College Song

All hail to thee, oh, noble Alma Mater;
All hail to thee, with grateful hearts we sing.
Our hopes and prayers for thee are full of promise
Our homage true to thee we bring.
Missouri Valley, our Missouri Valley,
Within thy gracious walls we've lingered long,
Again we lift our voices with thy praises,
And pledge our loyal love in song.

Each year from out thy wide and pleasant
portals,
Thy sons and daughters issue for the fight;
They march beneath thy gold and royal purple,
And bravely battle for the right.
Missouri Valley, oh, Missouri Valley,
Thy gathering host the coming year shall see.
Beneath thy standard countless sons shall rally,
Theirs not to die, but live for thee.

Missouri Valley, thou our loving mother,
Art young and strong and for the right art bold.
Then falter not 'gainst foes of Wrong and Darkness,
Thy shield the God of Truth shall hold.
Missouri Valley, oh, Missouri Valley,
Life calls thy children from thy halls away,
But loving eyes shall watch thy upward striving,
May God protect thee on thy way.

The Seniors' Tale

"Hey, you! Where's your cap? Take off that tie and roll up those trousers! Why haven't you your hair braided? Change that dress to a middy!" Such were the greetings a Freshman received in '19 from an upperclassman. But not without revenge, vowed the Freshies! The upperclassmen's flag had to come down! The treasury of the class was purged to the limit for the rope. A flag was made by the girls. "The detestable" was hauled down and "the glorious" raised.

When we were Sophomores we didn't do much except change our seats in Chapel, made life miserable for Freshman, and a few of our number dropped into the clutches of matrimony.

Now, the next time we changed our seats in Chapel, we got to sit down in front. Wasn't this moving into the select circle? Oh, yes, we got to think up all the little low mean things on the Seniors in the farce, and thereby lower the dignity and superiority they seemed to carry.

And now we are moved again. Not with as much certainty do we occupy our seats this time as it would seem. Where will we go next? Where will be our seats.

In conclusion: We have spent the four years, our college life, within these realms, and may we, with these associations and fellowships clear in memory, remain ever faithful and true to the teachings and doctrine of our Alma Mater, Missouri Valley College.

"Them days are gone forever!" The days when we took our course in hazology and presented ourselves at school looking like comic valentines, weird creations, color schemes that rivaled those of dear old Tut-Uk-Amend.

And then when we acted as becomes the sophisticated sophomores, having just escaped from the ranks of the cradle roll.

But now Juniors! Juniors! And Dr. McGinnis, who watches over us through the syllogisms of logic and the morals of ethics, says it is the largest Junior class he can remember in the history of Missouri Valley College. Not only the largest Junior class, but . . . well, the Captain of our illustrious football team of 1922 was a Junior, and "fairest of the fair" the May Queen is a Junior. What more could one ask? There are yet other things that loom upon our horizon, the Junior-Senior party, where with the aid of St. Valentine we ensnared the hearts of the Seniors and Faculty. And then, the Junior farce, that marvelous reflection of the Seniors, and commencement week when we usher, usher, usher, even till "The Fall of the House of Usher."

And thus, in the bright days of June, our Junior life is ended to return nevermore.

When the present Sophomore class entered as Freshmen in the Fall of 1921 it was the largest Freshman class which had ever enrolled at Missouri Valley College. It only remained for us to prove ourselves as satisfactory in quality as in quantity, so for a good start we elected one of our most popular and promising young men, Joe Kenneth Swisher, for class president. The upperclassmen, however, failed to take us as seriously as we thought they should and even made us quite uncomfortable at times, but with such a personnel as ours we could afford to be tolerant and let them have their fun; in fact, we soon became so interested in football, as seven of our men were in the squad, that we forgot all about them. We had reason to be proud of our football men as some of them were among the best on the team. We were also fortunate in having many talented musicians in our class and during the winter term seven Freshmen girls sang in the Glee Club. In the Spring we were no less interested in baseball than we had been in football and contributed both pitchers to the baseball team besides several members of the squad.

When we reassembled in the Fall of 1922 we were much gratified to find only a few members missing, and we immediately proceeded to organize and elected Edwin Lockridge class president. Our next duty of course was to help "organize" the Freshmen. That done we again turned our attention to football. Several members of the class distinguished themselves on the team and one of them, Everett Johnson, was elected Captain of the team for 1923. The Sophomore class has been identified with practically every student activity throughout the year, and we only hope we may be as pleased with the last two years of our college course as we have been with the first.

When M. V. C. opened for the fall term, there were seventy-six Freshmen waiting to enter the portals of knowledge. Among this group were representatives from several states, far and near, other than Missouri. Eight religious denominations were represented. The customary hazing, grotesque and hardly artistic costumes, et cetera, were taken in the proper spirit of sportsmanship.

The officers elected by the class were Homer Tegler, President; William Durrett, Vice-President; and Merlin Hilburn, Secretary-Treasurer; William Huston, Class Booster.

At the beginning of school the class was entertained by each of the literary societies in turn. The class itself had a party in December at the home of Sara Louise Campbell.

At the opening of the football season the Freshmen class presented to the school a football banner of purple and gold.

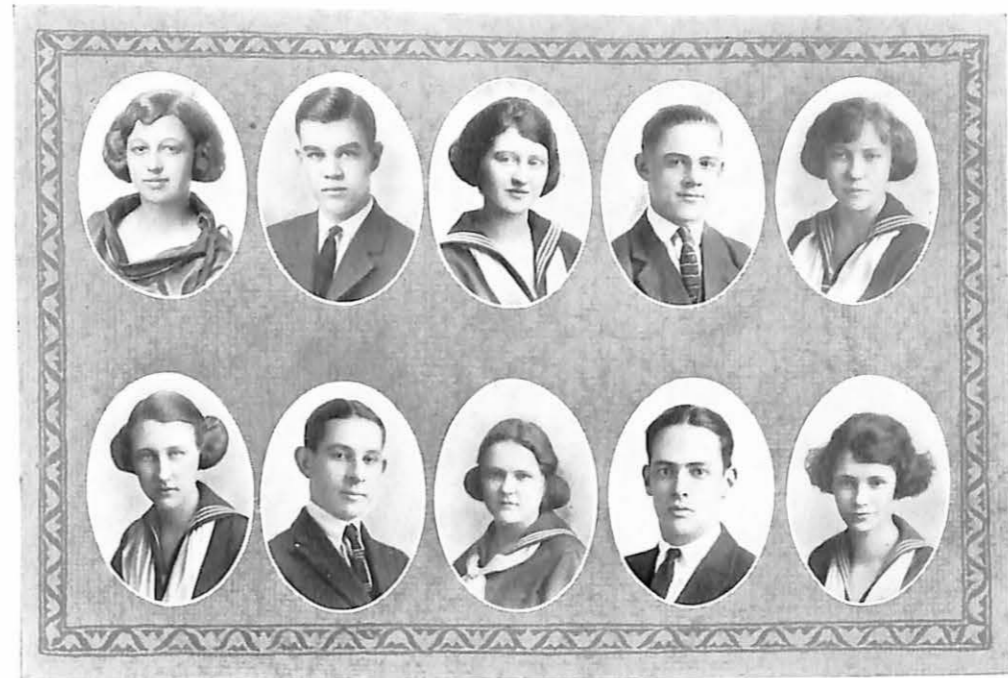

A worthy number of Freshmen went out for football and basketball; a number of Freshmen are in the orchestra, several studying for the ministry and interested in student volunteer work. The yell leader for the year is a member of the Freshmen Class.

The Freshman Class has brains, talent, leadership and muscle, and from its ranks will come the leaders of Missouri Valley College.

The Scent of the Gridiron

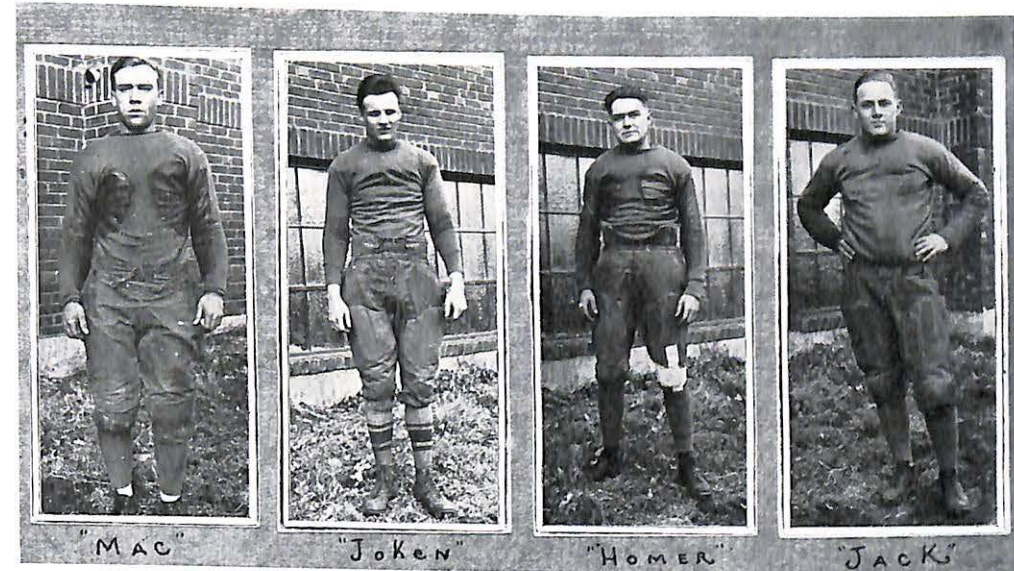

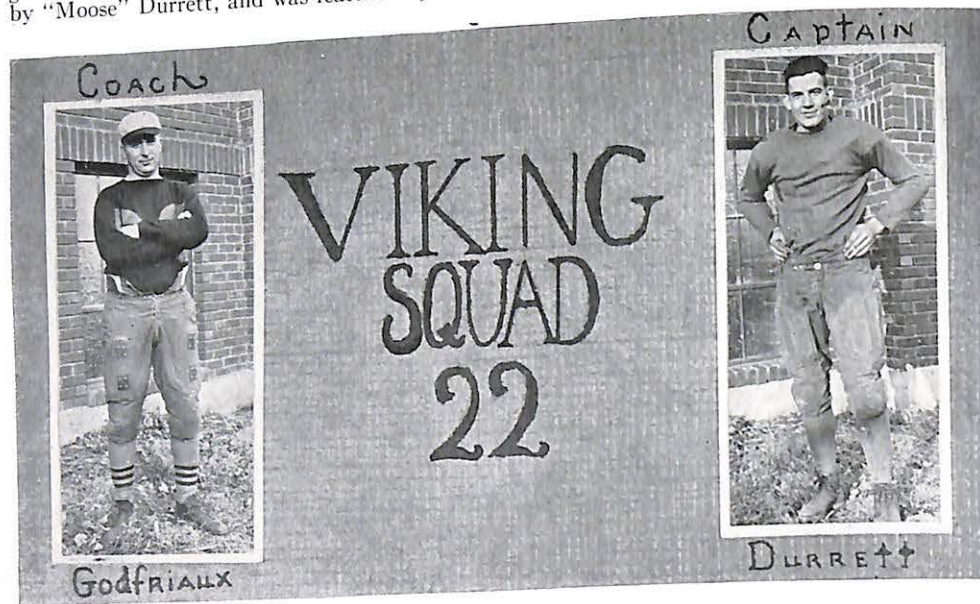

THE football team of 1922-23, known as "that" Big Viking Eleven, and captained by "Moose" Durrett, stands forth as having achieved great things for Missouri Valley and it came within an ace of winning the conference championship.

Coach Godfriaux took a squad of about twenty-two men to Mexico on September 29th to start the season and used all but one of them in conquering the Missouri Military Academy, 20 to 0. Berry converted two forward passes into touchdowns, and Eddie Lockridge carried the ball over for another, while the Viking's line was never in danger.

The next week Wentworth Military Academy came to Marshall and left under the burden of a 30 to 0 defeat. The coach was saving McCutcheon and Johnson, his big guns for the more strenuous games later in the season, but Schaeperkoetter, Sydenstricker and Eddie Lockridge did fine work, the former scoring two touchdowns, and still the purple and gold line was unstained.

Practically the whole school piled into trucks on October 13th and accompanied the team to Fayette, where they witnessed a thrilling victory over Central College by a score of 21 to 0. Tommy "Mac" got into the game for the first time and made his presence felt by some long runs, while the big line still held firm and malign set foot over the Viking goal.

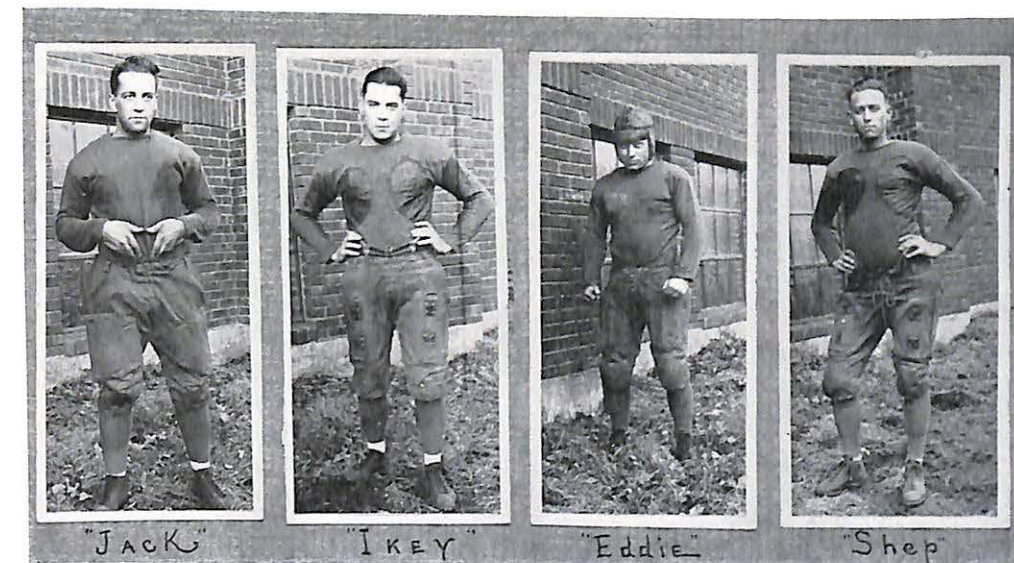

The next week Westminster brought their team to visit us, and while we piled up a total of 46 points, they managed to slip over a score in the second period and spoiled our clean slate. The game marked the first appearance of Johnson, a touchdown by Eddie Purcell on a blocked kick by "Moose" Durrett, and was featured by a seventy-yard run by Sydenstricker.

The Vikings went back to whitewashing on October 27th when they beat Drury at Springfield 17 to 0. McCutcheon shone brilliantly with his open field running, while "Moose" Durrett blocked a forward pass on our seven-yard line and raced eighty-five yards before being overtaken. Johnson chipped in with a forty-five yard placement kick, for three points and added six more by carrying the ball over the line late in the game.

Two weeks later, on November 10th, came the first defeat of the season, 10 to 0, at the hands of William Jewell College on their home grounds. The breaks went against us and we never seemed to get started.

Well, nothing to do but to begin again. This we did the following week when we took the Warrensburg "Mules" into camp through the mud 12 to 0, again keeping our goal line clean.

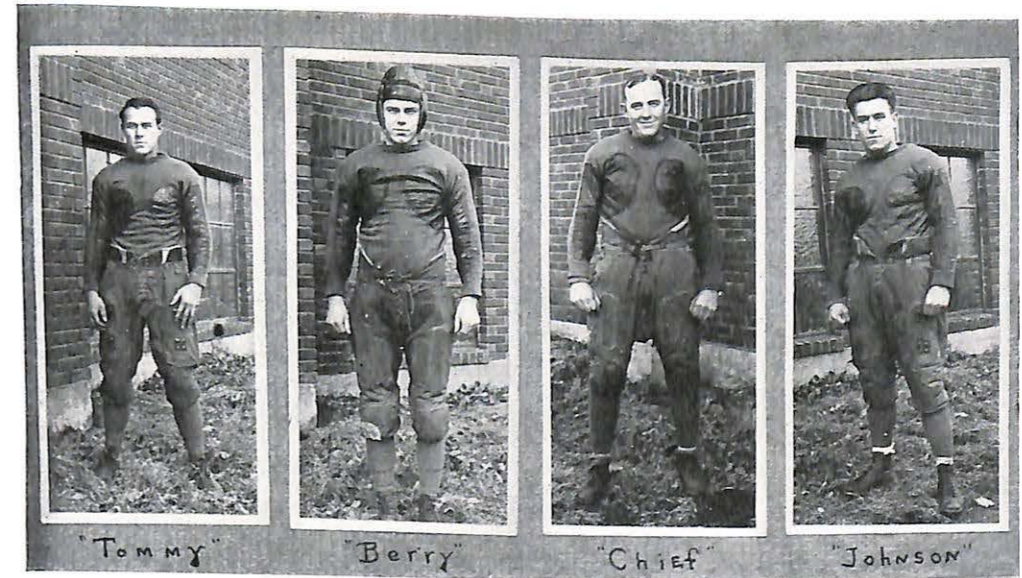

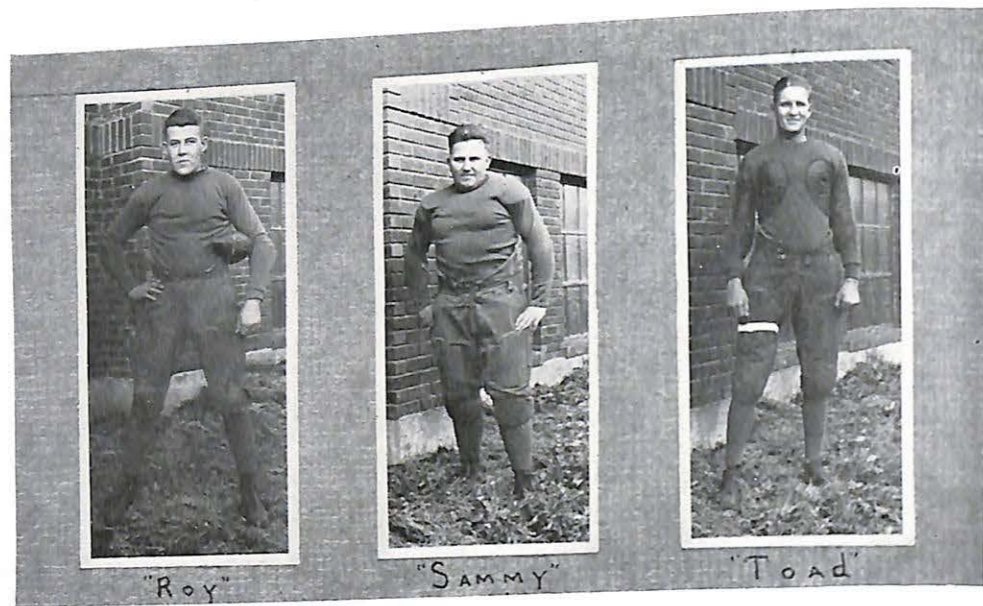

Johnson and Eddie Lockridge scored the touchdowns, and the whole team worked smoothly. This victory gave us an opportunity to go into a tie for first place in the conference, if we could defeat Kirksville on November 24th.

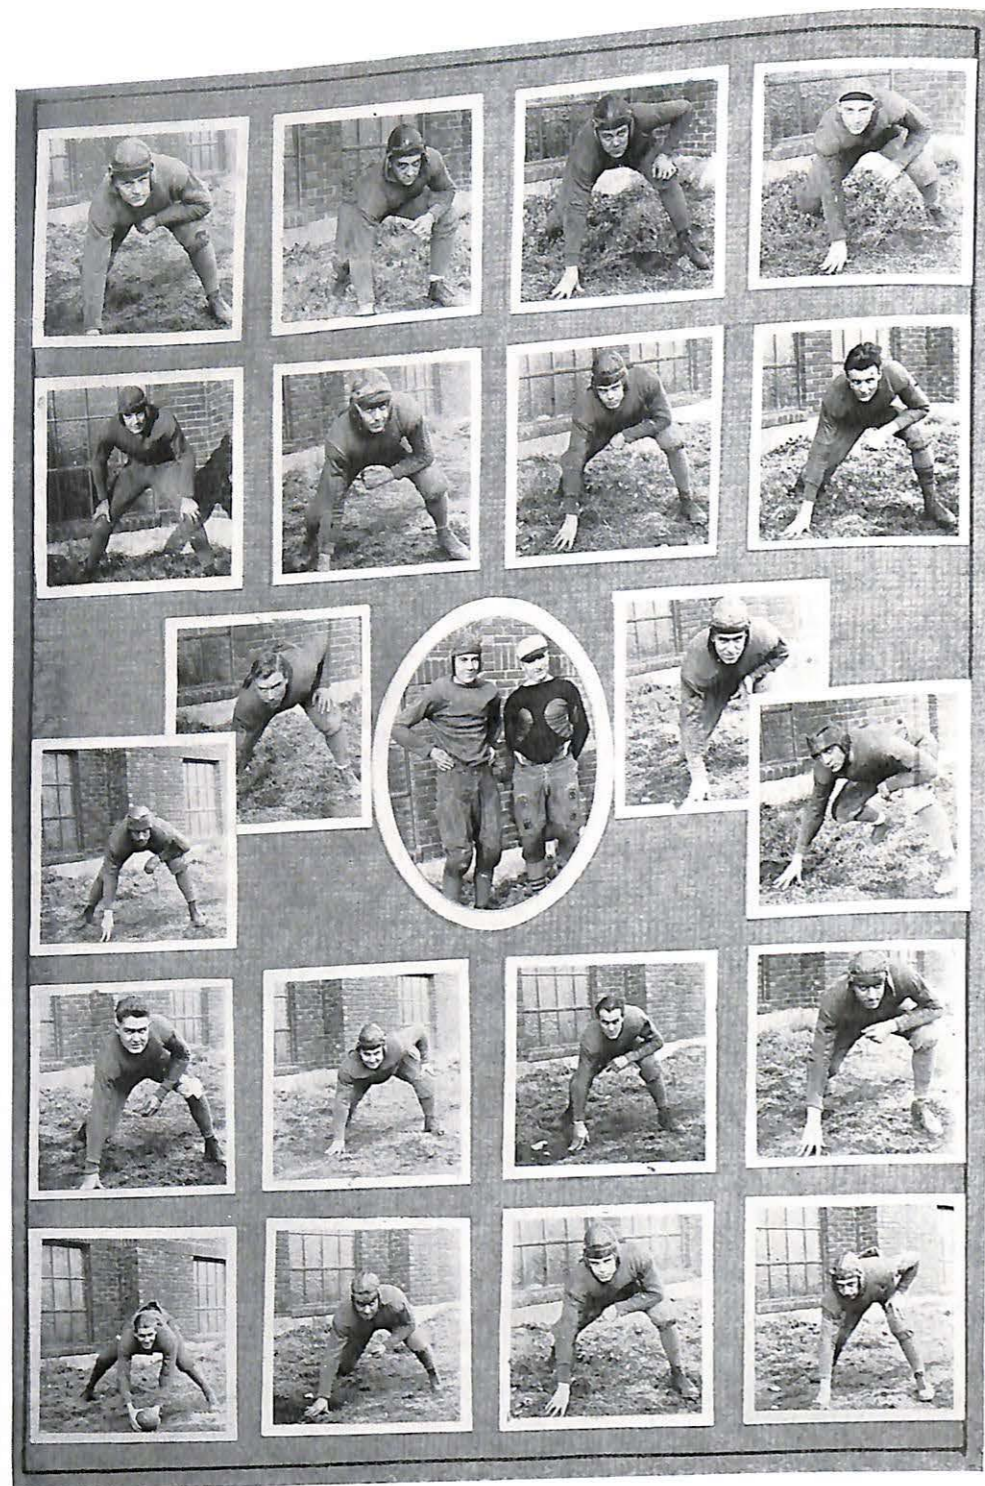

This seemed almost an accomplishment, when, with only three minutes more to play we had a lead of 6 to 3, but a lucky forward pass was completed, which with the kicking of the goal sent us down to a 10 to 7 defeat. Johnson played a remarkable game, both on the offense, when he intercepted a forward pass and ran thirty yards to a touchdown, and on the defense which with his sterling work throughout the season was rewarded by the captaincy of the 1923 Eleven.

"Moose" Durrett and Tommy McCutcheon were given places on the All-Conference team, while Johnson came in for honorable mention. The following tabulation shows the men who scored our 152 total points against the 27 for our opponents:

Basketball

DURING the winter of 1922-23 basketball has for the first time received serious consideration as a major sport at Missouri Valley College, due, perhaps, to the splendid accommodations offered by the Morrison Gymnasium. The main court measures 84 by 44 feet and is one of the finest floors in the state. It is divided into two practice courts, measuring about 60 by 40 feet each, affording six baskets in all. In addition to this, the spacious locker rooms and excellent showers afford every opportunity for good basketball.

A squad of over forty men reported to Coach Godfriaux shortly before Christmas vacations, but as the baskets had not been put up at that time, active work did not begin until after January 3rd. Most of the squad had to be well grounded in the fundamentals of the game, and the coach, in introducing the new "short passing" system of play, accomplished a great deal within such a short time.

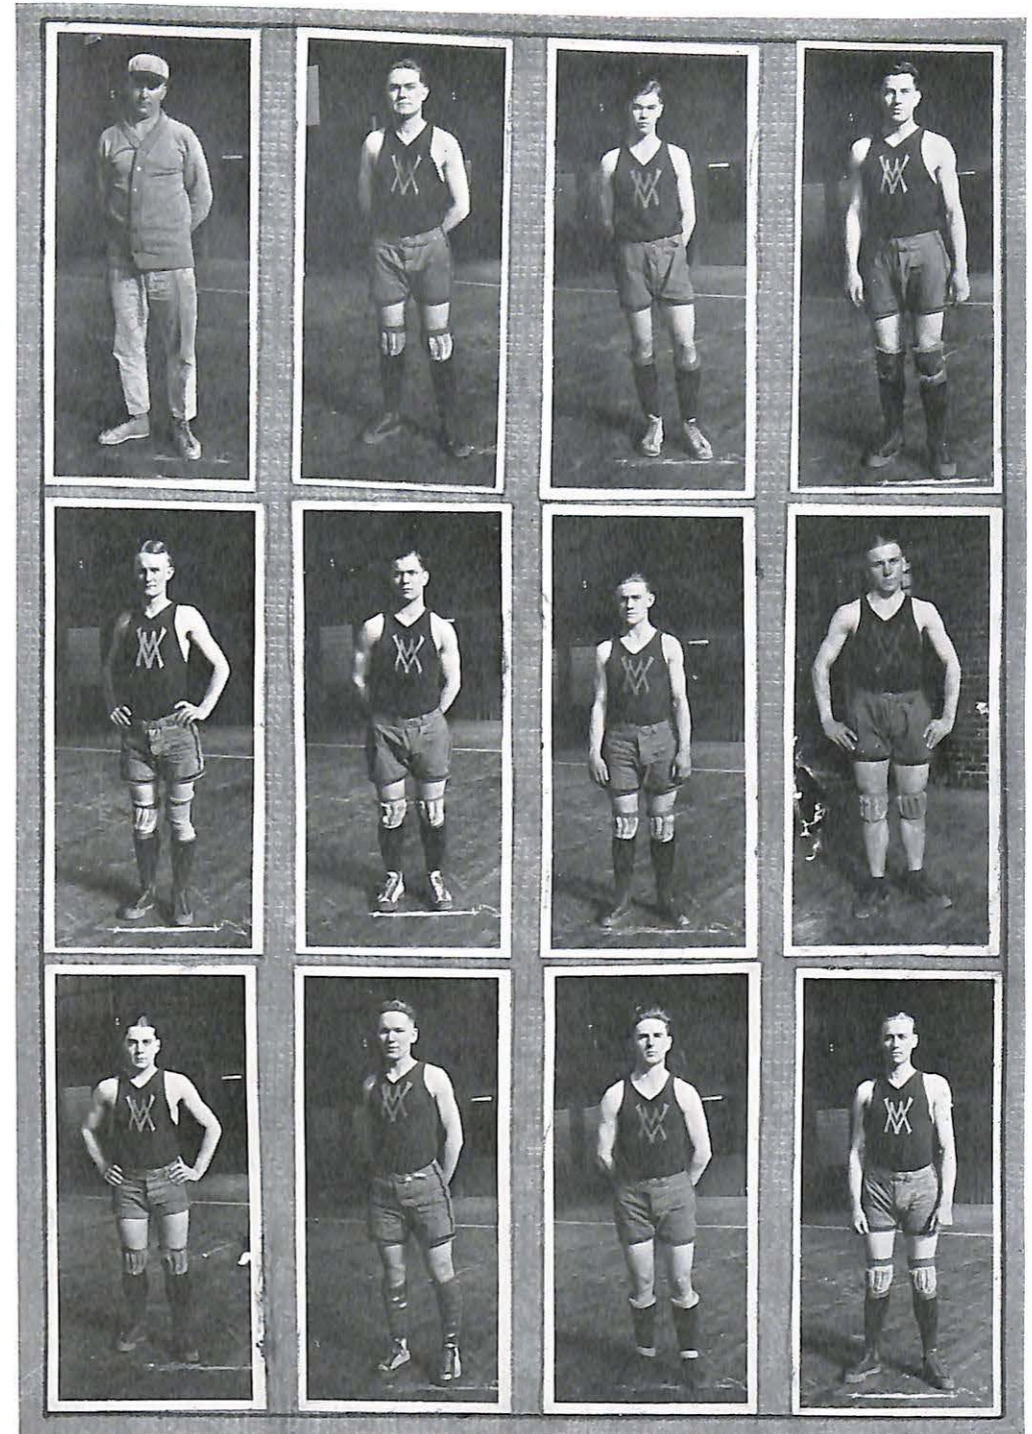

Our first game, however, with Central Wesleyan on January 17th hardly found us prepared to show our best, and it was well toward the close of the season that the men began to display fast team work and some effective proficiency at the short passing game.

A full schedule of eighteen games was arranged, ten of which were on the home court. The team made one long road trip (playing William Jewell, Missouri Wesleyan, Tarkio, Maryville and Junior College) and two shorter ones.

While we were not victorious in any of the combats, the play of the men individually and as a team showed continual improvement and in the last game, against Westminster, the Vikings at the end of the first half led 15 to 11. That they were eventually beaten 19-27 does not diminish the fact that it was perhaps their best performance and gives indications of a more prosperous winning column next year.

The following men were in there fighting hard for Missouri Valley College, and despite the fact that we did not advance very far toward the top of the heap this year, we can count it as a moral victory and look forward to greater accomplishments "basketballically" speaking in 1923-24.

M. V. C. on the Cinder Path

Missouri Valley's only representative on the tracks last season was Everett Johnson, who entered the state meet as sprinter, shot-putter and discus thrower. He has made a good start toward putting the purple and gold in high standing on the cinder path, and it is hoped that his efforts will be instrumental in bringing forth more candidates for this branch of athletics.

BASEBALL

Baseball for 1922 is now a matter of history, but a very happy one, for the team enjoyed a most successful season. Missouri Valley College would undoubtedly have won the conference championship, had there been any awarded, but unfortunately there was no conference in baseball last spring. However, the records tell us that the team won 9 games and lost 4, numbering among their victims Nebraska University, Haskell Indians, and all their old rivals in the Valley.

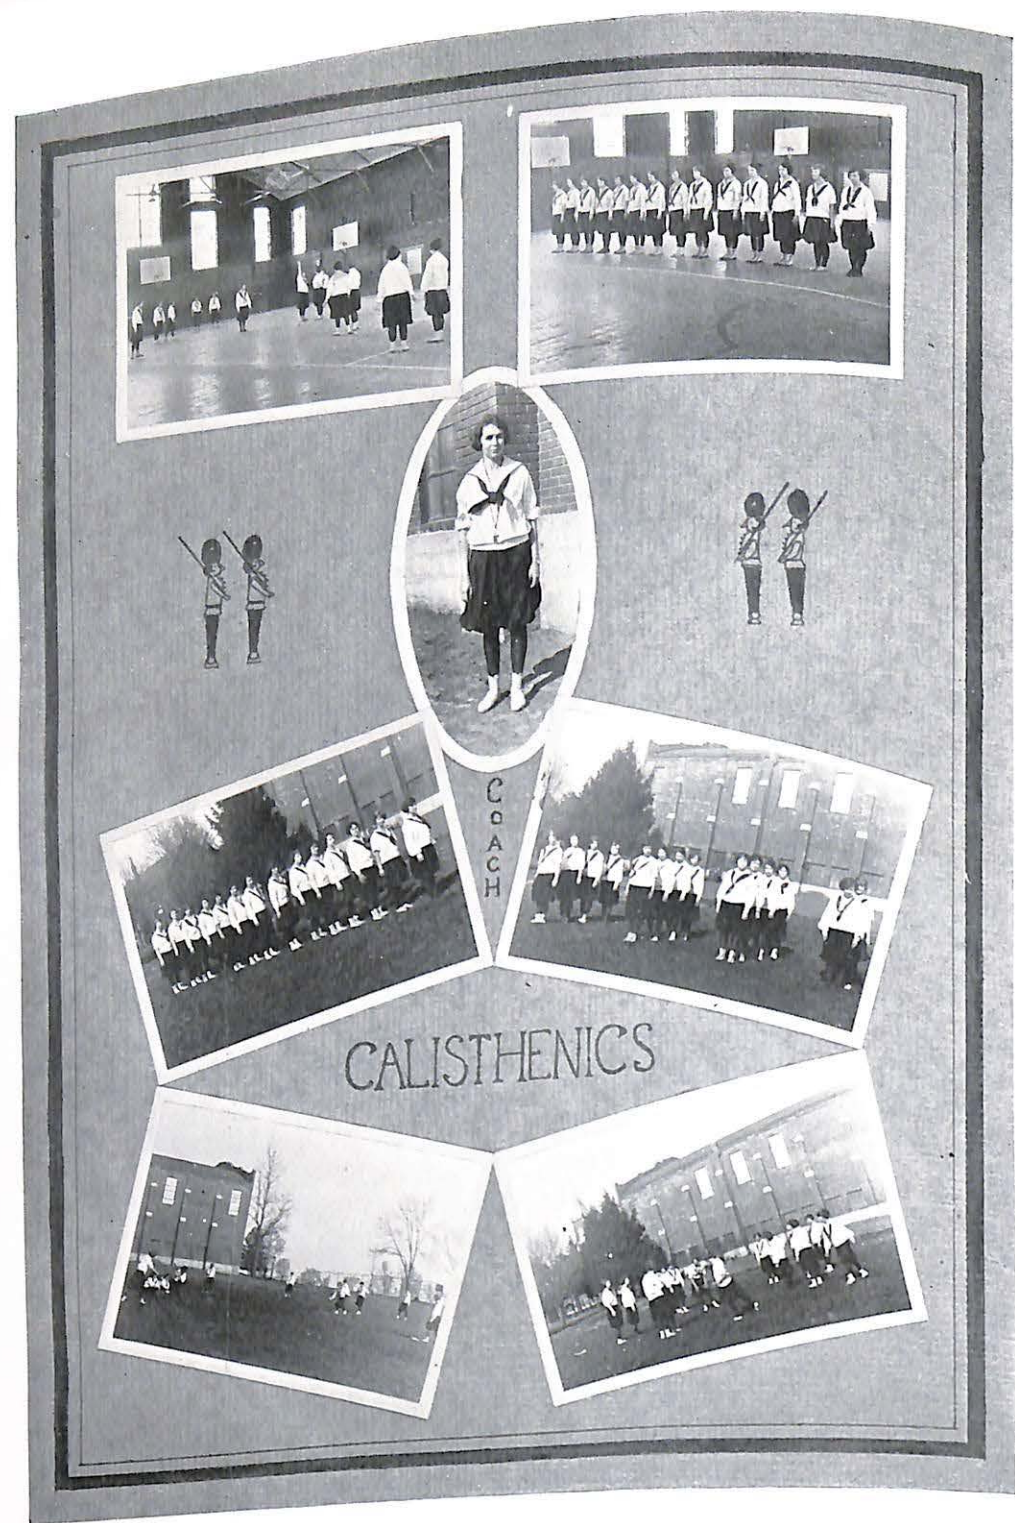

GIRLS ATHLETICS

The girls have been given the opportunity this year to participate in the athletic program of the college, and under the capable direction of Miss Richardson, seven gym classes were organized. That these filled a long felt want at Missouri Valley College is shown by the way the girls responded, from sixty-five to eighty taking active part in the classes, each girl having two hours a week.

The work was so conducted as to give each individual such training as would enable her to direct similar classes. Almost every student was given the opportunity to lead a group and the classes offered exceptional chances for the development of Physical Training Instructors. In this day of higher education for women such training is especially valuable and should form part of every college girl's curriculum.

The activities included games (such as Dodge Ball, Black and White, Dare Ball, Captain Ball, etc.), corrective exercises, marching, and other gymnastics, with basketball as the feature of the winter session and indoor baseball (outdoors) the feature of the Spring. Tennis was also available for those who wished to participate.

Due to the rapid strides made in 1922-23 we have every reason to believe that with each succeeding year the girls will find Missouri Valley better equipped to provide a more extensive athletic program.

The Association membership for 1923 numbers 75 girls. In the fall all the new girls were invited to a hike to the Indian Foothills. Later at the impressive Candle Service the new members were taken into the Association. At Christmas time the annual pageant was put on under the direction of Miss Mary West. In February Miss Josephine Baity directed a Fashion Show, the purpose of which was to show the correct and incorrect styles for college girls.

A budget of $200.00 was raised to cover expenses of the Association, a part of which helps send delegates to the Estes Park Conference. In 1922 Miss Penelope Mahard and Miss Ida Lou Sterrett were the delegates from Missouri Valley College. The Association plans to send delegates for the coming year.

Devotional meetings are held under the direction of the Vice-President on Tuesday mornings at 7:45 and Thursday at one o'clock. At each meeting there is an assigned leader. On Thursdays many town people and visitors have spoken. At these meetings there is always special music. Some of the feature meetings have been, a Commitment Service, Thanksgiving, Meeting "Campus Geography," "A Daily Rate," and a Radio Meeting, "Keeping House for the Ego," "The Ideal Man" and addresses by Prof. Seawell, Prof. Penick, Rev. Mr. Love, Mrs. Fred Fair, Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. S. W. Armentrout and Mrs. V. V. Huff.

The Fall term of 1922 ushered forty-three new young men into the halls of Missouri Valley College, many of whom were strangers. They, like all men who have never attended college, wondered what kind of place they had stepped into. Their wonder did not remain long. The Y. M. C. A. extended a hand of fellowship with a grip that made the newcomers' hearts glad.

The Stag party that followed a few days later made the Pilgrims know that the Y. M. C. A.'s sole duty is not a welcoming committee to function during the first week of school. The bouts, stunts and talks by the old members proved that they were a live bunch of MEN who are not afraid to do things and who are not afraid to say what they believe.

The Dean, a good friend to all the boys, made a tour around the large room in which the affair was being held and introduced every fellow, both new and old. When he got through all the fellows were sufficiently exposed to the Y spirit that in the drive for members they went in one hundred per cent.

Doc Connell, the President, was out of school during the first quarter, but the Vice-President, Fred Robb, took charge of the weekly meetings and brought any business before the Cabinet.

Professional men from various walks of life addressed the Y members at the weekly meetings during the year. All of the messages were of a very frank nature and delivered as man to man. These meetings have enabled men to understand what the different professions are like and appreciate the problems which confront men who are out in the world dealing with the great tasks of the age. Some have actually caught the vision of their life work in just such meetings.

Girls' Glee Club

THE Girls' Glee Club of Missouri Valley College for the year 1923 had as its general director Prof. Claude L. Fichthorn, Dean of Music, and as Choral director Miss Marian Stevenson.

The organization was exceedingly fortunate in having as its business manager Miss Isabel Cassell, who succeeded in scheduling a Western tour including the towns of Miami, Malta Bend, Alma, Higginsville, Odessa, Independence, Kansas City and St. Joseph. At the time that this article goes to press a complete Eastern schedule cannot be given.

Arrangements have been made, however, to give programs at Nelson, Slater and Gilliam.

The girls composing the quartette were Virginia Whitaker, Mildred Brooks, Lucille Harriman, and Leah Clymer.

The program, rendered in two parts, consisted of: ensemble numbers, La Spagnola, Cuddle Snug and Warm, Every Flower, Kerry Dance and Gipsy Festival. Katherine Ann Spotts gave a character reading and Ruby Poynor two musical readings. Mary Margaret Harriman and Leah Clymer played a violin duet, Alpine Violets. Professor Fichthorn sang two selections, When, and a Negro Spiritual. Mildred Brooks sang MacFayden's Cradle Song. Leah Clymer sang Wonder If Ever a Rose, Virginia Whitaker gave a Scotch Costume number, Lassie O'Mine, and Mary West sang Spring Will Return With You, by O'Hara.

The closing number was a playlet in one act, "Our Aunt From California." The scene was laid in the Needy's sitting room, and the following composed the cast: Ruth Campbell, the lively young sister, Sally; Mary West, the indolent Rosalie; Josephine Baity, the intellectual Felecia; Ruth Zahn, the rich Mrs. Muntoburn; Lucille Harriman, Mrs. Needy; Virginia Whitaker, maid, and Mildred Brooks, dressmaker.

As a grand finale the girls sang "Missouri Valley College," the words of which were written by Dr. William H. Black. This especially stirred the hearts of the loyal sons and daughters of Missouri Valley, scattered throughout the audiences to which the girls performed, with love and patriotism for their Alma Mater.

The Men's Glee Club gave its home concert at Stewart Chapel April 19, 1923, assisted by Prof. A. T. Vawter, Violinist, and by Mr. W. Dean Stringer, an eminent basso of Kansas City, Missouri.

There were six ensemble numbers, two selections by the quartette, violin and flute solos, a violin and flute duet, a monologue, "chalk talks," and numbers by Mr. W. D. Stringer.

It was found impossible to arrange concert tours for the Glee Club, as many of the men worked outside of school hours. Nevertheless, their performance proved a very great pleasure and delight to the students and friends of the college, and it is hoped that Missouri Valley College will continue in future years to have such a splendid organization.

The Orchestra

THE Orchestra presents the most perfect means for expression in music when developed to its complete form. It represents the extreme height of man's work in music, offering as it does to the great composers, the maximum of resources for expression. The orchestra is composed of groups of instruments allied by similarity of construction, usually classified in three main groups, strings, wind, and percussion instruments.

The M. V. C. Orchestra of this year, under the able direction of Prof. A. T. Vawter, has been unusually good. There has been a greater variety of instruments than for several years. On February 1, 1922, assisted by local artists, the orchestra gave a recital in Stewart Chapel. The numbers by the orchestra were: Hungarian Dance No. 5—John Brahms, Amaryllis—Henri Ghys, Flower Song—Lange, Apple Blossoms—K. Roberts, Marguerite Waltz from Faust—Gounod, and Medley of National Airs—Mackie—Beyer. On March 7 the same program was broadcast over radio from the Kelley-Vawter Jewelry Company. The director plans for the orchestra to give other such recitals throughout the school year.

The Gospel Team

The Gospel Team will soon have completed its season of 1922-23. In a few respects the year may not be considered a successful one, inasmuch as no conversions were made, yet the churches to which the Team was invited were truly given a spiritual uplift and the work of the local organizations were greatly stimulated. The Gospel Team affords this rich opportunity of carrying the life of the campus and the vital reactions it derives into the rural community; it is the common meeting-ground between the college man and the rural community.

Missouri Valley College has been well represented in the personnel of the Team, for they have faithfully given of their time and talents, and not only have they done credit to themselves but to the school to which they hold their allegiance. Missouri Valley extends its influence in many ways; on the athletic field, in debate, in the Glee Club, and she has in the Gospel Team an organization that reaches out into the spiritual field. A new broader conception of college institutions is thus attained, that of linking the church and the school.

The program of the Gospel Team has been beside its formal meetings stunts, readings, college songs, and at Sharon the members participated in a baseball game with the local high school team as opponents. In some places high school assemblies have been entertained by the Team.

The officers of the team are Fred Robb, Captain; Harold Richardson and Dow Pinkston, Lieutenants; Howard Hendricks, Business Manager. Much credit is due them for the success of the team.

"Vikings"

THE V stands for Valley and Viking.
The student-athlete to my liking,
When his athletic togs he is diking,
Shows grit.

As he goes down the gridiron a-hiking
Or the line he is tearing or striking
Or a broken field smashing and spiking
He resembles the old vying Viking
Every whit.

The V stands for Viking and Valley.
The old Norse king in his galley,
Whose daring would ne'er let him dally,
With pleasure.

This new Viking must be the old's ally
Believe in a ninth-inning rally
Take a lead and be ready to sally
Forth home for the game-winning tally—
Joy's measure.

O Valley and Viking and Vim
Verities—when my faith is dim—
Victory—when the fight grows grim—
For these things I pray.

Veracity in speech and in song
Volition when desire rules strong—
Veneration for Prexy who long
Has fought for V's right against wrong
Give me this day.

Written early Sunday morning, October 29th, after hearing that the "Vikings" beat the "Panthers"
17 to 0. Wm. I. Ferguson, Class of '97.

The Football Banquet

ON December 12, 1922, at 7 p. m., the Annual Football Banquet was held in the Morrison Gymnasium with the Coach and members of the football squad the honor guests. The table at which the Vikings, their ladies, and the guests were seated was the center of interest. The centerpiece for the table was a large, beautiful cake, made and presented by Mrs. Bess Tegler to the Missouri Valley football team. The tables were arranged in the form of V's with the football banner as a background to the guest's table. Purple and gold prevailed in the decorations and menu. The musical program included several numbers by the college orchestra and a solo by Arthur Seawell.

The toastmaster for the banquet was Dr. Lowe, who kept the fun going from start to finish. Miss Josephine Patton responded to the first toast, "The Team." The hearty and long continued applause given "Moose" Durrett, the retiring captain, was ample testimony of the love and respect which the students have for him. Everett Johnson, the captain of the team for 1923-24, gave a short talk. Miss Elsie Melzl's toast was to the "Coach." "The Missed Tackle" by Mr. Godfriaux was an analogy drawn between the tackle made on the football gridiron and the tackle made on the gridiron of Life. The principal address of the evening was by the famous Coach Zuppke of Illinois University, who is one of five or six of the greatest coaches in America. It was a great treat to hear this authority on athletics and on football especially.

College Y. W. C. A. Banquet

ON Monday evening, March 12th, about seventy-five young ladies were present at the annual Young Women's Christian Association banquet held in the Duggins' Cafe. The decorations in spring flowers, yellow and green tapers, and place cards heralded the near approach of the Eastertide.

The occasion of the affair was that Miss Penelope Mahard, the retiring President of the Association, might turn over her duties to the incoming President, Miss Josephine Patton. The installation charge was given the new cabinet by Mrs. Black. Mrs. Hilburn, a former student of the college, proved herself a charming toastmistress. Miss Martha Witt gave a short talk, and Miss Ida Lou Sterrett read L'Envoi—Kipling. The musical numbers included a solo by Miss Ruth Campbell, a duet by Misses Leah Clymer and Mildred Brooks, and a quartet by Misses Lucile Harriman, Leah Clymer, Mildred Brooks, and Ruth Campbell.

The principal address was by Mrs. Belle Huff, who told of her recent visit to the Holy Land, emphasizing places of historic interest in Jesus' life which she saw while there. The banquet was one of the most enjoyable and satisfactory ever given by the Y. W. C. A. both in point of service and program.

Y. M. C. A. Banquet

THE annual Y. M. C. A. banquet was held March 13, 1923, at the Frank Duggins' Cafe. There were about fifty men present including several business men of Marshall. Although it was impossible to secure an outside man for the principal speaker, everyone agreed that the banquet of 1922-23 was one of the best ever held.

After the invocation by Dr. Lowe an excellent dinner was served by Mr. Duggins, assisted by several Y. W. C. A. girls. Miss Baum Price furnished the music for the evening.

Dean Evrard was the toastmaster of the occasion, and in his opening words made this statement: "The boys of the present time have done more for the Y. M. C. A. than any others." This was indeed a fine tribute to those men on the cabinet who have worked so hard to put the "Y" on its feet again.

Dr. Shepherd, the principal speaker of the evening, spoke on the work of the Y. M. C. A. for the last twenty-five years and the possibilities that are open in the next fifty years.

Short talks were made by Eddie Purcell, President of the Boys' Club; Aubrey Conrad, President of the Unit Club; Albert Steele, Business Manager of the Sabiduria and Delta; George Connell, retiring President of the Y. M. C. A.; Fred Robb, retiring Vice-President.

Dr. Lowe then gave the installation charge to the new cabinet. He said that in order for the new cabinet to be successful it must have circumspection, consecration and courage. Jack Holliday, the new President, in a brief talk asked for the co-operation of all members in order to make the "Y" the biggest possible success.

The closing prayer was given by Dean Evrard.

The Cast

"Come Out of the Kitchen"

The Bairdean Literary Society chose for the annual college play "Come Out of the Kitchen," a comedy in three acts. The play was presented April 10, 1923, at Stewart Chapel under the able direction of Professor Seawell, to whom much praise and commendation are due. The cast was well chosen, the costumes characteristic, and the staging artistic.

The story of the play centers about a Virginia family of the old aristocracy by the name of Dangerfield. The leading role, Olivia Dangerfield, alias Jane Ellen, was finely taken by Miss Ruth Campbell, whose histrionic talent has been a delight to the students and friends of the college. Mr. Dow Pinkston took the part of leading man as Burton Crane. Mr. Pinkston's pleasing voice and ease on the stage rendered him eminently capable of the leading role. Miss Merlin Hilburn as Elizabeth Dangerfield, alias Araminta, Roy Linberg as Paul Dangerfield, alias Smithfield, and Robert Bell as Charles Dangerfield, alias Brindlebury, were especially good. This play of the Southland would have been incomplete without the black mammy; this part was effectually taken by Miss Alma Rodenberg. Miss Ruth Zahn interpreted the part of Mrs. Falkener splendidly. Irene Brooks as Cora Falkener, Omer Smith as Thomas Lefferts, Aubrey Conrad as Solon Tucker, and Jack Holliday as Randolph Weeks proved themselves very capable of the work assigned them. The Bairdeans are to be congratulated upon the success of their play.

As They Once Were

Junior-Senior Party

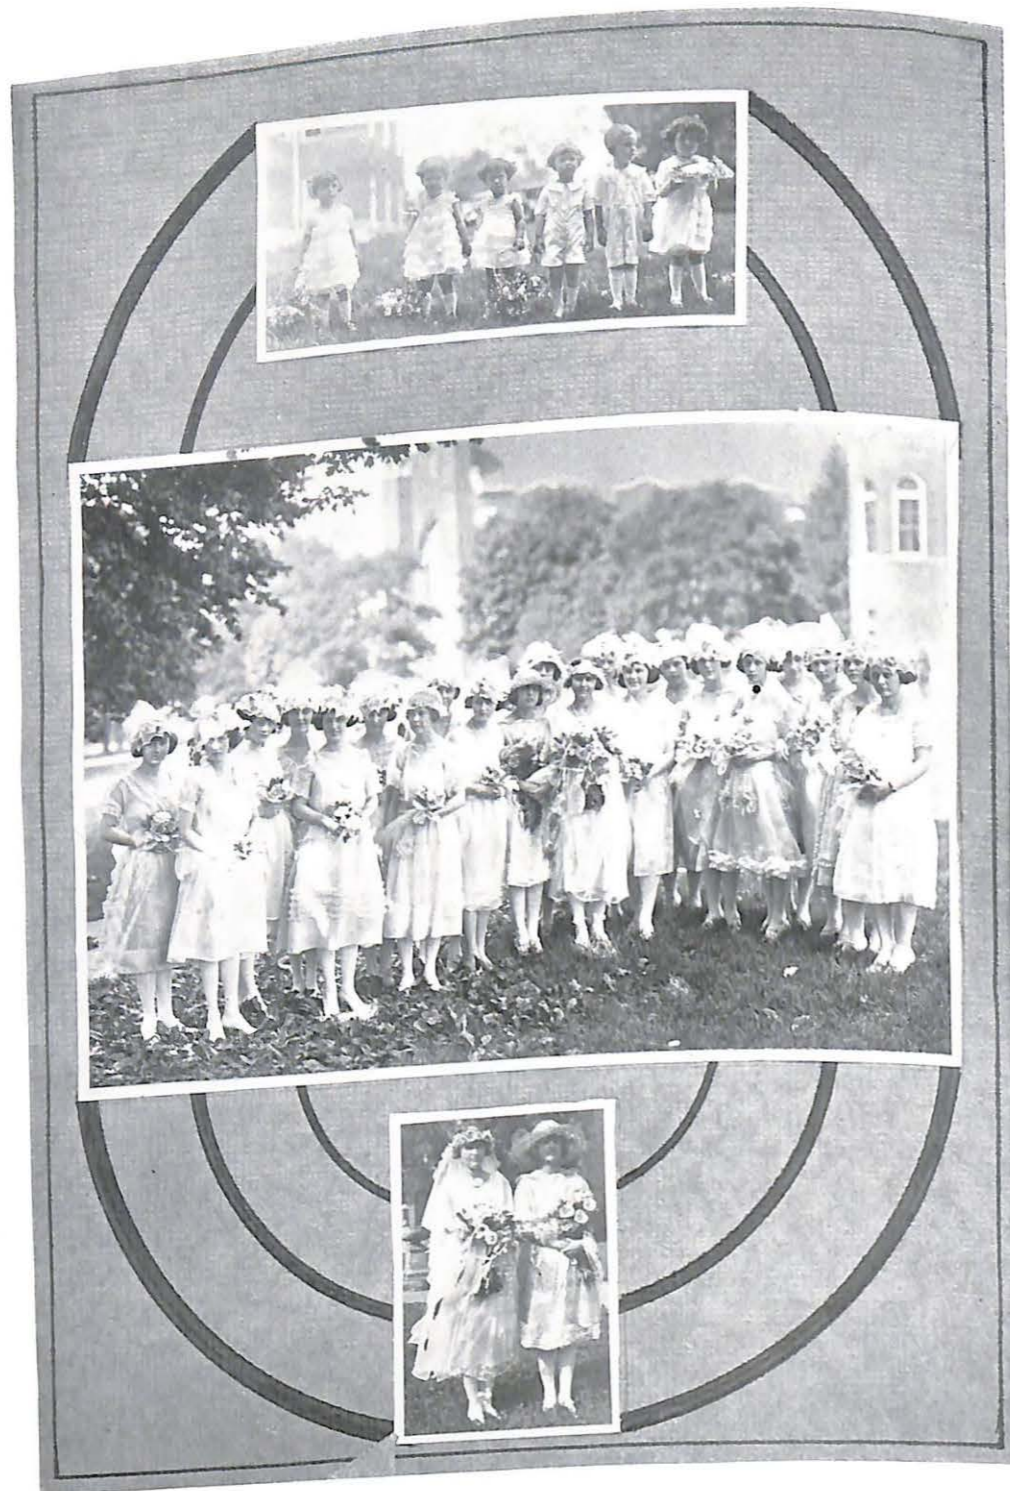

THE annual Junior-Senior party of this year took on the form of a Valentine party in the dining hall of the Louisa Campbell Dormitory on Monday evening, February 12. The Juniors were hostesses to the Seniors and Faculty.

Red hearts prevailed in the decorative scheme and program. Seniors, Faculty, and Juniors entered into the opening grand march with zest and pleasure; the faculty guests were as jolly and gay as members of the classes and led in the games and stunts and new steps introduced in the grand march.

Sentimental and comic Valentines were presented to the Seniors and Faculty. A plate luncheon of fruit salad, raisin and pimento sandwiches, cherry ice and potato chips was served at the close of the program.

Viking Carnival

On March 23 and 24 the Viking Carnival was held in the Morrison Gymnasium. All the usual features of a carnival were there: confetti, streamers, dolls, side shows, clowns, hot dogs, ice cream cones and soda pop. Then there was the Recruiting Station Stunt, a Style Show and Dad Laughlin's Virginia Reel. The carnival, given for the benefit of the Sabiduria, was the source of much fun and enjoyment for the students and faculty, and it is hoped that the Viking Carnival will become an annual affair.

"What Men Live By"

ARNOLD H. LOWE

But man does not live by bread alone. It is true that material things feed our bodies, nourish our sense of ease and replenish our vanities. But they do not feed the soul. All the power and money in the world cannot touch the soul of man. Temporal things cannot satisfy the deepest longings within us. Man lives by other things. Things that cannot be bought. Things that cannot be seen or touched. But things that are real and true and lasting.

Man lives by that which the past has left within us a dominating residue. The experiences of the past are the most powerful factors in any life. The voice of the past is the voice of the Eternal. But we forget. And when we forget we perish. Whenever we forget the glories and shame of a bygone day we are growing poor. We live by remembering. The victories of yesterday, the sins and glories of moments that have perished have they left nothing that will uplift our souls. The follies and flaws, the joys and trials of other days have they left nothing that will feed my life and satisfy my soul.

Man lives by love! We are touching here the very center of the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. His very gospel was a gospel of love. The things that men did because of the gain they hoped to receive therefrom, the sacrifice, the apparent kindness back of which lay a store of deliberateness, selfish intention, cold calculation did not fare well at the hands of Jesus. Love is the source of all religious endeavor.

We live by hope! Remove hope from your life and you become a human wreck. It is by hope that we are sustained. Hope is the driving power of any life. It illumines the dark recesses of the path before us.

And man lives by truth! We pant after it, as the hart panteth after the waterbrooks. Truth is the proclamation of freedom!

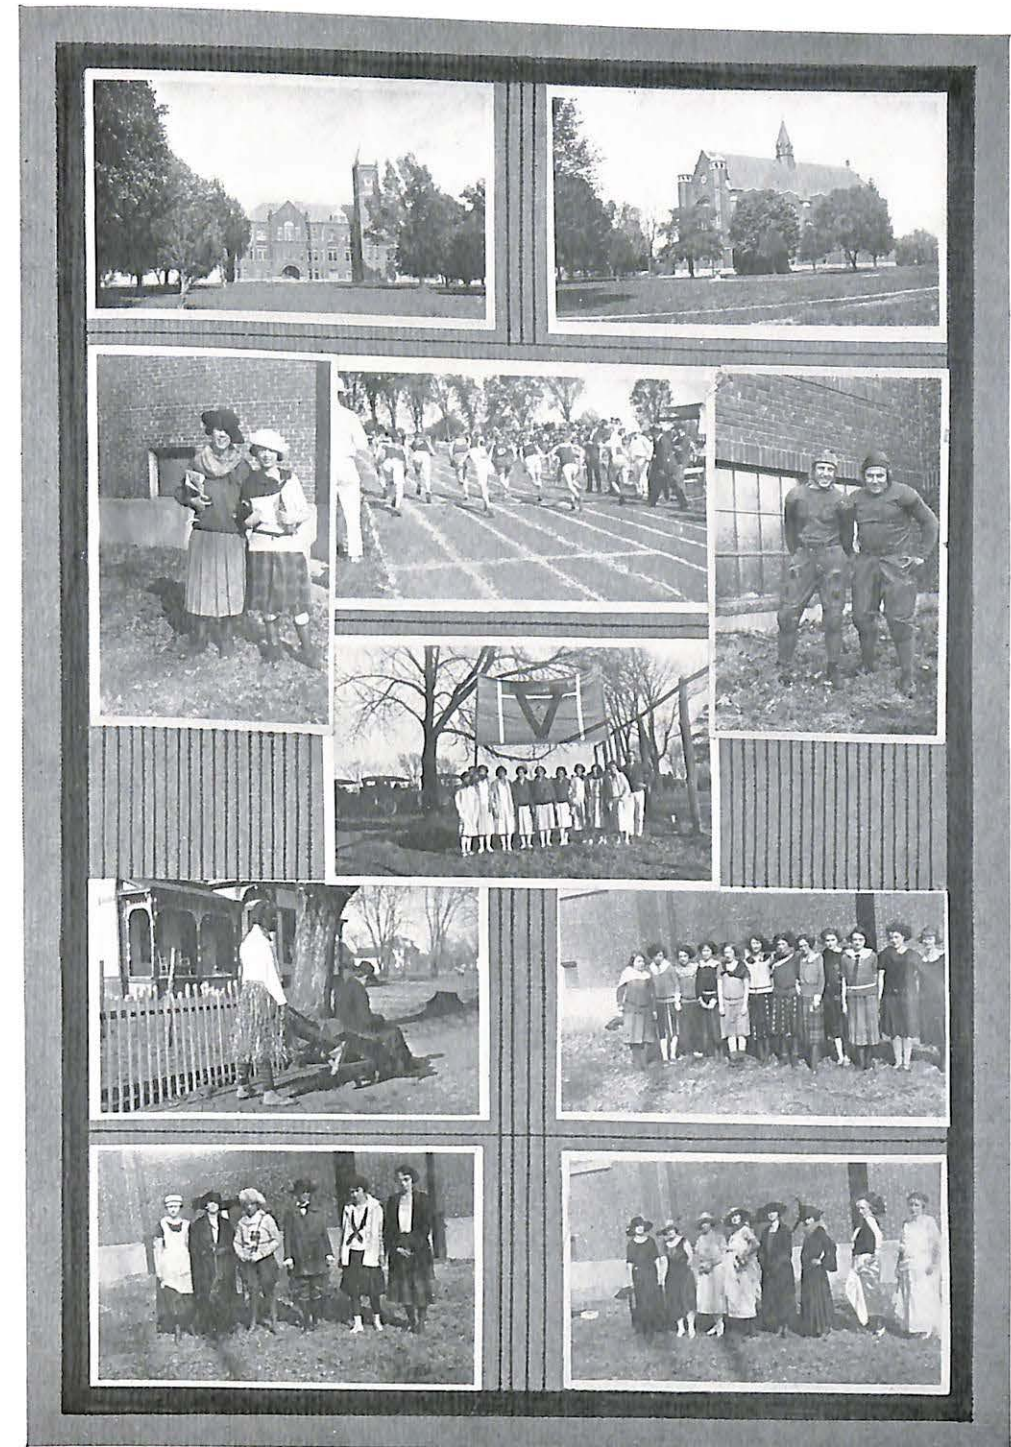

In moments of utter weakness and discouragement man does not live by temporal things but by the eternal truth, that we are "more than conquerors."

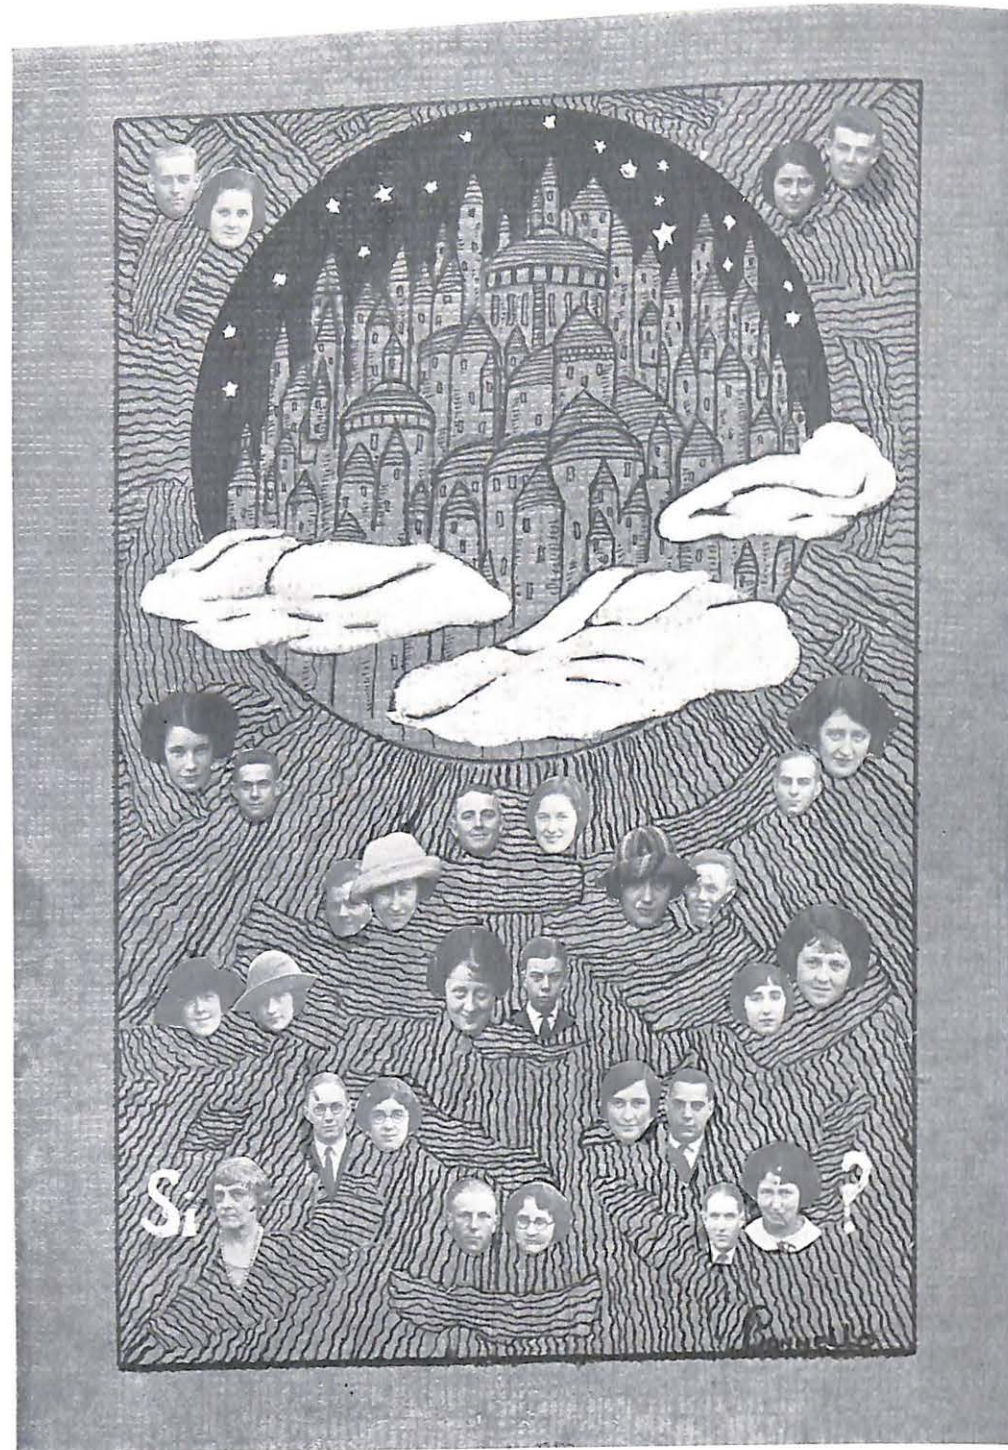

Half Million Campaign

COMMENCEMENT week we are planning to celebrate the closing of our Half Million Campaign at Missouri Valley College.

This has, indeed, been a glorious year for Missouri Valley College, and we feel it is the beginning of more glorious years. Not only will the College be helped financially, but the generous way in which her friends have responded to the call for service gives renewed life and encouragement to those brave souls who have nurtured and reared Missouri Valley College for thirty-three years.

The spirit throughout the entire Campaign has been beautiful. The Presbyteries in the state, our own city, and Saline County have responded nobly. The Committees in charge of the work have given of their time and energy in the most unselfish way. The subscribers have given of their finances and their good will abundantly.

Intercollegiate Debates

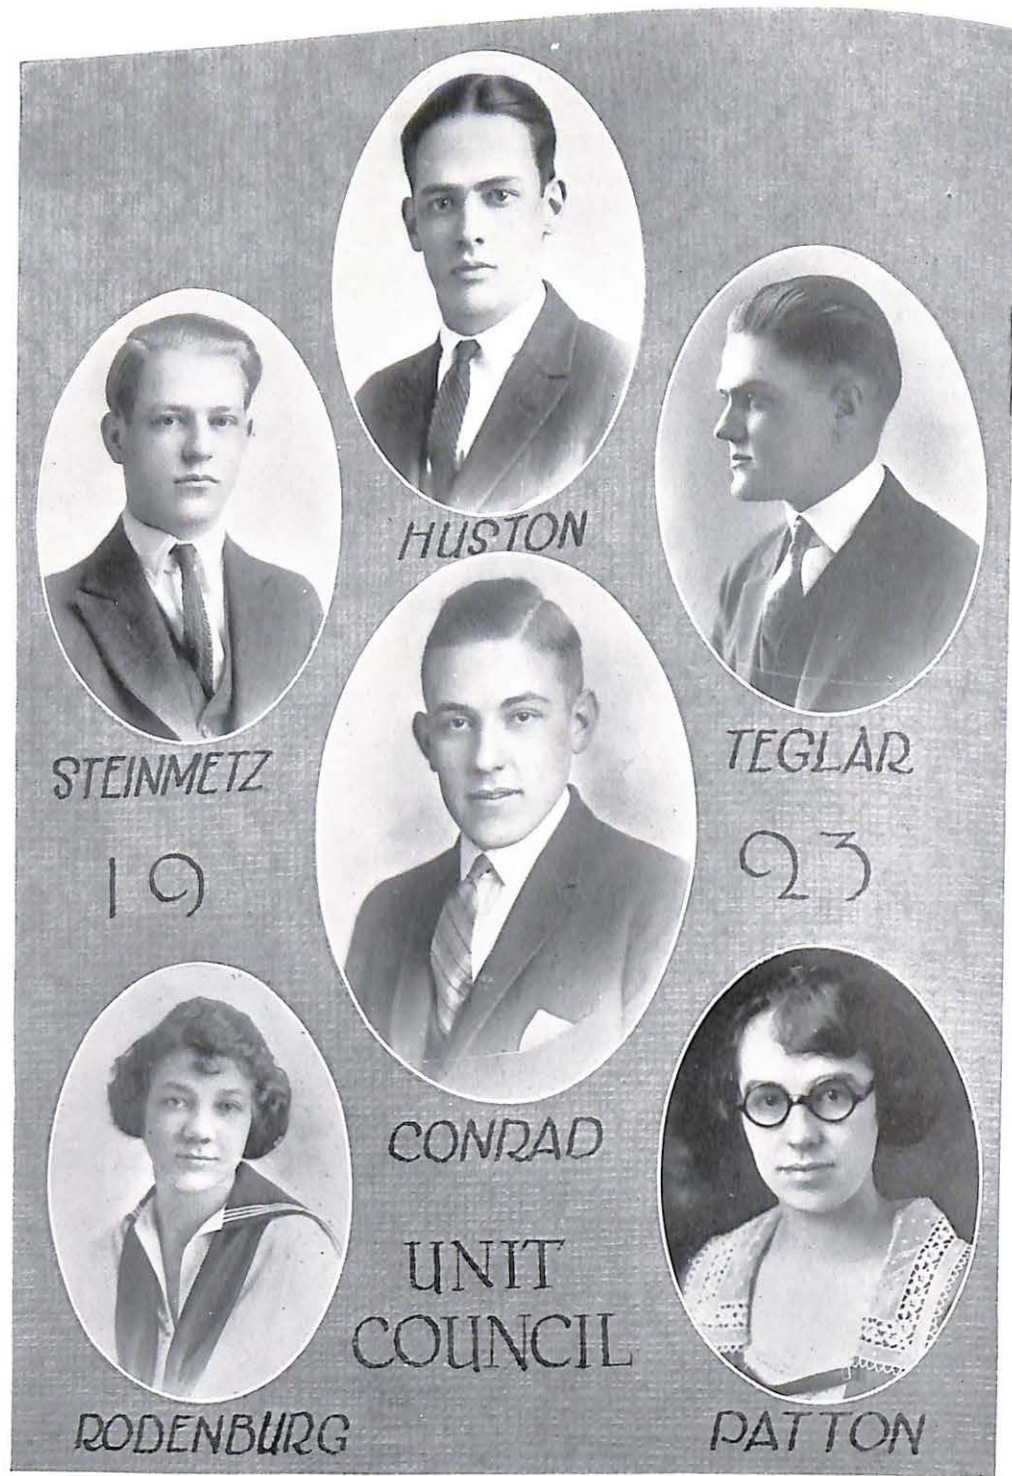

The annual triangular debate between Central College, Central Wesleyan College, and Missouri Valley College was held on Friday, April 6th. The question debated was, "Resolved, that the administration's ship subsidy bill should be ratified by the Federal Government."

Mr. Jack Nicolds and Mr. Harold Harvey represented Missouri Valley College at Marshall against Central Wesleyan, upholding the affirmative side of the question.

Decision: For the negative.

Mr. Osborn Armentrout and Mr. Joe Kenneth Swisher represented Missouri Valley at Fayette against Central College, upholding the negative side of the question.

In Memoriam

William R. Priest

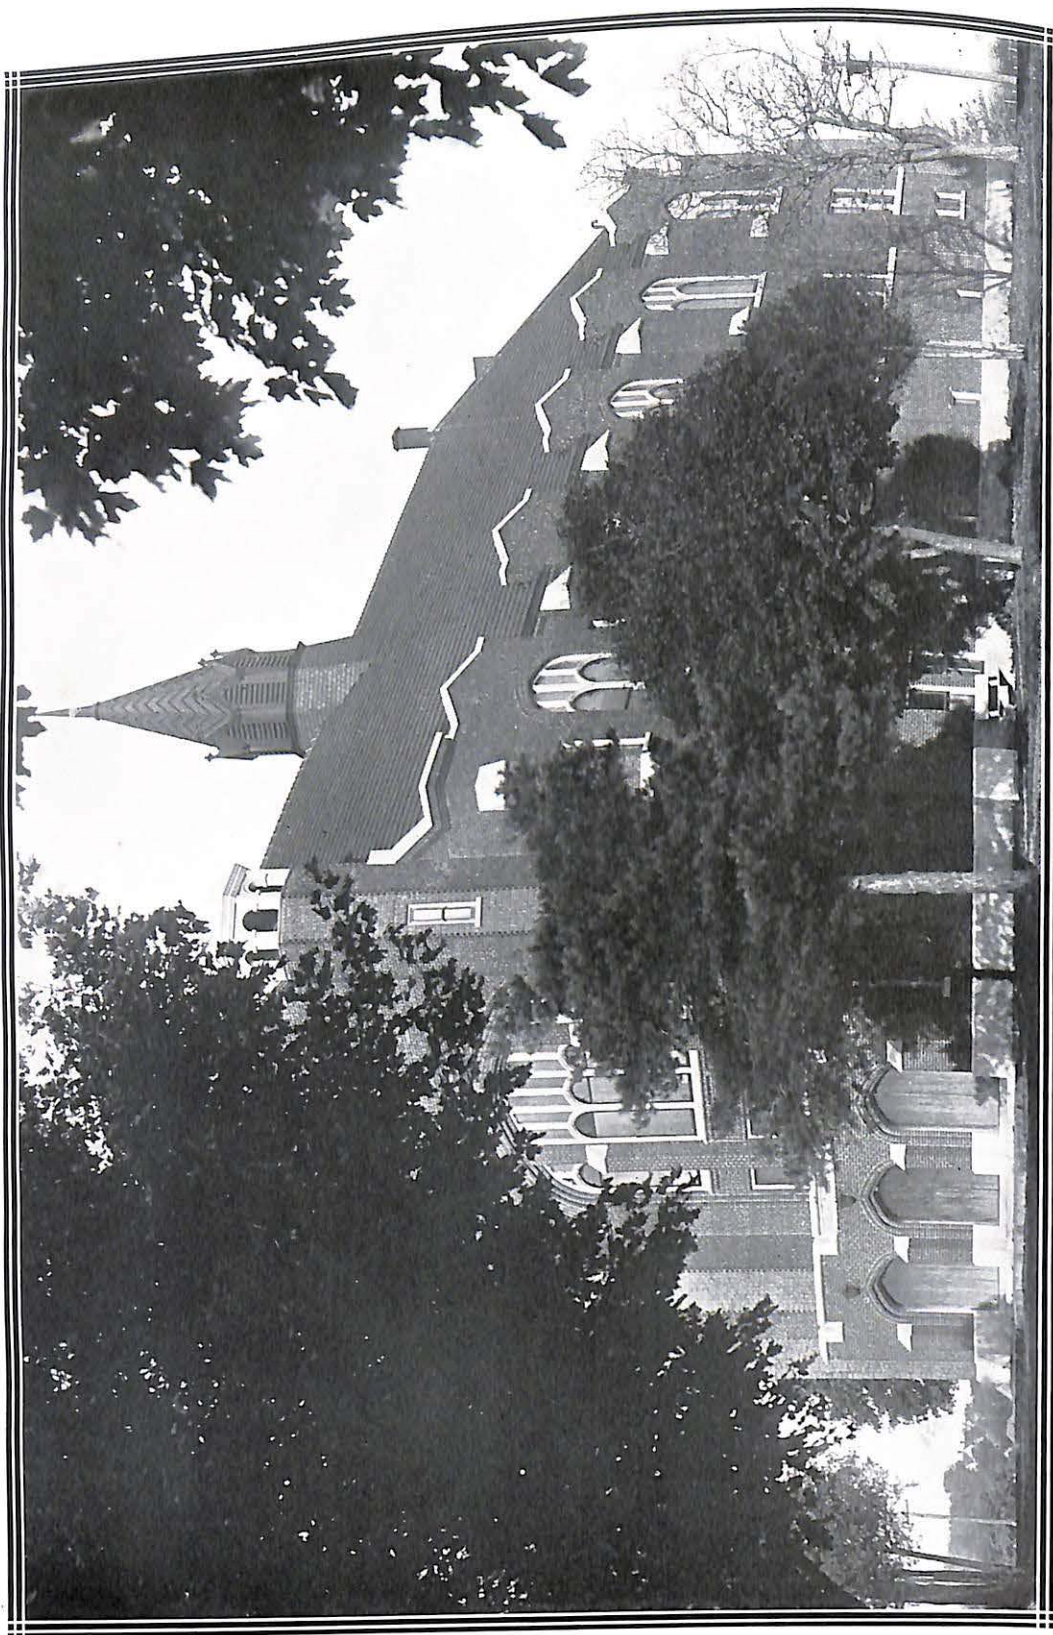

THESE few lines are to express the appreciation of the Staff to those who have so liberally given us their advertisements; to Mr. McChesney, our Photographer; to Burger Engraving Company; Hugh Stephens Printing Company; and to the students who have helped us in the compiling of material for the Sabiduria.

The co-operation that the entire Staff has given me since the work was first started on the Sabiduria has made the work a delight. The Business Manager's task has been especially hard, and no effort or time has been spared on his part to complete it successfully.

ELSIE MELZL
Editor-in-Chief.

Missouri Valley welcomes Rev. Charles A. Reagan, formerly Professor of Mathematics at Hanover College, Indiana, into her college life. Professor Reagan represents Missouri Valley College as Field Representative, bringing to us new students from over the state, and helping to bring to a successful completion our Half Million Campaign. We are glad Professor Reagan's family is accompanying him to Marshall, and that two of his sons will be with us next year in college.

Let This Bank Help You

To practice a little self-denial now; then later on you will have saved money enough to meet your needs.

We all, at times, spend some of our money unnecessarily; if we gave the matter more consideration we would be better off—we would know that there is much that we spend for that we derive no real benefit from.

We just give the other fellow our money and don't profit by what we get in exchange.

Where Kraft Built College Annuals are Produced

THE HUGH STEPHENS PRESS, home of Kraft Built College Annuals, is the largest, uniquely equipped modern plant in the West, specializing in the production of the highest type of college year books.

Surely there is something besides excellent printing and binding, faithful performance of contract, and intelligent co-operation, that draws, year after year, more annual staffs of the large universities and colleges "into the fold" of the Hugh Stephens Press.

Perhaps it is, as one visiting editor expressed it, our "ideal organization working in an ideal plant, ideally located," that gives character to the annuals we produce.

The orchid, rarest of flowers, is produced only when all conditions are favorable to its growth. The near-perfection of Kraft Built annuals is the result of careful craftsmanship under ideal conditions.

The "Hugh Stephens Press folks" know what an annual staff is up against. Our Service Department renders expert assistance as part of our printing contract, and supplies the staffs with a complete system of blank forms, together with a handsome ninety-page Manual Guide dealing with the latest methods in advertising campaigns, business and editorial systems for College Annual production.

Helpful advice and ideas are given on art work for Opening Pages, Division Sheets, Borders and special sections, combining Kraft Built bindings, inks and papers into beautiful and artistic books—SUCCESSFULLY EDITED AND FINANCED.

Buddy: "Er, er—that is—I'm the fool."

IS THIS A JOKE?

Why is it that when a fellow spends time and money showing a girl a good time, she thinks he is putting himself under so much obligation to her that he ought to marry her, too?—Ex.

I called her,
But she refused to come.
I begged—
I threatened—
I scolded—
I even swore—
But to no avail:
She would not come to me.
I stood silently for awhile
And watched her.
I saw her go
To Kenneth,
To Steve,
To Tom,
To Eddie,
But she would not come to me.
Finally I decided on one more attempt—
She came.
Dice are peculiar.

Dean: "Well, how were your examinations?"
Prof. Penick: "A complete success, everybody flunked."

Bob: "You look sweet enough to eat."
Eva: "I do eat. Where shall we go?"

HOW COME?

Jack B.: "I gave her a box of rouge for her birthday."
Tommie: "Gee that was a pretty flossy present wasn't it?"
Jack B.: "Yea, but I got it all back May Day when she thanked me for it."

"I don't like your heart action," said Doctor Nuckles. "You've had some trouble with Angina Pector."

Moose blushed, looked at the nurse, and then stammered: "You're partly right, Doctor, only that isn't the pore 'fish's' name."

Mrs. Bartlet: "Young man, the doors of this house are closed at ten thirty on Sunday evening."

Everett: "Oh that's alright with me; don't delay on my account."

Dad Laughlin: The other day I went fishing and caught one of those great big fish—what do you call them?
Dr. McG: Oh, you mean a whale.

Dad: No, that couldn't have been it; I was using whales for bait.

Pinkston: "What did Dorothy say when you fell on your knees and proposed to her?"

Linberg: "She gave me three cents."

Pinkston: "What for?"

Linberg: "She said it was the amusement tax."

"Now, boys," said Dr. McGinnis, "there were two rich men, one of them had made his fortune by honesty and industry and the other by fraud and roguery. Which of these two men would you prefer to be?"

"There was a moment's hesitation, then little Ike Armentrout held up his hand and inquired, "Vich made der most?"

Jerry: "You sit on every joke I write."

Dr. Lowe: "I wouldn't if there was a point to them."

GETTING OUT A PAPER.

Getting out a paper is no picnic.

If we print jokes, folks say we are silly.

If we don't, they say we are too serious.

If we publish things from other papers, we are too lazy to write.

If we publish original matter, they say we lack variety.

If we stay on the job, we ought to be out rustling news.

If we are rustling news, we are not attending to our own department.

If we don't print contributions, we don't show proper appreciation.

If we do print them, the paper is filled with junk.

Like as not, some fellow will say we swiped this from the Exchange—so we did.—Ex.
