Introduction

Perhaps the one thing that will remain in the minds of the students who have attended Missouri Valley College is the fact that everyone is friendly; Valley wouldn't be Valley unless it were that way.

In a yearbook we can attempt to convey the story of the year in pictures and verbage, but we cannot tell the real story. The real story is composed of more intangible things: The morning coffee at the Union, the bull sessions between classes in front of Baity Hall, bumming cigarettes toward the end of the month when everyone is broke. Yes, these are the intangibles that make up Valley. It is our hope that the book will bring back some of these memories and in years to come will become of permanent value because of the memories it contains.

At times we joke about "the forty acres of Christianity," but basically the Christian spirit has been part of Valley. We hope it will always be part of this college.

Valley has its eager youth, chow lines, crowds packing the football and basketball games and veterans housing. Wartime conditions have changed to peace time situations with their problems. Lots of new courses and new ideas are part of Valley.

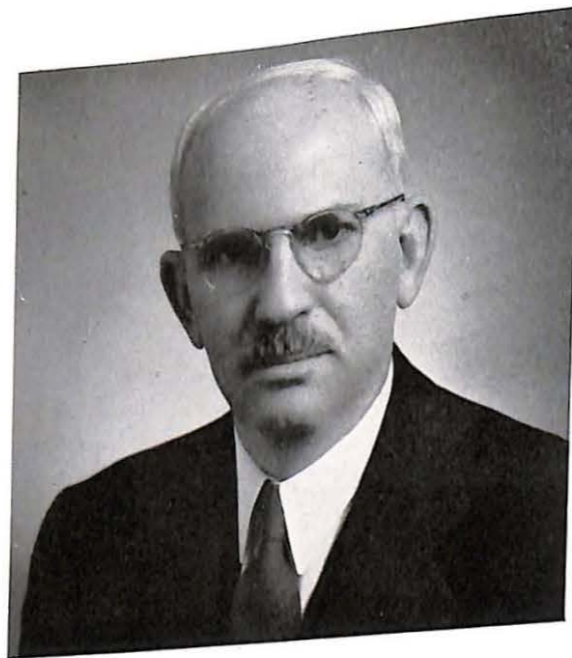

Yes, this has been a year of change . . . A year of awakening and transforming . . . A year of beginnings . . . A year of history.

Dedicated to

J. RAY CABLE
President

Through his leadership the physical plant has become the largest in the history of Missouri Valley College; the faculty has become the largest and best in the history of Missouri Valley College; the financial status has become the most secure in the history of Missouri Valley College and the future has become the brightest in the history of Missouri Valley College.

DR. GEORGE PERRY BAITY

Missouri Valley College owes a great debt of gratitude to Dr. George Perry Baity, who has served on the Board of Trustees for over 31 years, 29 of which he has served as President of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Baity graduated from Missouri Valley College in 1891. He received his Theological Degree from Cumberland University in Lebanon, Tennessee. Dr. Baity also received an honorary L.L.D. and D.D. from Missouri Valley College.

Dr. George Perry Baity resigned as President of the Board of Trustees of the College in 1947 and was immediately elected as President Emeritus by that body.

Dr. Baity, who is now 85 years old, has served his college and his church with great distinction. He will always be remembered by the college for his long years of devoted service.

DR. H. ROE BARTLE

Dr. H. Roe Bartle of Kansas City is the newly elected President of the Board of Trustees of Missouri Valley College. His dynamic personality and ability to get things done indicates a great future for the college. He is engaged in many activities, but his efficient organizational ability and devotion to the college indicate the great man who has become President of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Bartle is Scout Chief of the Boy Scouts of Kansas City and is also a famed and sought after public speaker. Dr. Bartle is a humanitarian, youth leader, traveler and lawyer and in all of these has proved his worth.

Missouri Valley looks to the future with hope, eagerness and confidence under the direction of Dr. Bartle.

Dean of the College

J. Frederick Doering

When Dean J. Frederick Doering entered the college in the fall of '47, few people were aware of his vast background and education. He holds twelve degrees which include: B.A. University of Western Ontario, M.A. Duke University, M.A. University of Toronto, Ph.D. University of Ottawa in Canada, L.L.D. Bethany College in Florida, Th.D. Mount Vernon University (Christ's Seminary), F.V.I., Fellow of the Victorian Institute and F.L.C.Th., Fellow of the London College of Theology. All this and five more.

Don't let the aforementioned scare you, because Dean Doering is as understanding as he is wise. The students of this institution have found him to be a friendly and sympathetic person as well as a fine professor. In addition to his duties as Dean of the College, he teaches English and creative writing. In his course in creative writing, his widespread knowledge in all fields serves to give the student much background material for the writings he wishes to produce.

Under Dean Doering, the curriculum has taken amazing steps forward. Many colleges now hold a great admiration for the way Valley has taken the lead in methods of modern education in this area. Under his guidance courses have been expanded and now include subjects hitherto unknown. The guidance program which he has introduced this year aids the student with all phases of his college living.

Dean Doering's ready smile and affableness have made him endeared to the students of the institution which he has helped so much to better.

DOW G. PINKSTON
Executive Assistant to the President

Throughout the years many duties fell to the hands of Rev. Pinkston, aside from being Executive Assistant to Dr. J. Ray Cable.

Early in the year the position of acting Dean of Men was given to Mr. Pinkston. Under his guidance, a House Council was formed for the regulation by the men of their dormitories.

The "Dollars for Valley" campaign also was put under the direction of Mr. Pinkston.

NELLE BARNHART
Dean of Women

It is seldom that a person comes to a campus and receives such wide student confidence and enthusiasm as has Miss Nelle Barnhart, Dean of Women.

During the past year she has proven herself to be the friend of all students and a capable organizer of student activities.

Her leadership of Missouri Valley College women has brought new enthusiasm and support from the women and the entire student body.

CLAUDE LESLIE FICHTHORN
Dean, Emeritus School of Music

The School of Music of Missouri Valley College has grown rapidly this past year and has been under the guidance and direction of Dean Fichthorn.

Since 1914 Dean Fichthorn has ably and loyally served the college. During the year he has led the Town and Gown forums which have been of wide interest this year. His friendly words to all students is a part of Missouri Valley College.

Muse On The First Frost

See how bright the fields are this morning—
 'Twas the frost last night.
 I saw it early 'ere the sun rose
 Gleaming and white.
 The elders will wag their heads now,
 And predict the coming fall;
 The depth of the first snow,
 Or none at all.

See how the colt frisks his heels,
 And wondering gazes across the fields.
 See how he stands with flowing mane,
 And head flung high in proud disdain
 He seems part of a landscape painted there;
 God help someone to paint one half so fair.

And those apples on the tree beside the gate—
 We thought there would be none it bloomed so late.
 Now they look like some rare, exquisite fruit,
 Held in the grasp of some and ghostly brute.
 Surely Adam tasted of none like these,
 But nibbled the bark of those gnarled old trees.

Everything is so beautiful now—
 I've heard folks tell;
 They loved the summer,
 But liked the fall not half so well.
 People are so strange—
 I love the fall but like a change.
 Wouldn't the world be ghastly drear
 If fall went on year after year?

Spree Day

All hail to Spree Day, that one day of the academic year when a girl's pretty face is just an excuse to throw her in the mud.

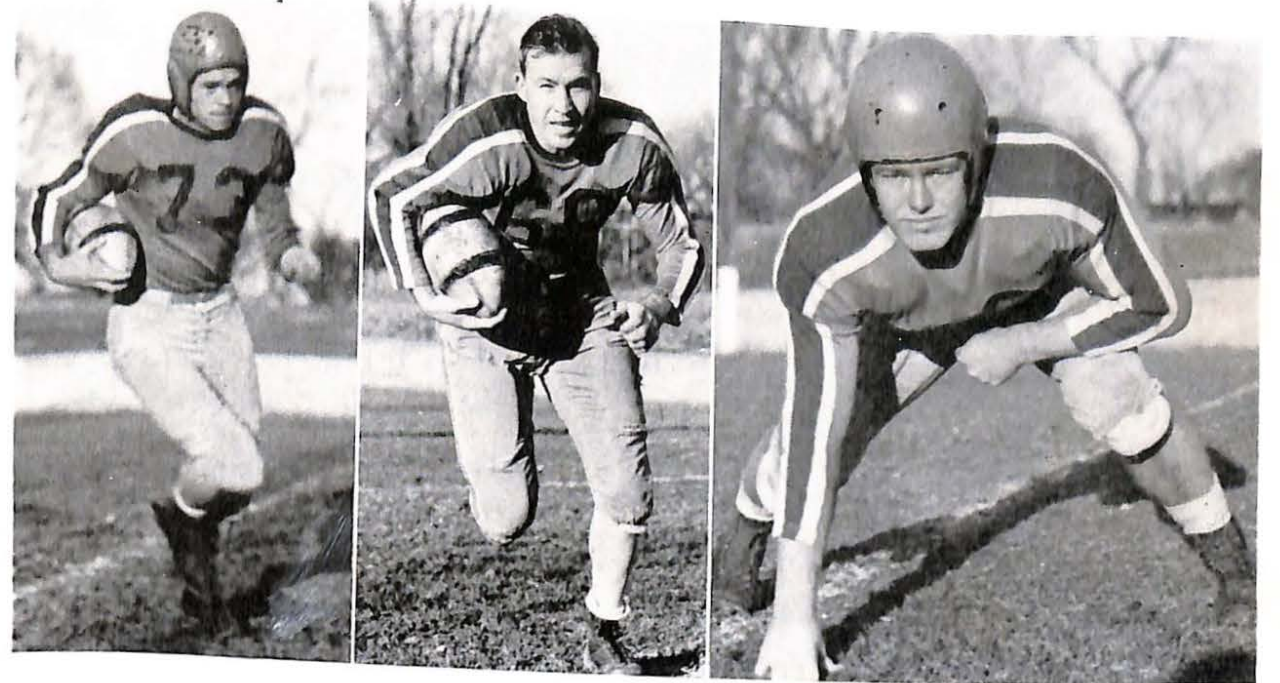

The new Valley freshmen, fittingly bedaubed with orange painted V's, unwisely tried to match wits with the cultured upper classes. Soon however the boys of all classes seemed to unite for the one purpose of trampeling the fair sex. It seems that Kay and Temptation loved mud baths judging from the number they took.

However, neither man nor beast was safe. Big Bull and Wonderous Wally tried to outrace the pack but they too were made to grovel in the turbid mixture.

To the student senate goes our thanks for this gala afternoon. Aside from the brutal aspect of the day they arranged games and races for all who wished to compete. The bean race, pie eating contest, and three legged race were all well received.

The Valley gals showed their spunk by engaging the males in a tug of war. Of course when the girls were pulled through the water their fortitude fled just like their make-up and permanents.

Truly, no one will ever forget Spree Day and all the fun that went with it. It's a lasting memory of Missouri Valley.

Football

The 1947 football season has been the greatest in the history of Missouri Valley College. On the left is the coach who trained the team that showed the nation and the football fraternity that a small college with unsubsidized teams could be great. Coach Volney Ashford has startled the football world and the nation in general with his accomplishments at Missouri Valley College.

Top left is Hugh Dunn, who was named by Paul Williamson as the most valuable player on a small college team in the United States. In the top center is Shorty Preston, one of the leading scorers of the nation. On the top right is Jim Nelson, ex-marine, co-captain and Little All-American guard on the Associated Press poll. On the right is Volney Ashford and Assistant Coach Frank Swager. Below. Exercise, part of the sport.

Don O'Neil and numerous other Vikings putting a halt to a Washington University man who thought he was going places.

Behind the great season of the Vikings football team went many early hours of hard practice in the warm fall weather. The team reported to school in the early part of September when the sun was still busy tanning the bodies of most other students who were at home. The football team spent these early days working and practicing to perfect the greatest football machine in small college history.

A tremendous amount of pressure was on the team in those early fall days. Valley had won the last twenty football games in a row and the team knew everyone they met would be out to break that winning string.

On Saturday, September 27, 1947, everyone in school used every available method of transportation to go to St. Louis and see the Vikings meet the Washington University Bears.

The papers in St. Louis talked about this small "school from the wilderness" coming to play the mighty Bears. As the game progressed, one almost believed that the school which had 24 times the enrollment of Valley was too big, but the Vikings finally triumphed 28 to 13. Thus, the Vikings got a good start on what was to be the greatest year in their history.

It is interesting to note that at the half time, the Vikings trailed the Washington Bears by a score of 13-0. In the second half the Vikings came to life and with renewed vigor began pushing the Bears up and down the field. The thing that brought the victorious team through this game was the fact that the Valley boys were in much better physical condition than were the Bears of Washington University. The Vikings incidentally gained 249 yards rushing while Washington University gained 190 yards rushing.

The spectators of the Washington vs. Missouri Valley football game will never forget the goal line stand which the Vikings made and which apparently signaled the change in the game. After the goal line stand the Vikings began to roll.

The second game of the season and No. 22 for the Vikings found the Braves of Ottawa University in Kansas as the victims. In this game the Vikings threw twelve passes and completed eight. Until this game most teams thought that the Vikings possessed nothing more than a ground attack. Against Ottawa University the Vikings threw more passes than had been thrown in a Viking game since the pre-war days of Warren Harris.

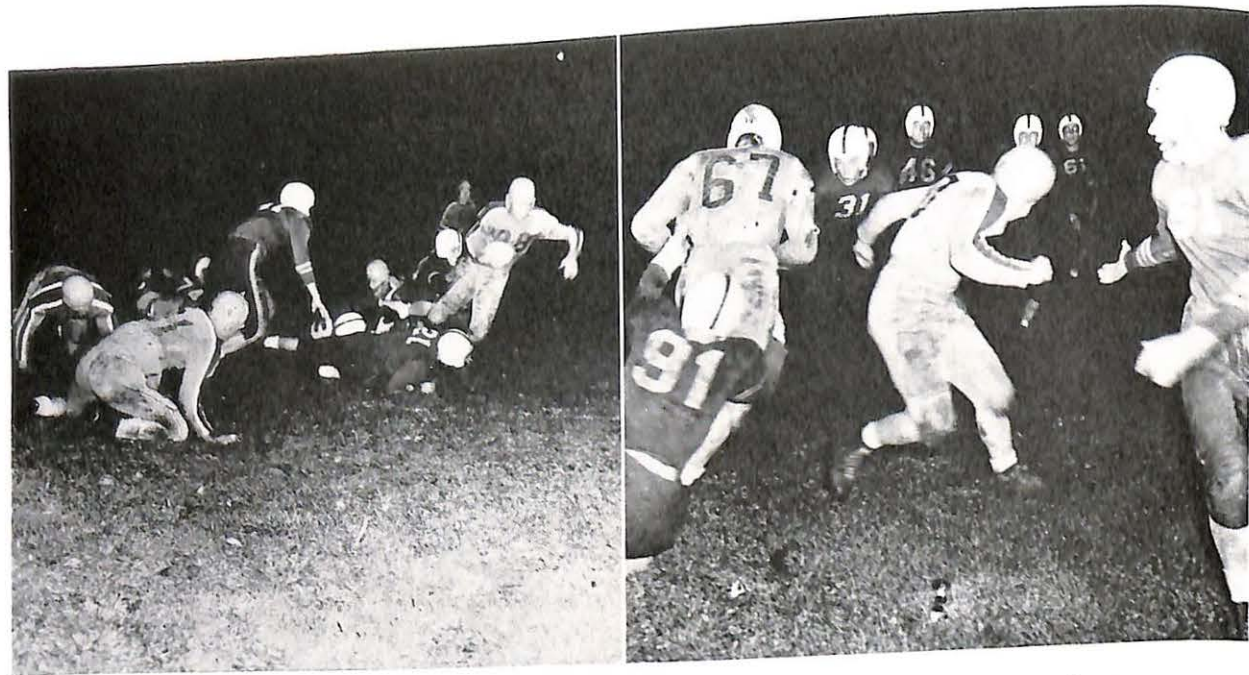

The Vikings finally routed the Braves by the score of 32-6. A pass from Bales to Piper was good for 50 yards and a 58 yard run by Spriggs climaxed the game.

The game against Ottawa was a night game and was played in the C. Y. C. Stadium at Kansas City before a crowd of 5000 people. The game had its human interest angle in that Ernie Piper while playing on the football field became the proud father of a baby son.

Bruce Webb drives hard against a determined Ottawa line in game at Kansas City.

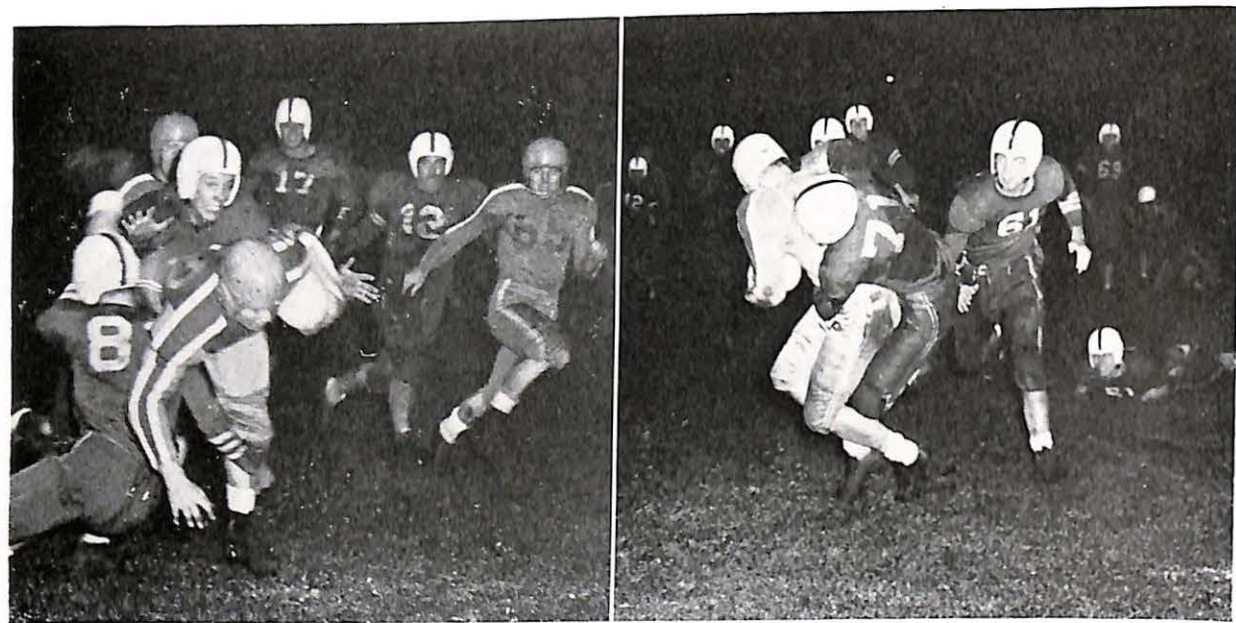

Alva Baker being spilled from behind the line of scrimmage by Culver-Stockton boys. Bruce Webb being engulfed by tacklers as Dick Holwell tries vainly.

The third game of the Viking football season was against the Shurtleff Pioneers of Alton, Illinois. The Shurtleff team was undefeated until the trip to Marshall. Their line was much heavier than the Valley line, but the score tells the story and that was 32-12 in favor of Volney Ashford's men. In the first fourteen plays of the game, the Vikings were able to score three touchdowns. The Vikings gained 461 yards in this contest.

One of the toughest games that the Vikings had all season was against Central College of Fayette. The Vikings pulled through by the score of 27-14. But, the score does not indicate the terrific battle that took place on the field at Central College. Valley gained 269 yards to Central's 129 yards. Every yard was a battle.

Spriggs being tackled as Rex Clemmer seeks lateral. Mighty Bill Lingenfelder being tackled from the rear after a short gain against Culver Stockton.

No. 25 on the Viking list to be defeated was Warrensburg. Valley took Warrensburg by a score of 21-6. This game was not difficult for the Vikings, but it was an "off night" for them as far as clicking in their plays. The mud made Valley's offensive impotent. Valley made 267 yards rushing. The only sensational run of the evening was by Alva Baker who went 32 yards and then 22 for a touchdown.

Homecoming brought Culver Stockton to the Stadium at Gregg Mitchell field and they became victim No. 26 in the Valley winning stride. The weather at this game was probably the worst weather ever endured at a home football game. The rain came down all evening and the cold winds added to the discomfort. The Vikings took the game 33-7. The line of Vikings clicked perfectly all evening.

One week-end the boys went to Tarkio and made that school No. 27 on the Viking list by a score of 60-6. Again the weather was extremely cold. The Vikings made 366 yards rushing and 167 passing for a grand total of 523 yards.

William Jewell became the 28th team to be trampled on by the army of Volney Ashford. Jewell suffered the usual fate by a 31-0 defeat. Again the weather, the only element that did not cooperate with the Vikings, played havoc. Alva Baker ran with the ball 16 times and averaged 12½ yards per try. Larry Fields went 42 yards on an end around. Valley's net yardage gain was 480 yards. The attack came almost entirely from the ground, proving the ability of the Viking line.

The 29th game and the 9th of the season found the Vikings at the Rockhurst field in Kansas City. The game was played on Saturday, the same day Missouri University and the University of Kansas played. Ernie Mehl, a Kansas City sports writer and radio announcer, advised people to come and see the Vikings because they would see one of the outstanding teams of the nation.

The Vikings took Rockhurst 21-7 in a hard fought game before a capacity crowd on a cold day. Interestingly enough, back in 1941 the current winning string began with Rockhurst. Baker drove 73 yards for touchdown territory. The Vikings gained 170 yards rushing and 65 yards passing. Again the field was muddy.

Thus, the tenth game of the regularly scheduled season rolled around and Bethany was an easy victory. The game was played Thanksgiving Day at Gregg Mitchell field. The Vikings turned down a bid to play in an American Legion bowl game in Illinois in order to play this home game. The Vikings took Bethany College of Kansas 39-7 and sent them to the showers. Preston was out Thanksgiving Day with a bad leg.

After the winning of the 30th consecutive game, many bowl feelers came to the hands of Coach Volney Ashford. The Vikings accepted a bid to play in the Boy's Ranch Bowl on December 13.

The Marshall Quarterback Club played a vital part in aiding the Vikings throughout the entire season and deserve much thanks.

Buck Harris proves that the Vikings get knocked down too. A good example of a pile up.

The game in the Boy's Ranch Bowl at Abilene, Texas, was against McMurry College of that city. The hospitality extended by the city and the school is something which no one who made the trip shall ever forget. All the profits from the game went to charity.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about this game was the fact that it was the cleanest game the Vikings played all season. The game was the toughest the Vikings played during the entire winning string.

The lead changed hands three times, but the Valley boys emerged the victor by a score of 20-13. This game had all the thrills.

Missouri Valley gained 334 yards rushing and McMurry gained only 129 yards in the same department. Valley gained 117 passing and the McMurry Indians gained 62 passing.

When the Vikings returned to Marshall, a tremendous reception awaited them. Students and townspeople waited for the team at Malta Bend and led a parade down the highway into Marshall. The team was officially welcomed back by the Mayor of the town and various other important people.

At the college a huge bonfire was built and cheering and other joyous noise making took place. Everyone in college turned out for the feat and had a wonderful time welcoming the team that put Missouri Valley on the map and Marshall, Missouri, as well.

Sam Keith examining some of those delectable Florida shapes. Sam loves oranges. Coach Volney Ashford shaking hands with Shriners officials who greeted boys on arrival.

Word finally came that the Vikings had been invited to the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Florida for a New Year's Day game against the Westchester Pennsylvania Teachers College. Thus, two undefeated teams met in Tampa on New Year's day to decide the championship of the small colleges of the nation. And the Vikings proved themselves more than equal to the task as they trounced Westchester 26-7 and made Westchester Victim No. 32 on their butchering list.

The team spent the Christmas holidays here on the campus of Missouri Valley practicing for the day they were to meet Westchester in Tampa, Florida.

Shortly after the Christmas Day turkeys and hams the team left for Florida.

Aside from the fact that the team played a difficult game, they still had a wonderful time. Most of the boys will remember Florida and Tampa for a long time to come. Incidentally, all the boys who made the trip to Florida received engraved alarm clocks and boxes of cigars.

Sam Keith really gets acquainted with the oranges and Webb on the right with a text-book—comes the revolution. Although they clashed on the field, they still had fun together.

Band in maneuver. The band showed great skill in various intricate maneuvers which were executed.

Warren Harris, a former Viking of pre-war fame was in Florida to watch his school go to town on the Westchester team. Later in the year Mr. Harris returned to the Missouri Valley campus in the capacity of Assistant Coach to Volney Ashford.

Enough cannot be said about the Quarterback Club which stirred town spirit for the Vikings and arranged radio broadcasts. The club also gave the lettermen gold footballs in the spring of this year.

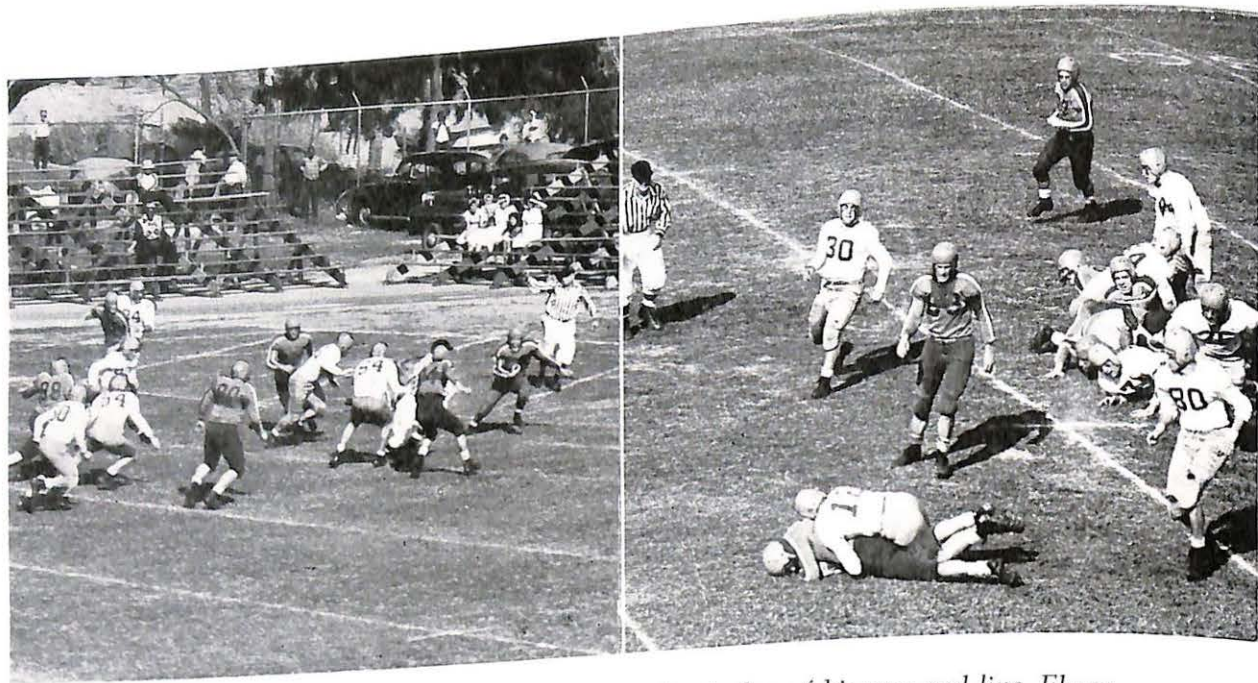

During the year the Vikings accumulated 141 first downs. They piled up 4,459 yards both rushing and passing, or for those who hike, about as far as from Young Hall to the Country Club. Rushing the Vikings gained 3,321 yards and passing 1,138 yards. The Vikings attempted 95 and completed 38 for a percentage of .400. The punt average for the team was 33.6. Penalties received by the Vikings totaled 460 yards.

Undoubtedly one of the outstanding Vikings of this season as of last season was Bill Lingenfelder. Bill didn't get the chances to make the long sensational runs and the chances to enter into the glorious side of the game, but he played consistently hard driving ball that brought victory to the Vikings. Whenever Bill carried the ball, the Vikings line moved forward. This good looking halfback is a modest boy and few people would dream of the tremendous amount of drive and determination this great Viking possesses.

When people cheer, they cheer for the team that is on the field. The team on the field usually represents the stars of the squad, but there are a lot of other players who go to make up a great team. The boys who consistently go out day after day without any publicity or pictures in newspapers are the guys who make a ball club. J. Semar, Joe Angarola, Bob Matheson, Buzzy Killorn, Dick Holwell, Bill Speise, Dick Pozdel, LeRoy Mitchell, Harry Hayes, Milton Sailor, Mac Brooks and Bob Schlatter are a few of the boys who stuck with the game and helped make the great Viking team. The reason these boys were out there every day was for the enjoyment of the game and because they wanted to see their school win. In other schools they might have been first string ball players, but they chose to remain at Valley.

Beautiful blocking enables Viking to run from the shadow of his own goal line. Elmer Horman watches as Westchester finally managed to tackle a Viking.

One of the greatest assets which Missouri Valley possesses is its coach, Volney Ashford. Valley is fortunate in having a coach who knows football and other sports and who can pass on his knowledge to his teams.

Ashford greets sports writer.

The personality of Volney Ashford sells many people on Missouri Valley. He is his own public relations man because of his genial personality. Valley is fortunate in having him on the faculty.

Throughout the years, Pop Ferguson has been a vital link in the athletic teams of Missouri Valley College and especially in football of the college. Pop never misses a game and goes through all the pains on the bench that the boys go through on the field. No matter what the weather may be, no Viking game would be complete without the cheers and encouraging words of Dr. Ferguson. Pop Ferguson was especially thrilled when the Quarterback Club awarded him a gold football along with this year's lettermen.

In January after all the bowl excitement was over, a banquet honoring the victorious Vikings was held. The affair was sponsored by the Student Senate and the work was carried out by various interested campus organizations. Mr. Ernie Mehl of the Kansas City Star was the speaker of the evening. A week later a dance was given by the Student Senate with the cooperation of Alpha Phi Omega honoring the football squad.

Later in the year the Alpha Cafe invited the team for ice cream and cake when they unveiled a picture of the team. The Chamber of Commerce also gave the team a dinner.

This past football season has been a great season for Missouri Valley College, the Vikings and Volney Ashford.

To pay tribute to each man who made the great record possible is not within the power of the staff. But, we pay tribute to all the Vikings and to a few in particular.

We pay tribute to Hugh Dunn for winning the Williamson Award and being selected as the most valuable player on a small college team in the nation.

We pay tribute to Jim Nelson for being selected as a Little All American. We pay tribute to J. D.

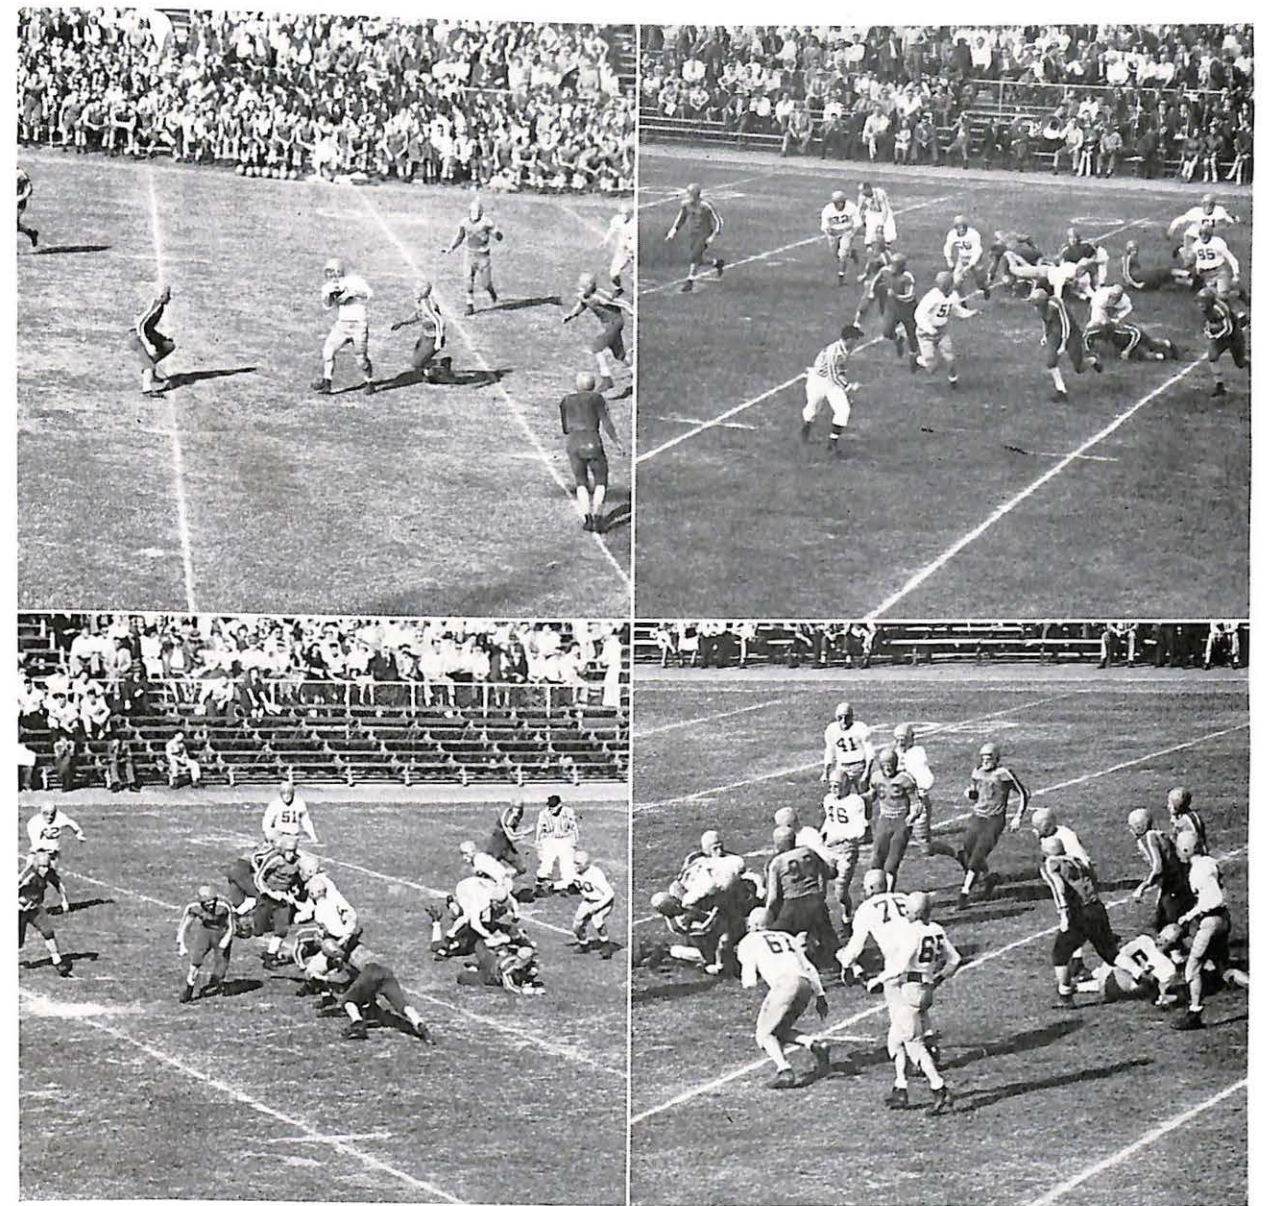

Copple and Shorty Preston who received honorable mention as Little All Americans.

We pay tribute to those who made the M.C.A.U. All Conference team.

We pay tribute to Pop Ferguson for his loyal support. We pay tribute to Assistant Coach Frank Swager.

Lastly, we pay tribute to Volney Ashford, who not so many years ago was carrying the ball himself for Viking victories—for being the leader and possessing the qualities of a gentleman and a great coach.

Vikings—we're proud of you, we thank you.

Homecoming

The dormitories went all out to capture the spirit of Homecoming. Scenes of wide variety were depicted in the displays.

Young Hall won first prize for the best decorated dormitory. Although there were only a few students living in the Student Union, the group managed to capture second honors. The turbulent crowd from William and Mary had unusual ideas and only received third honors.

Throwing Culver Stockton Wild Cat into the fire the night before the game. Cheering in front of the fire. The chain around the square and blocking the passage of cars.

The general atmosphere surrounding the occasion of Missouri Valley's 57th Homecoming was a wonderful thing to behold. The 1947 Homecoming was probably the greatest in the history of Valley.

The evening preceeding Homecoming, a huge bonfire was built near the tennis courts and amidst wild and enthusiastic cheering, the Wildcat of Culver Stockton College was burned to a crisp. As the evening went on, the rain became more enthusiastic, but nevertheless the celebrants kept the spirit high. After the bonfire festivities the crowd of students descended upon the town of Marshall and began parading around the square and in and out of many of the business establishments. The students blocked traffic, but the chain was considerably reduced in length when it went through Mr. Jim Sweeney's restaurant and a number of students stopped for hamburgers and other refreshments.

In the morning everyone got up early and began decorating their respective dormitories. The fraternities and sororities decorated specific landmarks on the campus. The plan had been to have all the dormitories decorated by noon time, but most of the students did not wake up in time and so most of the work was done by a few students. But, eventually everyone got into the act and had a fine time.

Over at William and Mary things were really tough on the boys since they had such a big night. But, the turbulent boys from W. and M. used some of the most unique decorations on their dorm that have ever been seen on the campus. Walter Esser was the architect.

In the afternoon a parade was led by the college band into town and around the square of Marshall. The high school and grade school children were dismissed from classes to watch the parade. Many of the old timers who came back for Homecoming said that the floats which were on display in the parade were the most lavish ever seen at a Missouri Valley Homecoming.

In the evening the football team made the event complete by rolling over No. 26, the Culver Stockton Wildcats. After the game a dance was held in the gymnasium and everyone although doggedly tired from the day's activities attended.

The crowd of Alumni that attended the Homecoming festivities was unusually large.

In summing up, the entire day's events thrilled everyone. And, above all, everyone had a wonderful time.

Tracks

I often wonder at the unseen creatures,
That leave their tracks in snow;
Wonder what time they stalked about
At the places where they go.
Looking at the myriad of new made tracks,
With not a hare in sight,
I wonder if the creatures die in day
And only live at night.
Setting afield in the frosty dawn
With gun and plunging dog,
I tramp with vengeance every bush,
Peer in every log.
Late at evening I return
Void of spirit and game.
The creatures that ran so gay last night;
Tonight will be the same

Basketball

The 1947-48 basketball team of Missouri Valley College had a hard time starting out because so many of the players were also on the football team. The football season extended over into the basketball season by a couple of weeks.

Coach Volney Ashford was busy when the basketball season started and so Mr. June Baker of the Chemistry Department took the job of coaching the hoopsters. Mr. Baker was one of Valley's outstanding net men in his days as a Viking. Although Mr. Baker is a chemist, he did a bang up job of coaching for Volney Ashford.

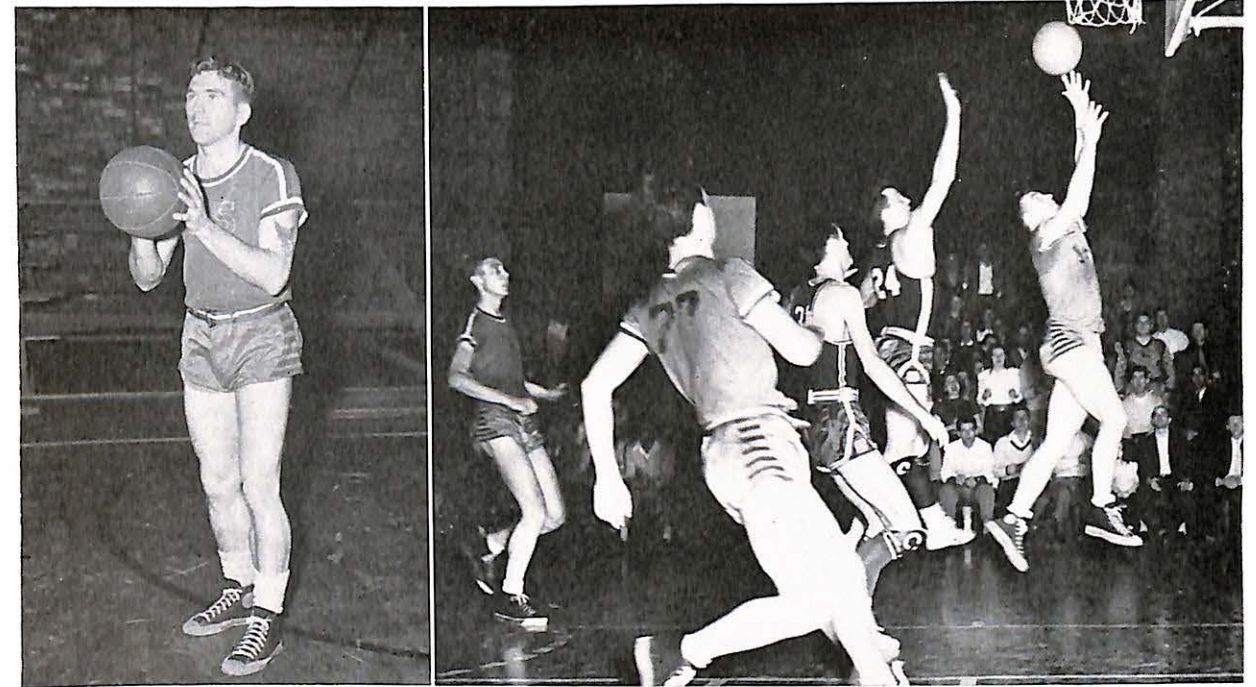

Three of the major Viking basketball stars were out early in the season playing football: Kleine, Draper and Rex Clemmer.

When the football season finally ended the boys jumped right into basketball and sometimes Valley's basketball games resembled football games.

With the coming of the New Year came an official assistant coach in the person of Mr. Warren Harris who as a Viking had been a outstanding basketball and football player. Working with Coach Ashford they both coached the basketball team.

In the first engagement of the season, Missouri Valley defeated William Jewell 40-35. In this game Lefty Anderson scored 11 points to take the Viking honors. This season was the first season for Anderson at Missouri Valley and he certainly made it an outstanding season for himself. To talk to this modest ball player one would never guess that he piled up a total of 198 points for the Vikings.

Captain Draper.

Bill Kleine scores against William Jewell. Lefty Anderson tries a side shot against Jewell as Kleine waits for possible rebound.

Anderson dumps one in as Kleine and Webb watch.

Throughout the entire season Captain Everett Draper played consistent ball. This was Captain Draper's last season of basketball at Missouri Valley. Undoubtedly this school has had few players to equal Captain Draper. Captain Draper tied with Lefty Anderson with a total of 198 points for the season. Perhaps the son of Captain Draper, one of three children incidentally, Ronnie is as well known as his father for his many exhibitions at the games. Draper made 56 field goals, 71 free throws and played in 17 games.

The second game of the season was dropped by the Vikings to the Independent Merchants by a score of 61-57. Bill D. Evans scored 13 points closely followed by Bert Evans and Don Clemmer who each scored 12 points.

Don Clemmer was an outstanding ball handler and scored a total of 68 points during the season. Don Clemmer only participated in 11 games.

The third game of the season the Vikings were trounced by the Kansas Wesleyan team by a score of 103-46. Don Clemmer scored 10 points and Bob Atkinson scored 8 points. This was the worst defeat which the Vikings suffered during the entire season.

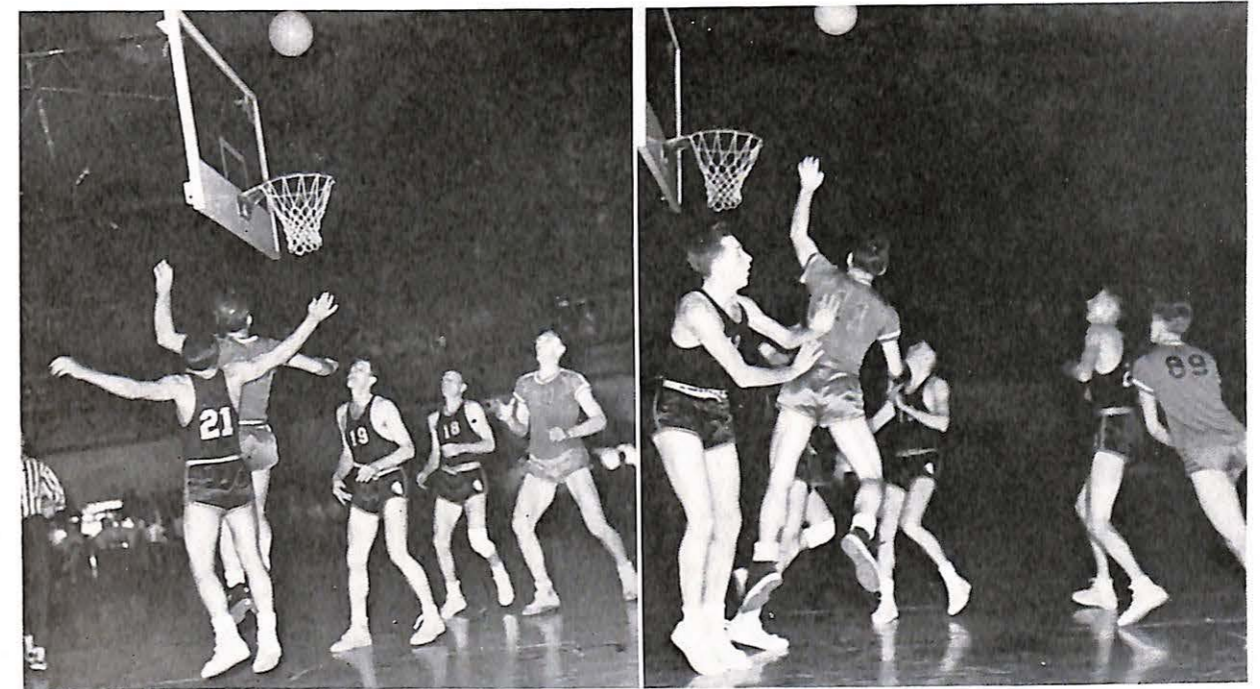

Bill Kleine shooting for the basket. The school paper at Tarkio commented on Mr. Kleine's height by saying that Central College was filing a suit against Valley because of the destruction wrought on their gymnasium by Mr. Kleine.

In the fourth game of the season the Vikings beat Bethany 55-40. Lefty Anderson scored 19 points while Don Clemmer scored 12 points.

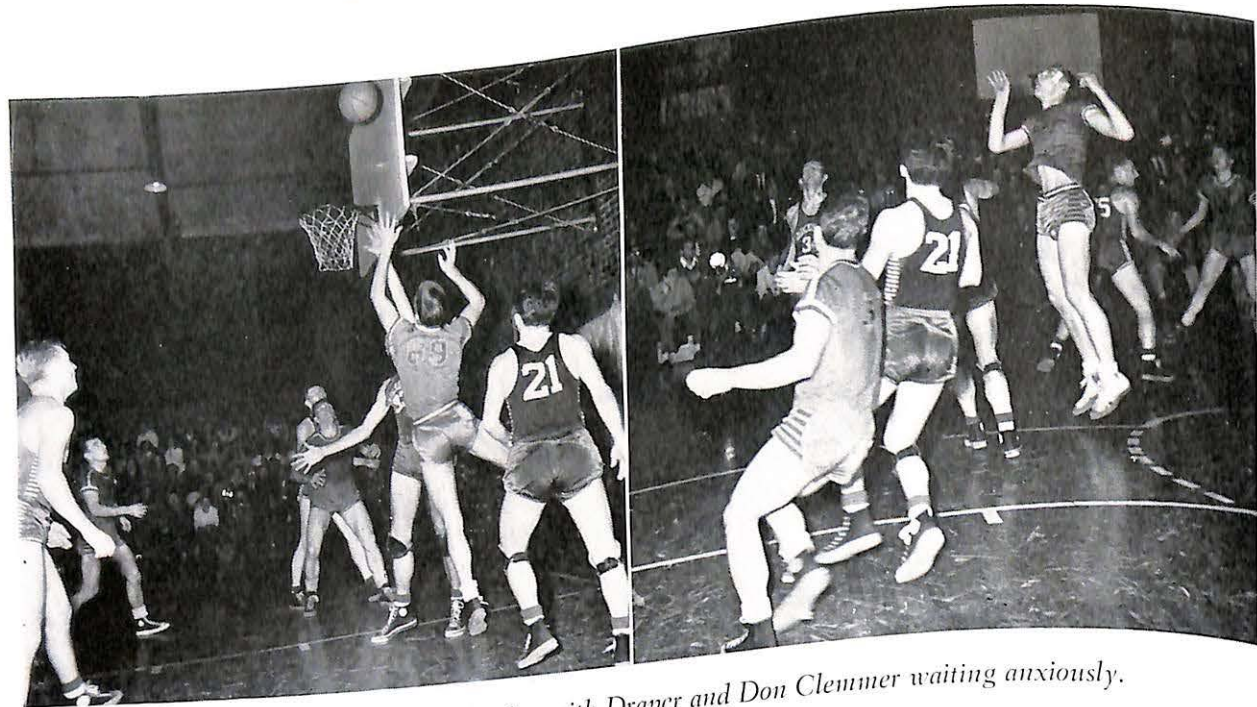

The fifth game saw the Vikings beaten by Rockhurst by the score of 61-50. Draper and Kleine each scored 14 points.

In the next game the Vikings defeated Ottawa University of Kansas 63-61. Draper scored 26 points.

Westminster then came along and trimmed the Vikings 55-53 with Kleine scoring 20 points. Then the Vikings trimmed Drury by the score of 58-47. Kleine again led the scoring with 21 points. William Jewell then beat the Vikings 52-42 with Kleine again being the leading scorer. Ralph Dorrel also scored 10 points in this defeat.

Rex Clemmer shooting while everyone waits. Draper shooting while Anderson rushes in for the kill.

When the tenth game rolled around, Valley was ready to roll over Tarkio 57-51. In this contest Draper scored 21 points.

Valley 57 and Drury College 42 was the result of the 11th game. Anderson scored 17 points in this game and big Bill had 16 points.

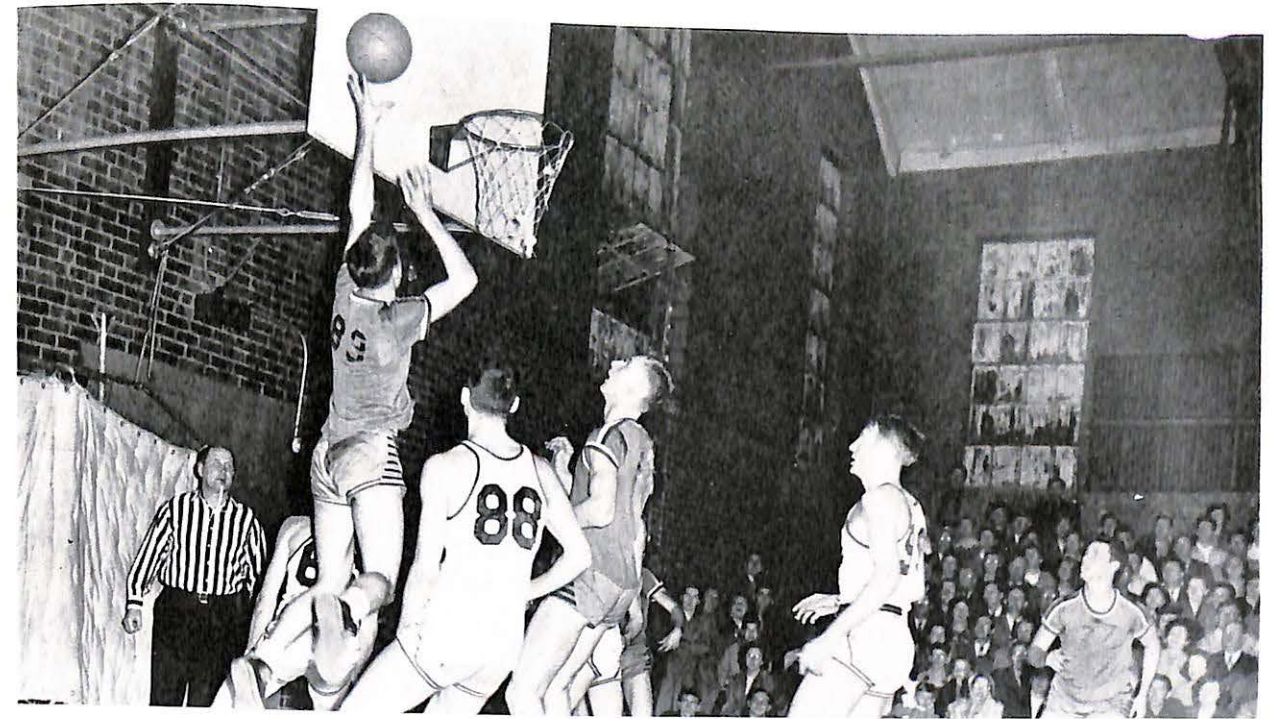

In the 12th game of the season the first team did not play, but the boys still managed to defeat

St. Paul 51 to 30. Bill Evans scored 15 points and Joe Saupé came through with 10 points. Bill Evans for the season scored 51 points and played in 20 games. Joe Saupé played neat ball all season and scored 19 points and participated in no less than 20 contests.

Valley then beat Faultless Laundry 59-31 with Anderson scoring 17 points.

Bill Kleine in a tussle under the basket surrounded by the enemy. Bob Hendrix tries a tremendous leap shot, almost stepping on an opponent.

Anderson in a side shot as Kleine and Webb await the rebound or outcome.

Valley 38 and Culver Stockton.....	46
Valley 73 and William Jewell.....	60
Valley 52 and Tarkio.....	43
Valley 55 and Central College.....	86
Valley 61 and Culver Stockton.....	50
Valley 77 and Merchants.....	61

Valley 80 and Rockhurst.....	65
Valley 64 and Westminster.....	53

Thus, the season was ended in a tie and Central and Missouri Valley were the two teams who had to have a play-off to determine the M.C.A.U. Champions.

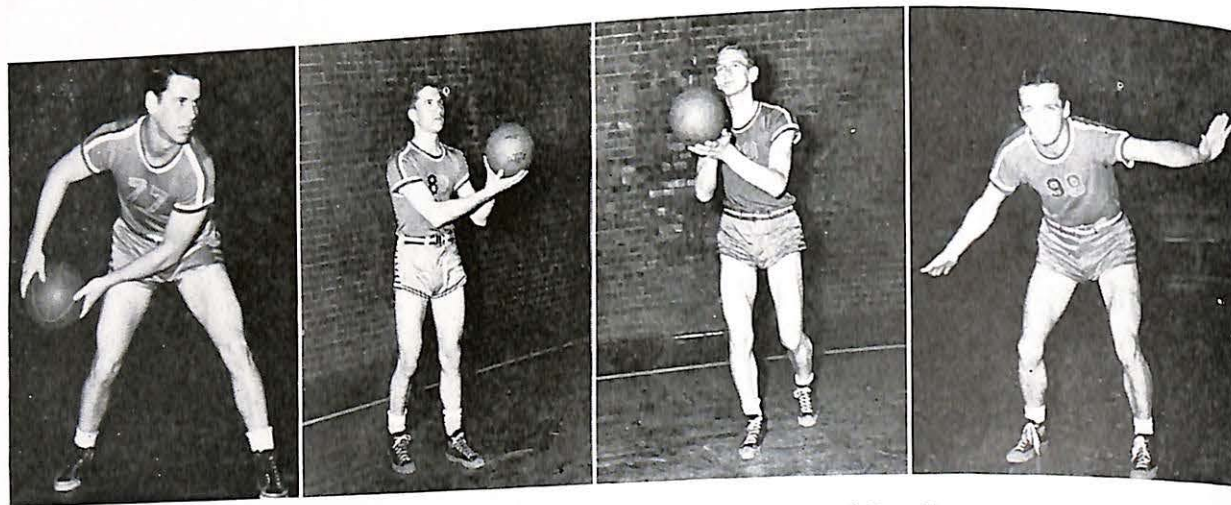

Ralph Dorrel in a one handed hook shot from the side with Hendrix and Kleine watching. Kleine about to catch tap off from Anderson in set up play.

The game with Central was a thriller of thrills. An hour before game time, Morrison Gymnasium was packed and there was no standing room left. This 22nd game of the Viking was finally dropped to the Central Eagles by a score of 62-68. In the game, Kleine scored 19 points, Anderson 16 and Bruce Webb 10 points. Central College of Fayette thus walked off the court that night with the M.C.A.U. Championship and the Vikings had to be content with second honors. For the season the Vikings had won 14 games and dropped 8. The Vikings scored a total of 1,257 points to their opponents 1,201 points. Although the Missouri Valley College basketball team did not win the championship, they did turn in a championship performance when one considers all the handicaps under which they operated.

Ode To Spring

O' beautiful is the world today;
Thy sunlite skies and clouds of grey;
Thy amber leaves that twist and blow
O'er winter's last patches, half-melted snow.

O' beautiful is the earth and sky;
Beautiful the way the wind doth sigh;
Beautiful the way each laughing stream,
Dances along with crystal gleam,
Racing here, half-hidden there;
Whirling pools of mermaid's hair.

Beautiful the song of nesting bird,
Repeating often lest she go unheard,
Her melody more softly drops
From breezy hillsides sunny copse,
Than early summer's misty rain
Falls upon the greening plain.

O' beautiful is the world today
In every nook I chance to stray,
My heart, my Soul, hath had its fill;
I can grasp no more, 'tis beyond my will.

Fashion Show

With the stage of the Auditorium Theater as the setting, a group of Marshall merchants presented a beautiful style show. The cast included a number of high school and college students.

There were five sets depicting wash dresses, sports wear, street clothes, afternoon wear and an evenings attire. All the shows clothing, shoes, jewelry, flowers and cosmetics were furnished by the Marshall merchants.

Between acts there were various units of entertainment. Paul Lindsey, Robbie Hawkins, Eleanor Ellingson, Bill Wilkinson and vocal quartet composed of Myers, Dorrel, Hunker and Oertel performed. Music was supplied by Dub Erickson's orchestra. Mary Rathert and Joan Tucker acted as mistresses of ceremonies.

This fashion show sponsored by the Delta and Journalism class was acclaimed as one of the finest ever seen in Marshall. All the models who participated turned in a noteworthy performance.

Mr. John R. Hall and Mr. Steve Souttar were the men who originated the show.

Track

Missouri Valley's 1947 track team was extremely equal to its task and copped the M.C.A.U. Championship. The Vikings beat every team they met except the University of Missouri's B team.

In the conference track meet which was held in Gregg Mitchell stadium. The Vikings won the meet by scoring 58 points. William Jewell trailed in second place with 41½ points. Westminster College totaled 34½ points, Central College got 16 points, Culver Stockton had 12 points, Tarkio College 11 points and Drury College 3 points.

Larry Fields was the high point man in the conference with a total of 12½ points. Fields took first place in the 220 yard low hurdles. He also scored points in other events.

Alva Baker doing the broad jump. Howard Backs in the process of running off with the two mile run. The starting of the mile run which Howard Backs won.

Howard Backs took first place in both the mile and the two mile runs. Howard Backs ran before the war for Missouri Valley and the 1947 season was Howard's first post war track season. Howard was also elected as co-captain of the 1948 track team.

Alva Baker, one of the most versatile athletes Missouri Valley has ever seen, managed to take first place in the 100 yard dash and in the broad jump. Alva also ran on the winning 880 yard relay team.

Hugh Dunn, who also plays a fine game of football was a track man last season as well. He won first place in the 220 yard dash and ran on the winning 880 yard relay team. Hugh was also elected a co-captain of the 1948 Viking track team.

Another football player who is also an outstanding track man is Bill Lingenfelder. Bill ran on the winning 880 yard relay team.

An interesting side light regarding last year's track season is the fact that the mile relay team lost first place only by inches. Rex Clemmer, Mack Porter, Ernie Pieper and Ralph Dorrel gave their best but lost in a sensational finish.

Valley's track team had a human interest angle in the story in that every track man, excepting Curt Long and Chick Signor, returned for the 1948 season. Thus, a great team for the future was insured.

Athletic events as far as Missouri Valley is concerned were extremely favorable in 1947 and 1948. Coach Volney Ashford again was at the helm of another Viking team which for the second year in a row walked off with the M.C.A.U. Championship.

Coach Ashford, Assistant Coach Chitwood receiving the Conference championship trophy from Mrs. Don Chamblee. Larry Fields and Howard Back getting in shape.

Through The Year

August 31, 1948

Dear Joe:

I thought I'd write you before going back to school, even though I'll see you in two weeks or so. I'm prompted to write because I just spent a half hour going through last year's Sabiduria. You know, they've got practically everything in there. But, I noticed a few things they omitted.

You know, I wish the devil the kids who run these books would get everything in them.

Back in the fall there was a dance in the Student Union and as I recall it, everyone attended. I remember the guys from William and Mary even came that night. The Deans probably thought it was a good turn out, but everyone went to have a look at the new women. But, there was not a word in the book about it.

I also remember that they gave a tea in Young Hall one night and practically everyone was there. I heard it was given because we weren't dating the Young Hall queens. I guess they were right, looking back it does appear as though Sweeney got most of my spending money. Hey: nothing about Jim's place, what a thing to leave out. Yeah, but that tea was fine—I met Mary then. By the way Joe, she sent my frat pin back last week, it's off. Here's hoping they have another tea, new women, new ideas, etc.

I didn't see anything in the book about Dean Doering's lecture on the evils of drink. Nothing about the guys who yelled about Mr. Pinkston or Dean Barnhart. You know Joe, they've got a rough job when you get down to it. I guess they're really o. k.

The winter may have been quiet, but the year-book certainly made it stagnant. There was nothing about the few days when they didn't have much gas in the kitchen and everything was ice cold. Those days were worse than the army. Nothing about the ice skating out at the other "institution." And they didn't mention a thing about all the guys who had trouble with Professor Fowlkes when he gave out those grades. Brother: he sure ruined my dreams.

They should have had something in there about the opening of Black Hall—the place that was suppose to open every week. But, I guess the college had their troubles building that place. You know, I guess Alfred and Mr. Mounts and the others who work around there do a good job considering everything.

Another thing they left out was the Town and Gown Forums. I went to a couple last year myself. You ought to take in a couple of those next year Joe, they discuss some pretty important problems and do a good job of it. Actually, I came to the conclusion that the faculty has brains.

That Spring section—what an ungodly mess. They left out baseball, tennis and golf. I was standing by the Sabiduria Office one day and I heard Murphy snowing some guy under about it saying something about the budget, the time element. Some excuse.

One big thing they left out was something about "Looking South on Brunswick." I always read that to find out what the lovers were doing and who was boondocking with who. That's an institution and it should have been in there. Nothing about hen pecked Wright and Woodward and the rest.

There was not a darn thing in there about Denton's famous editorial on Bruner's. Brother, that guy Murphy really flubbed it up in the Spring section.

You know they had everyone's picture in there, but nothing about the nurse. She was a swell skate to everyone, a really great gal. I guess everyone missed Bonnie Coble's picture.

Well, Joe, I guess I've torn the thing apart enough. It did have a good cover and I liked the "Through the Year" section. It wasn't so bad after all. No one showed up for their pictures, no one handed in copy on time, etc. Well Joe, take it easy and I'll see you in two weeks. My kid brother's coming back with me.

As ever,

Your Roomo.

In this past year Alpha Phi Omega has become the largest fraternal organization on the campus. The success of the fraternity has been brought about by good leadership and also because the purpose of the fraternity is "service."

To begin to list all the things that Alpha Phi Omega has done for the campus would fill too many pages. It will have to suffice to say that the fraternity did more for the college and the students than any other group on the campus.

In order to become a member of the fraternity it is desirable to be an ex-Boy Scout, but not necessary.

Every person in Missouri Valley College realizes the debt that is owed to this high minded group that has achieved a zenith in admiration from everyone.

Sigma Nu

Commander	Robert Robinson
Lt. Commander	E. A. McCarthy
Treasurer	William Kean

Sigma Nu Fraternity is the largest national fraternity on the campus of Missouri Valley.

This year the fraternity has grown very rapidly since the quota of members was raised by the Pan-Hellenic Association. Sigma Nu easily filled its quota.

The fraternity has had a wide social program for the members and held numerous parties throughout the year.

In the spring of this year the group had a picnic out at the park. They also had a baseball game at that time in which the pledges beat the actives.

Next year the chapter plans extensive redecorations of the chapter room. Many members of the chapter are transferring to different colleges, but there will still be plenty of members on hand for the fall.

Alpha Sigma Phi

The Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity enjoyed a fine year on the campus. Included on their agenda was the Greek Letter Dance and many of the activities at the Student Union. They also had a representative float in the homecoming parade.

The pledges entertained the actives at an inside picnic. Joe Angarola acted as master of ceremonies and Clint Story did a lively tap dance. Bob Fay entertained the group with a variety of selections on the piano.

At the rushing party some of the Valley football games were shown on the movie projector.

The crowning event of the year was a stag party held at Arrow Rock. The refreshment committee of Myers, Dennis, and Arr saw to it that everyone was well supplied.

One of the last functions of the organization was the lighting effects for the May Dance.

The group was noted for its friendliness and the ability of its members to work in complete accord with the other organizations.

Delta Zeta

Vice-President	Marcile Kuddes
Secretary	June Posey
Treasurer	Lorraine Kjellberg

Delta Zeta's third year on Missouri Valley's campus as a national sorority has been an active one. The fifteen year old Sigma Phi sorority received its national charter October 21, 1945, and since that time has progressed steadily.

This year the DZ room has been completely redecorated with the assistance of its alumnae. The first rush event of the year, an informal tea, was held in the chapter room.

A Dude Ranch party and the annual Rose Banquet completed Rush Week.

Many social events filled the calendar for the year. Among these were the wonderful parties given by our patronesses, Mrs. J. L. Gordon, Mrs. Wylie Steen, Mrs. Marshall Baker, Mrs. Emmett Parsons, and Mrs. Martin Ward. At Christmas time the girls and their dates sang carols through the town.

The sorority earned a good sum of money by sponsoring the movie, "Good News", at the Auditorium theater.

The girls rendered numerous social services to the town of Marshall during the holiday seasons.

The year has been a very successful one due to the efforts of the helpful patrons and patronesses, the active alumnae group, and the able sponsor Dr. Grace Thomas.

Alpha Xi Delta

President	Joan Tucker
Vice President	Mary Rathert
Secretary	Lorraine Koch
Treasurer	Rosemary Dennis

Alpha Xi Delta has been a sorority on the campus of Missouri Valley for a number of years. This year the activities of the sorority have been considerably widened.

This is the third year that Alpha Xi Delta has been on the campus since it was in 1945 that the group became part of a national sorority.

This year the Alpha Xi's redecorated their chapter room in blends of blue and gold. The sorority covered the floor with new blue rugs and painted the woodwork white.

Throughout the year the sorority held a number of teas. Many of the old members visited the sorority during the year.

It is interesting to note that the sorority has had few transfers among its girls. Next year will be even a greater year for Alpha Xi Delta.

Pi Gamma Mu

President Earl Luboensky
 Vice-President Atha Henley
 Secretary-Treasurer Dr. Roy Mitchell
 Sponsor Dr. Belle Campbell Huff

Pi Gamma Mu is an honorary social science organization which devotes itself to the furthering of social sciences and their influence on the students of the college. The organization fosters deeper studies among its members in their field. Each member who selects a special field of investigation gives a report to the group. Thus, the background of the members is widened and their understanding of social sciences enhanced.

The membership is small because of the academic requirements. And, only juniors and seniors are eligible.

Reports on Christianity, the refugee problem and presidential conventions were just a few that comprised the year.

Pi Gamma Mu is a small group, but its size has no reflection on its importance to the intellectual life of the college.

Dauidsbundler

President John McCoy
 Vice-President Robert Aulger
 Secretary-Treasurer Betty Ruth Nave

Perhaps the most cultural influence on the campus of Missouri Valley is Davidsbundler. This group of students and faculty represent the musical organization of the college.

Throughout the year the group sponsors various musical programs. The members of Davidsbundler give many concerts during the year to which everyone is invited.

It is felt by many faculty and student groups that the cultural additions which this group make to the college are the most sorely needed cultural lackings of the students.

Without a doubt, few if any, spend more time perfecting their art. The members put in many long hours at their music and thus are a prize of which the college may be proud.

It is hoped by everyone that this organization will grow rapidly and thus bring to the college fine music which everyone may enjoy. This group does not get the publicity which is attached to other campus activities, but its part in Valley life is great and is needed at Missouri Valley.

Student Senate

Student Body President
 Vice-President
 Treasurer
 Secretary

Steve Murphy
 Denton Harris
 Robert Robinson
 John Cuneo

This year has been Missouri Valley's greatest year in many respects and thus the problems of the Student Senate have become more complex.

Throughout the year the Student Senate sponsors many social events on the campus. In the early fall the Senate sponsored Spree Day, an event which everyone enjoyed. The purpose of the day was to get the new students acquainted with the old timers and the whole affair was a soaking success. Hoses played a major role.

The Student Senate also sponsored many pep assemblies throughout the year in order to stir up more enthusiasm for the sports of the college.

The student Senate also sponsored a Home coming dance for the Harvest Queen and the Alumni. Later in the year it backed a football banquet honoring the great Viking football team. A dance in honor of the football team was also given by the Student Senate which received the wholehearted cooperation of Alpha Phi Omega.

It was through the efforts of the Student Senate that a number of advantages were gained for the students. The President was re-elected and the Student Senate hopes to take many progressive steps within the next year.

W.S.G.A.

President Mary Frances Ralston
 Vice-President Lorraine Koch
 Treasurer Barbara Schaeperkoetter
 Secretary Joyce Eckert

Throughout the year the Women's Student Government Association regulates the lives of the girls and represents their views on student activities.

Each spring elections are held among the girls of the college and officers are then installed at a big social event for the women held in Young Hall. The W. S. G. A. represents both girls living on and off the campus.

This organization plays a vital role in the life of every Valley girl since it controls most of the activities of the girls. "Special pers" and week-end permissions go through the Women's Student Government Association.

Once a month throughout the year the W. S. G. A. has Sunday morning breakfast in the dining room of Young Hall with the Dean of Women. This tradition was started a number of years ago and has been in effect ever since.

In February of this year the W. S. G. A. sponsored a skirt hop. At this annual affair the girls invite the boys and pay the costs of entertaining the boys. This year the dance was held at the Country Club out in the county.

The W. S. G. A. has many plans for the girls for next year and it is expected that the organization will play an even more important role in the future.

A Cappella Choir

President Robert Oertel
 Vice-President Jane Freitag
 Secretary Barbara Schaeperkoetter
 Librarian Sherry Kent

Under the direction of Mr. Louis Hansen, the A Cappella Choir has achieved tremendous success this past year. It has expanded in membership and the repertoire has been widened. The A Cappella Choir was extremely successful because of the genial personality of Mr. Hansen who brought about new enthusiasm among the students of the college for the choir.

Throughout the year the group has traveled through the State of Missouri entertaining numerous schools and church groups.

In April the A Cappella Choir had one of its biggest trips when the group sang in three churches on Sunday and three high schools on Monday.

Next year the Choir plans to expand to a greater degree and undoubtedly will be one of the very important groups on our campus.

Vice President	Howard Backs
Secretary-Treasurer	Elmer Horman

The V Club is one of the most active groups on the campus of the college. In order to be a member of this organization one must letter in a major sport at the college.

It is the purpose of this club to further the interests of the college and of athletics. Throughout the year the V Club sells refreshments and other items at the athletic contests in order to raise money for their organization.

During the basketball season they sponsor an annual basketball tournament among the high schools of Missouri. Many of the former V Club men are coaching at these high schools. The group also sponsors a similar contest for track.

This year the V Club sponsored one of the most successful dances of the year. The V Club is always growing and it will always be a vital part of Missouri Valley College.

Pep Club

President	Peggy Rose
Vice-President	Maurine Moriarty
Secretary	Betty Morse

Throughout the year the Pep Club renders its services to all the athletic events of the college. This year the Pep Club has been more active than usual because of the great athletic teams which the college possesses.

In the fall when the football season began the members learned all the cheers and thus the remainder of the student body was able to pick them up and lend more hearty support to the football team which played under great burdens with the winning string growing in size.

The leaders of the Pep Club led in many of the pep assemblies which were held early in the year.

The cheer leaders for the year are drawn by the Student Senate from the Pep Club.

During the basketball season the Pep Club was well organized and was able to play a very important part in leading all the cheering at these games. Most of the games were packed during the basketball season and so their services were greatly needed.

Many of the girls of the Pep Club also participated in the intramural sports which went on among the girls and among other schools. Next year the Pep Club expects to have a much larger membership.

One of the finest organizations on the campus of Missouri Valley College is the Young Women's Christian Association.

In the spring the girls of the organization put on a show for the entire student body.

During the year the organization performs many social services. At Christmas time the group spent their time and money in sending aid to children in other lands in order to make their Christmas candle a little brighter.

The Y.W.C.A. fosters better Christian living among the girls and has a generally good influence on the student body as a whole.

More young women at Valley are joining the Y.W.C.A. and it is hoped that their services to their school, nation and world will be broadened in the next year.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 191

WHEREAS, the football team of Missouri Valley College, at Marshall, Missouri, have won national attention because of their unusual ability, and

WHEREAS, this football team has won thirty-two consecutive games, beginning in 1941, which is the longest winning streak in the nation, and

WHEREAS, among these games won were two bowl games played during the season of 1947, one of which was a game played at the Boys' Ranch Bowl in Abilene, Texas, sponsored by the Optimist Club, in which game the Valley College Football Team defeated McMurray, and the other was a game in which they defeated Westchester in the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Florida, the net proceeds from which went to the Shriner's Crippled Children's Fund, and

WHEREAS, President J. Ray Cable of the Missouri Valley College, a liberal arts Presbyterian College; the Football Coach, Volney Ashford; said Football Team, and the student body, which is composed of many students from all denominations, deserve much credit for the achievement of this team, and

WHEREAS, the members of the House of Representatives of the 64th General Assembly are justly proud of the splendid record of this football team and this fine Missouri school, so

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the members of the House of Representatives of the 64th General Assembly that we extend to President Cable, Coach Ashford, the Valley Football Team, and all the faculty and students of Missouri Valley College our hearty congratulations and express our great pride in this remarkable showing, and be it further

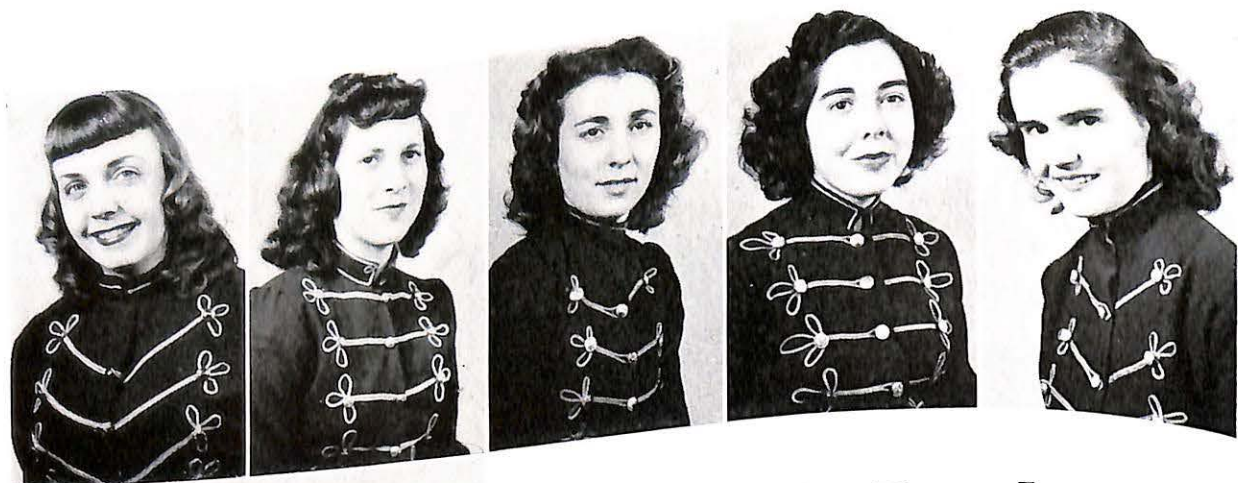

RESOLVED, that the Chief Clerk of the House be instructed to mail a copy of this resolution to J. Ray Cable, President of Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Missouri, and to Democrat News of Marshall, Missouri, the newspaper at Marshall, Missouri.

The Band

Under the direction of Louis Hansen, a large band was organized this past year. Within a few weeks after its inception, the band was in action at the football games and other athletic contests.

The band became a vital part of Missouri Valley within a short while due to the able leadership of Mr. Hansen. He had difficulty getting musicians, but gradually students with musical talent turned out for the rehearsals.

The band was greatly neglected by the college and it is hoped that next year will see an improvement in this respect.

Who's Who

A book entitled "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" is published each year through the cooperation of American colleges and universities.

Each year the faculty is permitted to choose 1½% of the students enrolled in school for this honor. The students shown on this page were chosen for the 1948 edition by the faculty of Missouri Valley.

The awards are based on character, leadership, scholarship and potentialities for the future in their communities and chosen professions.

This year six students were chosen in the fall for this honor. In the edition of the book, a short biographical sketch of each student will appear. Copies of the book are sent to leading business and industrial firms in order that they may be informed of promising students.

On December 3 and 4, 1947, The Dramatics Art Club, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Vorhis, presented "The Male Animal" by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent.

Juanita Gruess finds her sedate relationship with Frank Creason threatened by the arrival of an old school beau, Ross Barnes. After numerous discourses the couple managed to solve their differences.

The cast turned in a very convincing performance. The interpretations of the lines and the mood of the play were superlative. The scenery for the play was designed by the students in the play production class. Larry Fields was the stage manager. Arlene Salmon was in charge of the properties while Bob Endicott aided Mr. Vorhis with the make up.

The night of April 28, 1948 brought many thrills to an eager audience. It was the occasion of the second Dramatics Art Club's play. The play chosen for presentation was "Night Must Fall" by Emlyn Williams.

The story concerns a debonair young man who is in reality a homicidal maniac.

Top: Mount Burns tries to impress June Scranton. Burns in his nonchalant manner impresses Margaret Winn and others. Bottom: The three women discuss the latest murder. Detective Attridge questions the naive women.

The plot of the play was brought forth with zeal and the standard of quality was exceedingly high for an amateur production. The cast knew their lines perfectly. The interpretation which the players gave their parts was extremely commendable. Mount Burns and June Scranton were extraordinarily fine in the leading roles. The supporting roles were played on a calibre with the leads. Margaret Winn, Don B. Thomas, Beverly Howell,

June Axtater, James Attridge and Shirley Wheeler were the other participants in the play.

Bob Endicott acted as stage manager and the property crew was headed by Larry Maloney. John Nolte handled the lights and Cliff White took care of the sound effects.

No one works harder on a play than Ralph Vorhis. At a time when most men's patience would be worn thin, he always has a word of encouragement for aspiring actors.

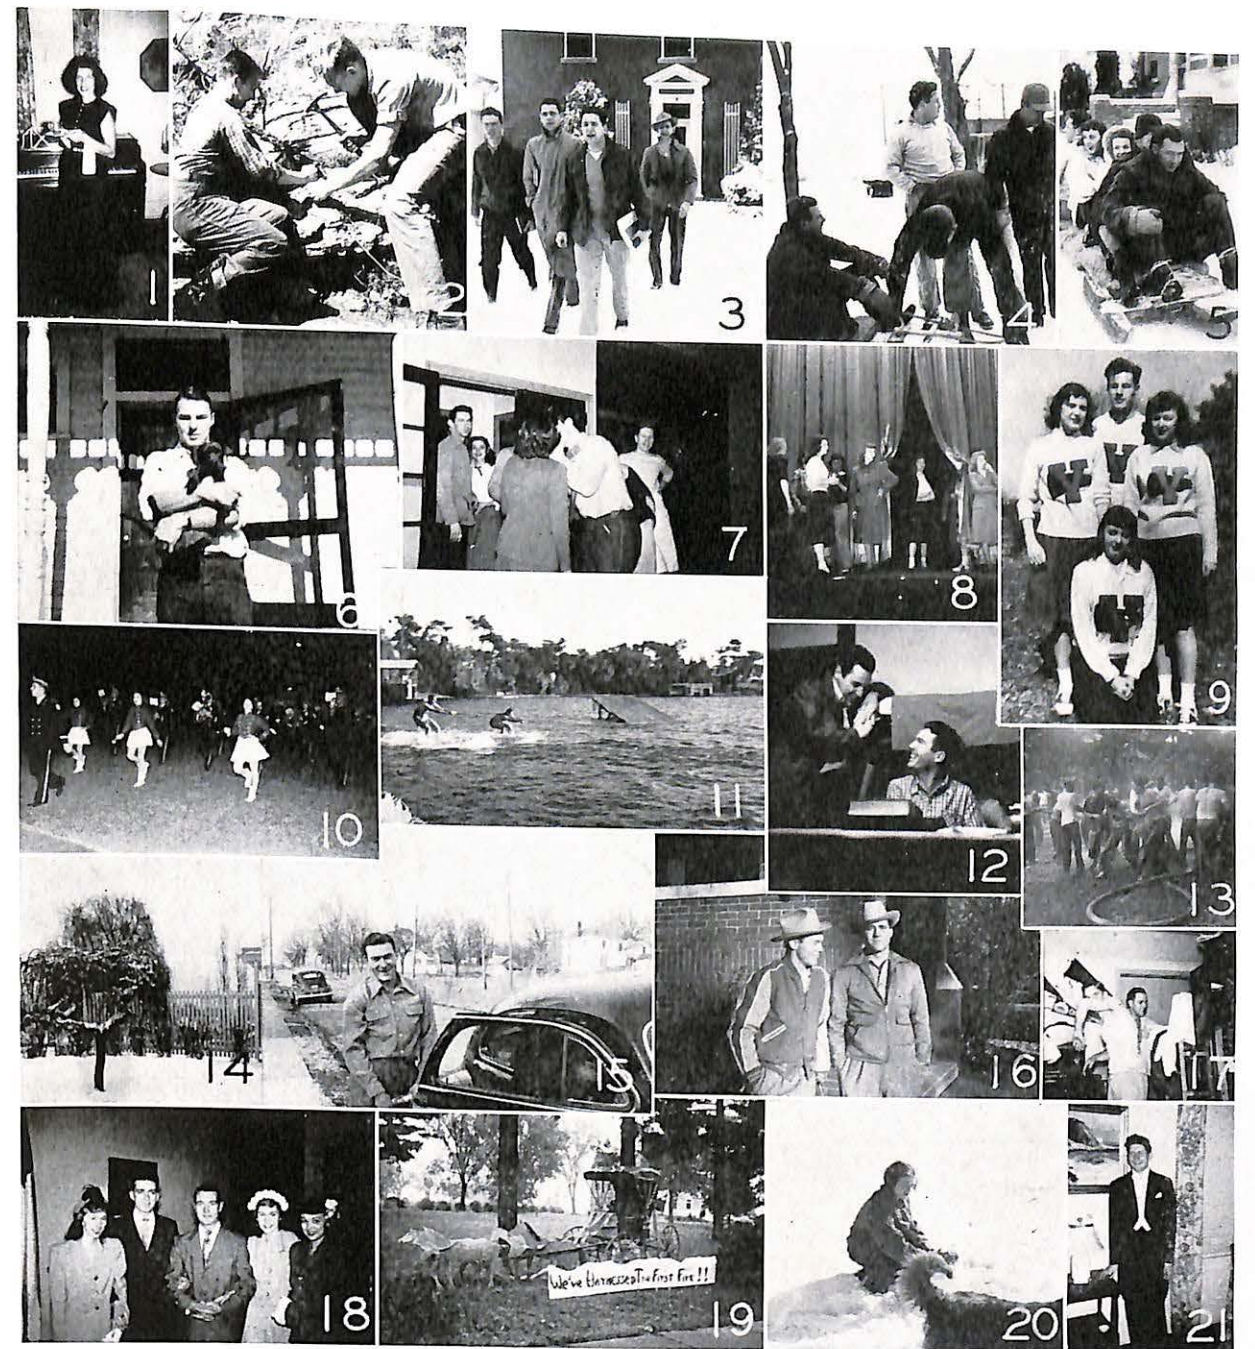

Mr. Vorhis applies make up to Bill Wockenfuss, one of the actors in the play as Don Thomas and June Scranton put the finishing touches on.

Boys and girls enjoying the sun near the tennis courts.

This year the Gospel team has played a quiet but important role for Missouri Valley College. A few students felt that the college ought to render religious services to outlying communities that could not afford a regular minister. These students took it upon themselves to organize a group, a group not necessarily of ministerial students, but of students who felt that religion still had a part to play in the lives of all men.

The students who composed the Gospel team received no publicity or letters, and in fact this is their first taste of that sort of thing, but nevertheless they rendered a service to the community and aided the general welfare of their college.

Everyone says "thanks a lot for a job well done."

In the afternoons during the spring, the tennis courts became the stylish place to rendezvous. Here the students sometimes played tennis, but usually took sun baths.

Every morning all students parade to a table or a desk in their dormitory to see if there is any mail. When there is mail everyone has a smile and a good word for Cleo Smeaton. And when there isn't any mail, then everyone growls at him. But, rain or shine, checks or no checks, Cleo always managed to deliver the mail.

Yes sir, its been quite a year.

Cleo Smeaton the mail man. Michael Kritz and Patricia Smeaton at the Greek Letter Dance. Al McCarthy and Queen Pat McMahon expressing a wordless good night—for many the year began and ended this way.
