MISSOURI VALLEY COLLEGE

FOREWORD

If this book can picture to you the year 1923-24, can make you recall the friendships which were yours and the pleasant occasions known to you, if it can portray to all its readers that abstract some thing brotherliness upon which the institution is founded, it will have been worthwhile.

TREES

*I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast,
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in Summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain,
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made for fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.*

ATHLETICS

Football Vikings, class of '24.
Those that have fought on the old field of battle;
Brown and clear brain was the animate clay,
Not spurred by drums or the musketry rattle,
Only right manhood deciding the fray.

Armentrout,

Durrott and

Tommy McAtcheon,

Clauson and

Maddox and

Eddie Purcell,

Each holding up an emblazoned escutcheon,
Each of them has won - the record will tell.

The Power Behind the Conquerors

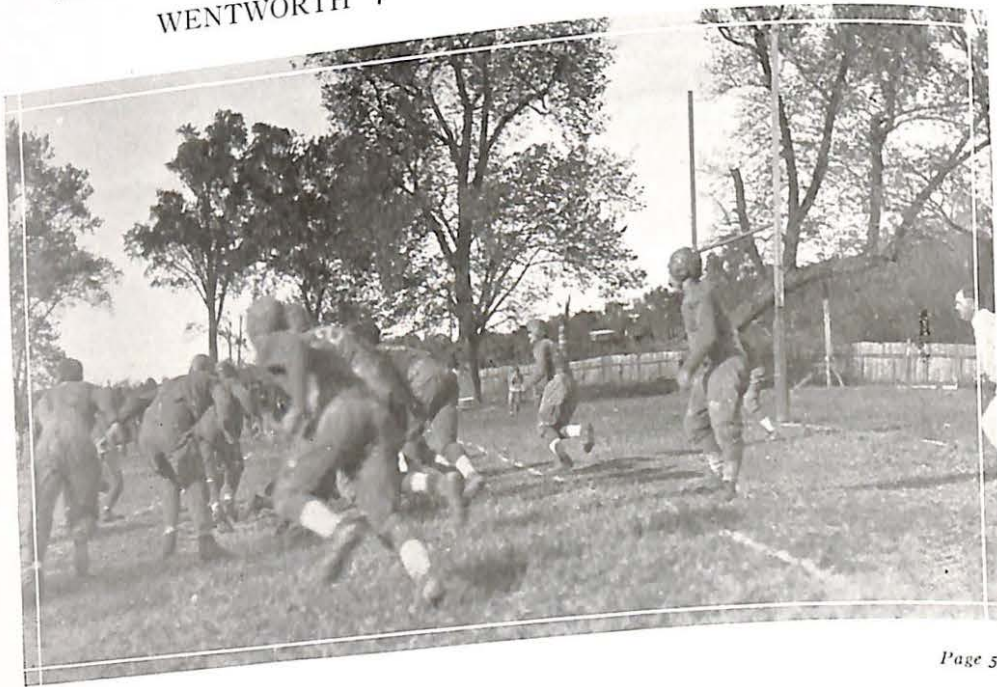

THE great success of our Football Team of 1923 was undisputably due to the tireless work of these three men. Coach Godfriaux concentrated all his efforts upon a successful team, but always impressing the men that games, whether won or lost, must be played cleanly.

Eddie Purcell, going thru the grind every day, helping efficiently in spite of the fact that his years of service made him ineligible to play in a single game.

Dr. Nuckles giving his services free of charge, and always ready and willing to do anything for the squad. We owe our highest appreciation to this man's unselfish work.

M. V. C. 17 CENTRAL 0

THE opening game of the Missouri Union for the Vikings and an opener which indicated the tides of future battles.

Central returned our visit of last year and came over full of enthusiasm to back up their team. They had a big band, lots of rooters, a telephone right on the sidelines; in fact, everything that makes for victory except the team. It was good, but the Vikings, hereditary enemies of the Eagles, had a better one.

Johnson, in the opening quarter, made a fine place kick from the 20-yard line and gave a demonstration of a power with the toe which was later to send the hearts of opponents sinking.

A SPECIAL train took the Viking supporters to see the Blue Jays flutter at the toe of Captain Johnson, the star of the game. Altho played on a field that was soggy in some parts and solid in others, it was a hard, well-played game. The high marks noticeable were the consistent gains of Johnson, Lockridge and Sydenstricker, and especially the fast work of Nellie Morgan on end.

The toe of Johnson accounted for all of the scores, kicking from 17, 25 and 30 yards.

Armentrout made the run of a lifetime, receiving a punt on the 50-yard line and running it back to the Blue Jay's 10-yard line.

OUR hardest game of 1922 also proved to be a tough one for 1923, but it would take a fiercer bird than a Panther to stop the Vikings in the spirit they showed this day.

As if stimulated by his success at Fulton, Captain Johnson used his toe in a perfection that is seen on few gridirons, scoring four place-kicks out of five trials, from all angles and distances, even from the 45-yard line, the one at 45 yards being the longest successful kick ever made on the Viking gridiron in a game.

Three mighty opponents now remained between the Vikings and the end of a perfect season, Bill Jewell, Warrensburg Normal and Springfield Teachers.

THE red-letter day in the history of football in Missouri Valley when the ambitions of years were realized and the "Cradle of Football" moved from Liberty to Marshall. It stands as one of the greatest games ever played by the Vikings, and the only other to compare with it was the Springfield Teachers game, two weeks later.

This was a game without a scoring place-kick except after touchdowns. It was a sweet game for the lovers of football to see, with every man on the line playing like a machine, and Johnson, Garceau and Lockridge playing the game of their lives. In an entirely different sentence we mention Sydenstricker, who played like a supernatural demon, and justly stood up to his reputation as "the greatest halfback in Missouri."

THOSE who saw the game will never forget the close scrape that M. V. C. had that day, for the Mules almost became our Waterloo.

The team never reached its usual stride. Some blamed it to the ride over the rough roads and others to various things, but all agreed that it was a dangerous game.

Morgey in the backfield and Morgan at end showed up best for the Vikings, and Facto, Lyons and McCoy deserve a great deal of credit for the kick that the Mules had that day.

THE close of the season! and leaving a nice taste in the Football mouth. For in defeating the Bears the Vikings turned back what was considered the best college team in Missouri and surrounding states. It was the Bears' first defeat by a conference team in two years.

The far-famed Cherry and Rennard found only a stone wall to receive their futile plunges, while Johnson and Sydenstricker found plenty of room for long runs.

Maddox, Armentrout and Moose Durrett, playing their last game, were like men possessed, and nothing could stop their attacks.

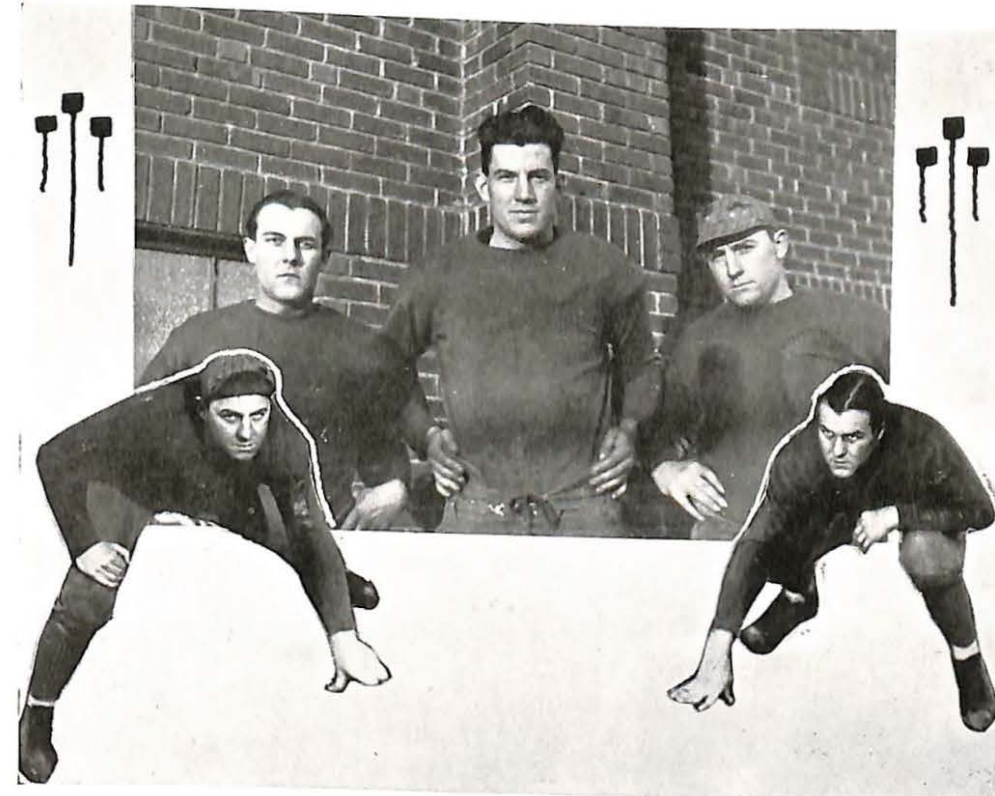

The war was over and the victory won! The end of a perfect season, for this victory gave the Vikings a clean record without a single defeat, and the Championship of not only the M. I. A. A., but the M. C. A. U. as well. And here's looking forward to as good or better season in the fall of 1924.

UNDEFEATED CHAMPIONS

1923

WITH thirty-four years of continued striving behind it, Missouri Valley College, on December 17, 1923, came into a full realization of a Championship Football season by entertaining the squad and coach as guests of honor at a banquet in Morrison Gymnasium.

By defeating Central, Westminster, William Jewell and Drury, the Vikings won the clear title of M. C. A. U. Champions; then by tying Warrensburg and overcoming the Springfield Teachers, one of the great football teams of the state, they won the undisputed title of Champions in the M. I. A. A.

The banquet hall was the scene of many miniature football gridirons upon which games of the past season were played over and over during the evening. Above the speaker's table hung a huge football, the exact imitation of the gold balls awarded to members of the team winning letters.

Tokens of Faith

A Challenge . . . MR. HENRI R. GODFRIAUX

The one strain that permeated all the talks was not the gloating over a victory, but a spirit of unity, a Viking Spirit, the spirit of giving all whether it was to result in a scored victory or a defeat. The haughty air of conqueror was not even expressed or intimated, but a sentiment of humble striving and more concerted effort for the greater seasons which are to be. In the talk of Mr. Godfriaux, he warned the student body, the team, and the town people against the follies of victory. Never before had the speeches at a Football Banquet of Missouri Valley College been so impressive.

After the talk of the Captain of 1924, Joe K. Swisher, Dr. Lowe presented the Tokens of Faith to the boys who had won their letter this year. They were Armentrout, Maddox, Johnson, Swisher, Durrett, Holliday, Lockridge, Limberg, Tegler, Garceau, Morgan and Porter. Because Eddie Purcell and Tommy McCutcheon had worked so diligently in previous years for the development of a winning team, altho they did not play in the games this year, the athletic department allowed a gold football to be given to each of these men.

And so ended the Championship Football Banquet of 1923, the greatest banquet Missouri Valley College has had in thirty-four years.

Summary of the Football Season of 1923

ALL OVER Missouri football banquets are being held in honor of football teams and football games, but nowhere else in Missouri is there a banquet to an undefeated team that not only gained its championship in its own association, but sent the champions of a sister association tumbling to defeat."

These were the words of Boone Gregg at the banquet at the close of the season, and these were the thoughts that swelled with pride the heard of each Viking when the "last game was over and the final whistle blew."

It was a victory that was justified, too. For three years Coach Godfriaux had struggled with squads of more or less satisfactory material, trying to whip them into shape. No success the first year, little more the second, but in the third only two defeats, and in the fourth the climax in an undefeated team. All of which proves the value of a good coach, who, in spite of difficulties and discouragements, kept working until the goal was reached.

Nor was this an off year for contesting teams. Jewell lost its only game in the M. C. A. U. to the Vikings, and then brought down the hitherto undefeated team of the Missouri Wesleyan's to their own level in second place. Both of these were as strong or stronger than they had been in many years. When the Springfield Teachers fell before the onslaught of the Vikings, probably the greatest victory of them all was hung up, for all the dope and football tradition that had been in the making by the Bears for the last two years went on the rocks, and the team that had won fame in Missouri, Kentucky, and Arkansas, and had made Missouri University sweat for a 10 to 0 victory, went down to defeat to the tune of 14-0.

Owing to the new alignment of Missouri Colleges, the State Teachers' Colleges and Rolla remaining in the old M. I. A. A., the other colleges having withdrawn and formed the new College Union, it was deemed wise to select the 1923 all-star teams to be found elsewhere in this Sabiduria.

However, there have been so many games between teams of the two organizations that a team of stars from all of the colleges was selected and also may be found on the same page.

With pride, too, we point to the fact that the Vikings placed three men on this All-Missouri team, an honor only equaled by the redoubtable Bears. The following tabulation shows how the schools of the College Union placed men on the first and second teams.

| Schools | First Team | Second Team | Total |
|--------------|------------|-------------|-------|
| M. V. C. | 4 | 4 | 8 |
| Jewell | 3 | 3 | 6 |
| Mo. Wesleyan | 2 | 2 | 4 |

Captain and Coach

Although the players for the All-Star teams were selected absolutely without regard to the final standings of the teams in the Missouri College Union—and as final proof of that let it be said that the teams were selected before the Thanksgiving day games were played—nevertheless, the selections give a good line on the final ratings of the teams, proving again perhaps the fairness of selecting these teams as a result of a careful study of the opinions of numerous coaches, officials and critics who have watched the players in action.

The Missouri Valley college team, winner of the Union championship, placed eight men on the two teams, four on each. William Jewell, which gave the Valley probably its hardest battle and surprised Union followers by upsetting the powerful Missouri Wesleyan eleven on Thanksgiving day, copped six places, three on each team. Missouri Wesleyan landed four, and oddly enough, these four places also were evenly divided between the first and the second teams.

Durrett, Missouri Valley, and Latting, Missouri Wesleyan, are a pair of tackles who would place on several teams in the Missouri Valley Conference. Durrett was an All-State man last year. The 1923 season was his fourth year in college football. He is 21 years old, weighs two hundred and towers three inches above the six-foot mark. Coach Godfriaux used Durrett in a on to open a hole for a quick darting halfback and on the defense he frequently was thru the opposing line to break up plays before they could get under way.

In Leo Lattin, Durrett has a tackle mate who tops him in weight by eight pounds, and adds an inch to the sky line. Lattin has proved a fine pass receiver on shift plays and has been a bear defensively.

Southard, Jewell, and Maddox, Missouri Valley, make a pair of guards whose poundage alone would make them hard to jolt off the scrimmage line. Southard packs 240 and Maddox 180. There's 828 pounds in four men, two on each side of the center. Hefty little line, eh? Southard played his fourth year. He has been a powerful bulwark in the Jewell forward wall. Maddox, in line with other shifts Godfriaux has made, played a tackle on defense and a guard on offense. He was a four-year man, aged 22, five feet ten, a sterling fighter and always an urge to his teammates in the way of maintaining the "fight."

Joe Swisher, Missouri Valley's "fighting fool," won the center position. This boy is an excellent passer, possessing a cool, level head under the most trying conditions. On the defense Swisher played a tackle position in true tackle style.

In Sydenstricker, Valley, and Matthews, Drury, the team has a brace of halfbacks worthy to grace any college eleven. Sydenstricker is a three-year man, age 21, 154 pounds, 5 feet 9, a wonder in picking a hole and shooting thru it like a streak. He was the most consistent ground gainer on the Valley team, seldom failing to negotiate his distance when the call came. "The sweetest half in the State of Missouri" were the words of Boone Gregg as he handed Tommy Sydenstricker his football letter—and all who saw this demon half in action, agreed from the bottom of their hearts. Let us call to mind one of the nevertobeforgotten occasions in the Spring game. Tommy went thru the line for five yards. There was a crash of bodies, only five yards for him that time. No, there he goes racing to the right. Another crash, ten yards instead of five. No, wrong again, there he goes tearing off to the left, leaving them empty handed again! The third time he was really downed, after going fifteen yards where the ordinary back would have fallen at five, and would have been downed at least twice.

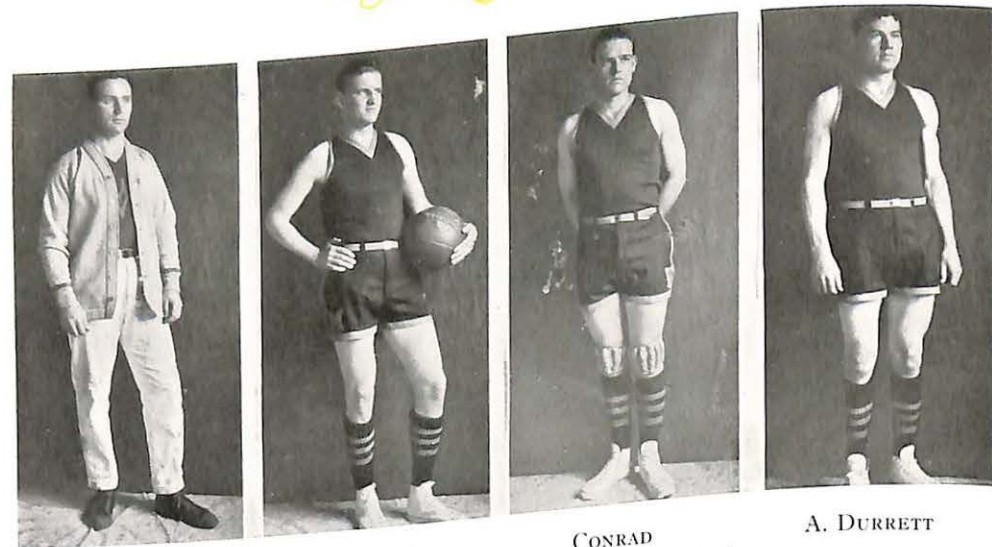

There are seven men on a football team who take up little space in the headlines, but who, unnoticed, must fight for all they are worth to pave the way for the ground gaining backfield. These seven men compose the line. The line of the Vikings for this season could be called a perfect machine, each part of which moved with smooth precision. Three of them gained berths on the all-star eleven, Durrett, Maddox, and Swisher; and the first two made the All-State. It was a line M. V. C. shall always remember.

One word to those who are going to carry on in the 1924 season. The Vikings of 1923 have laid down a record of clean, hard playing, of hard won and well deserved victories. May their spirit be transferred to you and may you carry the banners of the Vikings to as great honor as did they.

The tabulation of the season in the M. C. A. U.:

| School | Won | Lost | Tied |
|-------------------|-----|------|------|
| M. V. C. | 4 | 0 | 0 |
| Jewell | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Missouri Wesleyan | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Central | 2 | 2 | 1 |
| Westminster | 3 | 2 | 0 |

Viking's H. S. Basketball Tournament

FEBRUARY 22-23, 1924

THE greatest facility Missouri Valley College is able to offer its high school friends in Central Missouri is the annual Basketball Tournament held in Morrison Gymnasium. Here the teams are given an opportunity for competition on a neutral court with all of the accompanying privileges such as showers and unquestionable officiating, furnished by the college with the additional hospitality of entertainment and breakfast furnished both players and coaches while in town.

The 1924 Tournament saw twelve teams entered: Independence, Warrensburg, Sedalia, Tipton, Higginsville, Marshall, Lexington, Fayette, Alma, Sweet Springs, Napton and Miami.

TRULY Missouri Valley has felt the touch of good fortune these years of 1923 and 1924 from its various fields of endeavor. Good cheer and encouragement has crept into her life and the College Library has been endowed with its full share.

Quite a few new books have been placed on the shelves thru the year as each department of the College has requested. Current periodicals and magazines have been added as the exigency arose. At no little expense the "back" numbers have been collected and bound in the best style of binding for permanent reference.

In the spring of 1923 Mr. George H. Williams and his wife of St. Louis donated to the Library a special collection of carefully selected books appraised at $5,000. These books, pertaining chiefly to Law, History, and Sociology, will remain as a memorial to many recurring generations of scholars.

The magnanimous gift of a new Library Building by Mr. George Murrell of Marshall is a fitting achievement to the year's endeavor. May it soon adorn our worthy campus!

Dramatic Art Club of Missouri Valley College

THE AIM and purpose of the Dramatic Art Club is to develop personality and individualize its members. There is a field for every type of characterization. In no other organization on the campus is there opportunity for proving efficiency, responsibility, co-operation, uniqueness and talent as in this line of activity. There is a part which each one can play, we will find, just a little better than another—even as in the great drama of life itself. What a joy there is in discovering a new talent in a fellow student which has lain dormant, only awaiting a stimulus for response.

The predominating influence is to be that of culture, to promote conventions and formalities which most assuredly we need to observe and in our busy lives as college students we sometimes lay aside for other matters.

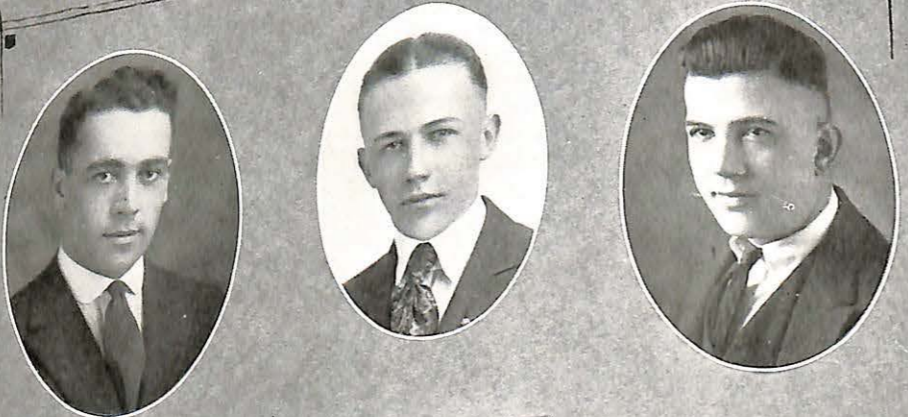

Not by any means our sole purpose, but as a culmination of our many efforts, we entertain, we portray life; and who can tell—perhaps some day a Marlowe or a Mansfield may rise in the glory of accomplishment and claim the Dramatic Art Club of Missouri Valley as his "guiding star."

Like all who would be great, we sit humbly at the feet of a scholar, and to Professor Seawell we dedicate whatever success has attended our efforts. It was he who conceived the idea, who struggled with it thru that dangerous period of organization, and who taught it to walk in its infancy. By his own particular method of directing dramatics, those who participate not only get the training for artistic talent, but are also versed in the art of coaching, which is the ultimate aim of all dramatists.

We are working to effect a permanent organization, and, with this in mind, have already turned our first year's proceeds back into the purchase of stage settings, and the numerous other paraphernalia which attend the staging of plays. While we work primarily for the perfection of our art, rather than the pecuniary returns, the productions have been well managed, and were financially successful.

Our efforts this year are now history, and we can but look forward to an era of greater development, and more outstanding success in our line of activity; but we shall always remember this inaugural year of the Dramatic Art Club as one of unusual achievements.

The Men's Glee Club was reorganized at the beginning of school this year, and regular practices were held until the end of the first quarter. At that time the number of members was cut down to sixteen and work was begun in earnest.

The program was more varied than that of last year, being composed of instrumental and vocal solos, a chalk talk, selections from the quartette, and blackface sketches, besides the usual ensemble numbers. The members of the quartette were Messrs. H. H. Harris, Rolland Snuffer, Arthur Seawell and Catron Gordon.

The aim of the organization was to put on a program which would be varied and entertaining, while artistic. We feel that we can say with all modesty that this aim was well carried out.

The good work of last year's Girls' Glee Club was well carried on by the 1924 organization. The program presented varied and pleasing numbers. The ensemble numbers were: Chit Chat, Come Down Laughing Streamlet, The Call, Pinga, Bridal Chorus, Carmena, and De Bogie Man. The quartette composed of the Misses Mildred Brooks, Maude Whitwell, Florence Wright and Leah Clymer sang several delightful numbers. Also there were several solos, and a playlet was given at the end of the program. An eastern tour was taken by the Club, and a western tour was planned, besides the regular home concert.

The Gospel Team is an organization which has for its purpose the conversion of some one or ones to Christ. An active life giving Christian life is the aim of each member.

The Team has acted together, every member trying to subvert his character to the Team's welfare as far as possible. The two Lieutenants, Pinkston and Pickering, have co-operated with use of talent and by work to make a successful year. The business manager, Hendricks, has worked under trying circumstances to locate appointments. Roanoke, Hardeman, and Slater have been visited, while other places are being communicated with. The fortune of the Team this year in musical talent has no precedent. Roy Linberg has had charge of the music. If one witnessed the power and joy he put into the services at Slater they would realize his worth to the Team. Arthur Seawell's solos have been a big drawing card. Campbell Hixson has joined in heartily as a pianist.

The weekly meetings have been a source of inspiration. Dr. Elmer A. Love delivered us a timely challenge to service at one of these. The attendance varies from six to twenty-five, with the usual average of from ten to twelve. Devotion and Bible readings are the chief aim of the meetings.

Young Men's Christian Association

THE Y. M. C. A. might stand for the Youth Movement toward Christ. We are in sympathy with the Youth and Student Movements the world over. We believe that the students of the world are a thinking bunch of men and women and their opinions should be worth while. The place for a college man to get in touch with student movements is in the Y. M. C. A.

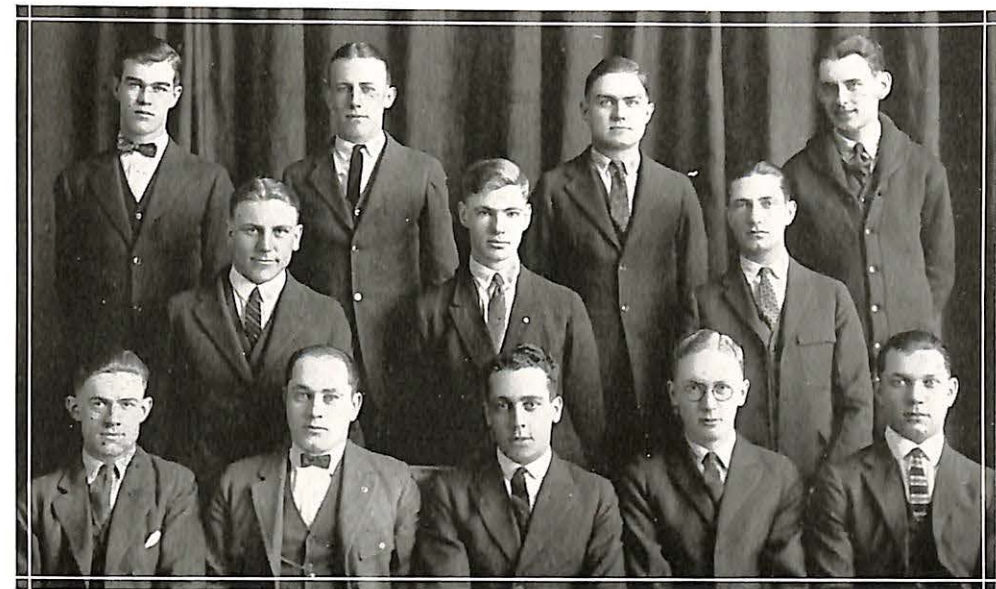

And don't be afraid of the Christian part of it. When a man starts to college he is old enough to quit shying at religious influences in his life. He should realize that the greatest influences in the world—past, present and future—have been, are, and will be religious feeling and convictions. Let's make the Y. M. C. A. a living, vital force in our life, both as an individual and as a school.

We stand for the thinking type of Christian men, and so are necessarily sober and serious-minded; but we believe in fun too—witness our stag social! Who says we didn't have fun? Did you see Coach Godfriaux, Professor Dynes and Dr. Lowe running races astraddle a bean pole? Well, we do hope that the first social event of the 1924-25 year will be a joint "Y" social, for we do think the fair sex should have an opportunity to get acquainted with us earlier in the year.

We have tried to keep in mind this year that the most Christ-like subjects we could discuss were the subjects which are paramount in the lives of men, subjects which will help each one of us in his conduct with society in general. To this we attribute whatever success which may have rewarded our efforts. Of course, there were other contributions to our success. The co-operation of the various members of the cabinet, the support of the student body, and especially the Varsity Club, were gratifying, to say the least.

To the "Y" of last year we can say that we have striven to carry forward the boundaries and ideals which were handed us, and it has been our ambition to build the "Y" a little higher, a little wider, and a little deeper than you built. To the "Y" of next year we say, "The 'Y' is a growing concern, you can guide it where you will, or climb in and coast down hill; but we expect you to push it a little nearer the pinnacle of perfection than we have been able to get." The "Y" must not go back, it cannot stand still, and the challenge to you is, "Will you carry on and surpass our greatest achievements?"

The Young Women's Christian Association strives to have every girl in school a member of the organization, and to make the Association hold a vital place in the life of each student.

In the beginning of the year all the new girls were invited to a hike to the time-honored place, the Indian Foothills. During November the Finance Campaign was launched. One of the Association activities which has proved a great boon to the school is the selling of candy under the supervision of Miss Brown.

The Devotional meetings are held at 7:45 on Tuesday mornings and at 1:00 on Thursdays. Miss Eva Wayman and Miss Martha Witt have been responsible for the interesting programs held at these times.

PROPOSED LIBRARY

The George Murrell Library Building will be constructed this summer if the way is clear. It will be the only fireproof building on the campus, and it will be the most expensive building on the campus. Architects are now working on the plans, and they will likely be submitted at the next meeting of the Board.

Henry Conrad and Albert James, two of our alumni, honor men bearing the degree of LL. D., are at work on the case.

There will be provision not only for the library, reading room, stack rooms, office, and work rooms, seminar room, and club rooms, but every convenience which a modern library should afford for the comfort of the students and the public.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE

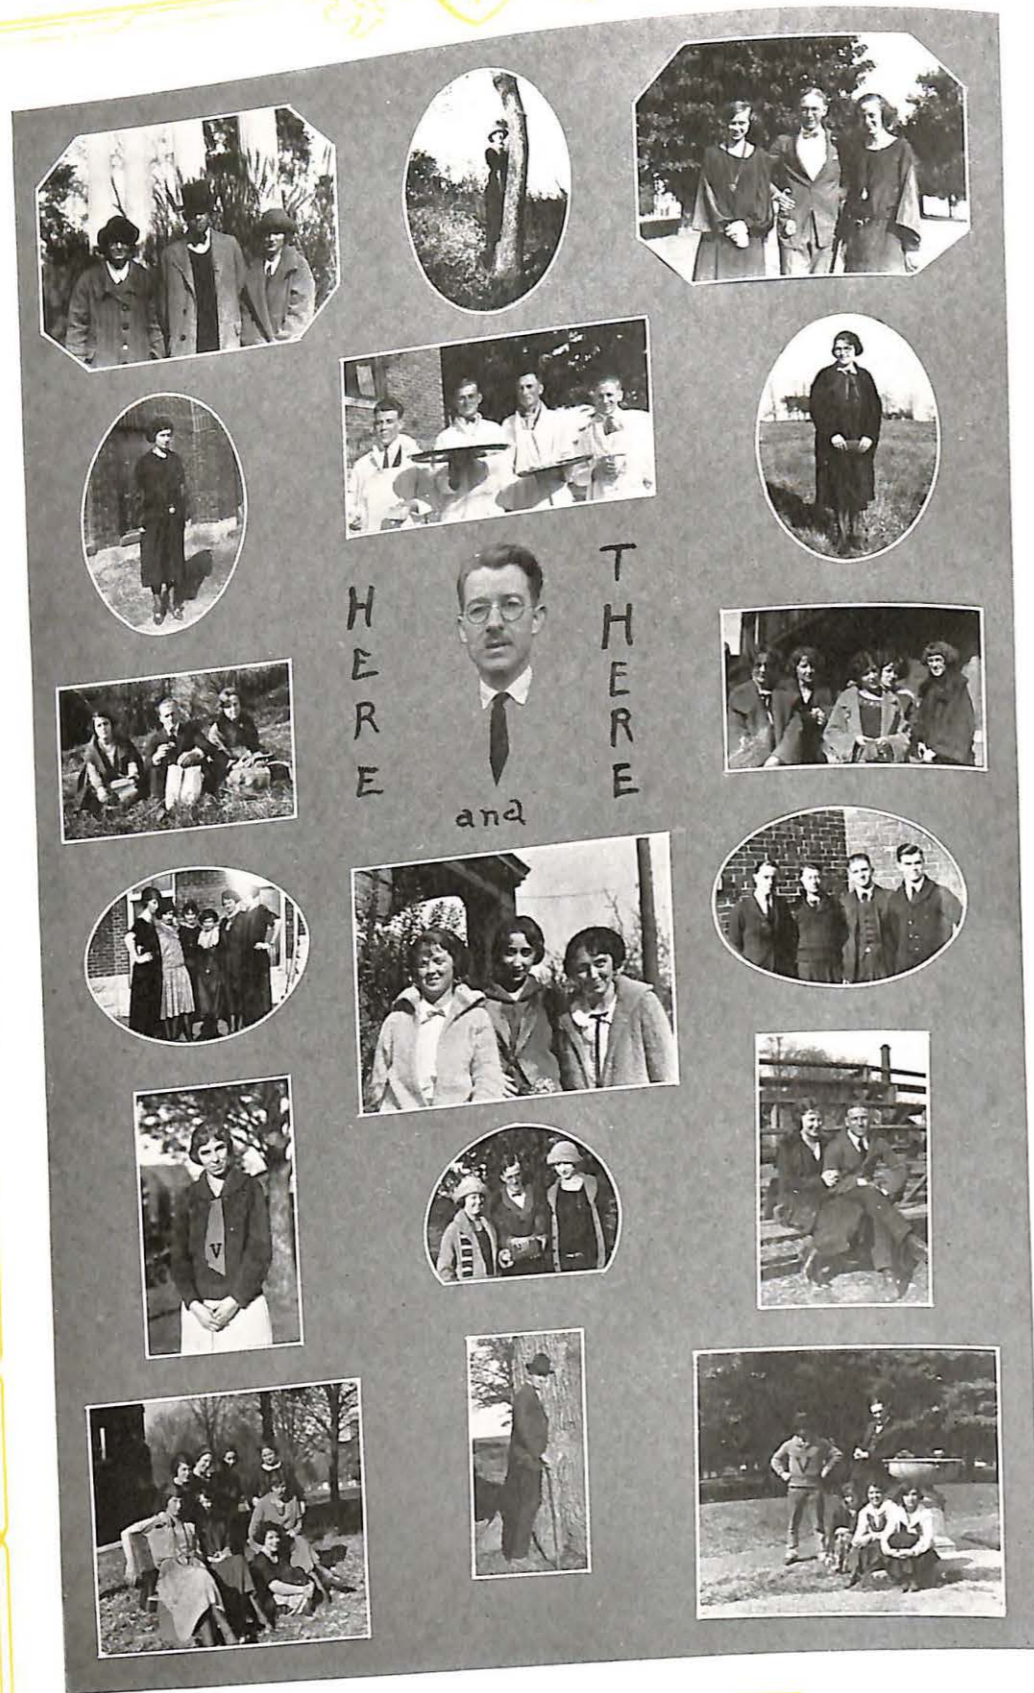

HAVE you ever stopped to think what a Chamber of Commerce means to a town? Primarily it owes its existence to and builds its policy upon the fact that a town, in order to grow and expand, must be advertised—must advertise itself. But there are a thousand and one little services, exclusive of this general purpose, which a Chamber of Commerce renders to its town and which make it indispensable to the townspeople. The Chamber of Commerce—an organization of citizens and for the citizens—is at your service.

LOOKING AT IT FROM YOUR SIDE

One-sided transactions have no place in this bank. We believe in looking at both sides —yours as well as our own.

Our chief concern is to please YOU, not ourselves; and we will go as far as sound banking practice will let us in giving you that kind of service.

Instead of doing as little as we can for our customers, our idea is to do as much as we can.

You talk of the future and she changes the subject. You kiss her and she becomes objective. Her father becomes present.

"You know," declared Sam Blair, "someone has said that if you would make a lasting pair of boots, take for the sole the tongue of a woman."

"Yes," retorted Lucille, "and for the uppers you ought to take the cheek of the man who said it."

And know your work's all right,
Who says next day, "You may re-

Prof. Dynes: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."

Jack Nicholds: "No wonder so many of us flunk our exams."

Like the lava from the crater
Came the gravy in his plate:
For he failed to tip the waiter,
So the waiter tipped his plate.

As deep as the canyon
As deep as the sea,
So deep am I running
In debt over thee.

Nobody loves a fat man,
The case is plainly stated:

"Am I the first man you ever loved?" Reuel was questioning Baum.

"Of course you are, Reuel. How tedious you men are! You all ask me the same question."

Tables had just been changed at the Dormitory when Virginia remarked to Cassie sitting by her: "Did you notice the enormous appetite Mr. Hixson has?"

Dean: "Meeks, why are you late?"

Fletcher: "Well, a sign down the street—"

Dean: "A sign manifestly can have nothing to do with your being late to my class."

Meeks: "Well, the sign said,
'School Ahead, Go Slow.'"
