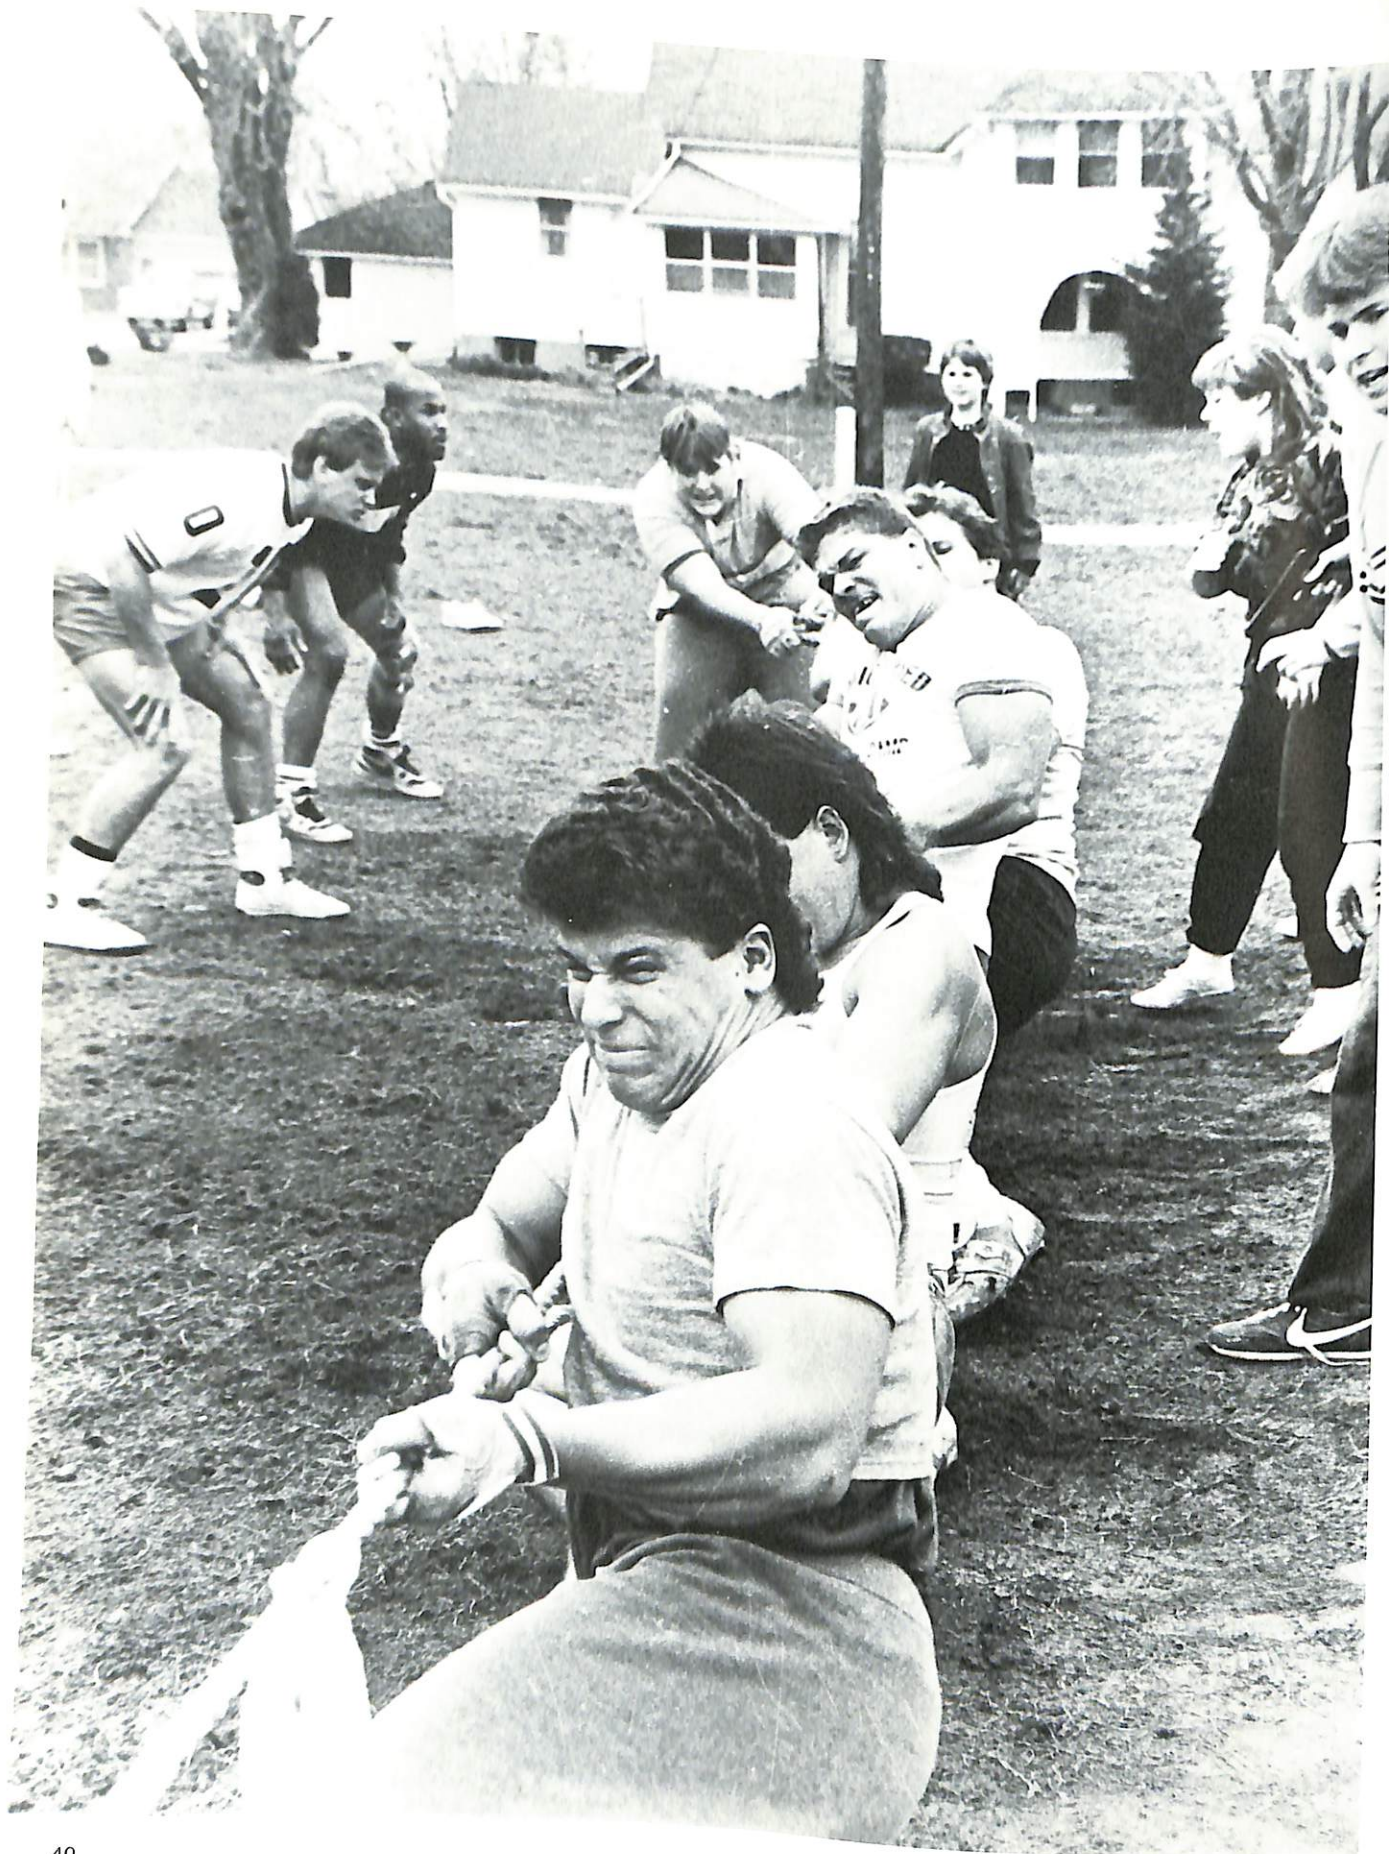

Linda Larberg was awarded outstanding senior woman for her leadership, character and service.

Our Times

In Memorium

This page is given in memory of our classmate Terry McHenry, a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and place-kicking specialist for the Valley football team. Terry, a native of Appleton City, MO, and a freshman at Missouri Valley College, died October 9, 1986, in a car accident while returning to MVC. A memorial service was held in his honor that same night in Mabee Chapel.

To every thing there is a season,
and a time to every purpose under the heaven: A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted . . .
