 bottom: "Man, everyone took all the chairs!"
 right: "Ha, ha! Look! I have two!"

and Looking Back

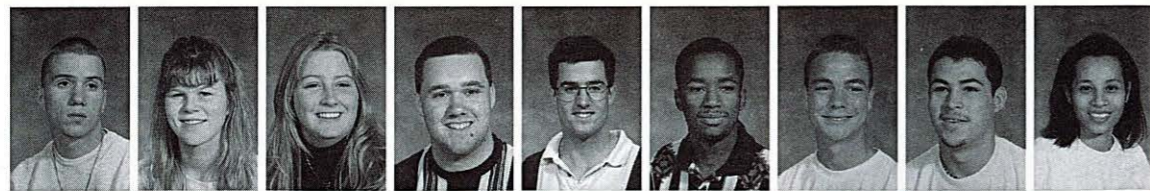

For some, it is a first semester at college, and for others it is a last. But whatever the semester brings, it will be accompanied by laughs and by tears, and always by friends both old and new. And whether it is a missed goal or a failed test or a wild night, when it's over, look at it

Cross Country

Just over the summer the men's and women's cross country team has grown in number. Thanks to Coach Lucito the men's team went from seven to eighteen runners and the women's team has some new faces that are replacing people that have left the school. Also, a new face has appeared in the coaching staff and that is Asst. Coach Stanley. With these two men helping out the runners, and with "JACK DANIELS," it is a great workout program. Both men's and women's team should have a great year. So, RUNNER'S ON YOUR MARK, GET SET, YO!!!!!!-----Mike Cook

Right: Maureen Sweda takin' it in stride with nothin' to hide.

Far right: Jeff Gifford running at Baker University Croce Country meet.

STRIVING TO THE FINISH Lilina Hernandez and Cori Pettit.

BOY IS IT COLD. I'M GLAD I FINISHED THIS RACE.

WHILE COACH STAN IS TALKING, AARON IS TRYING TO SCARE THE OTHER TEAMS WITH HIS KUNG FOO MOVES.

Culver-Stockton gets a break, but not for long. Valley ended up slaughtering Culver 52 to 20.

Jerry Davis catches the kick and heads up field.

Quarterback Jerry Davis runs for a touchdown.

Freshman Lindsay Wood cheers on her team.

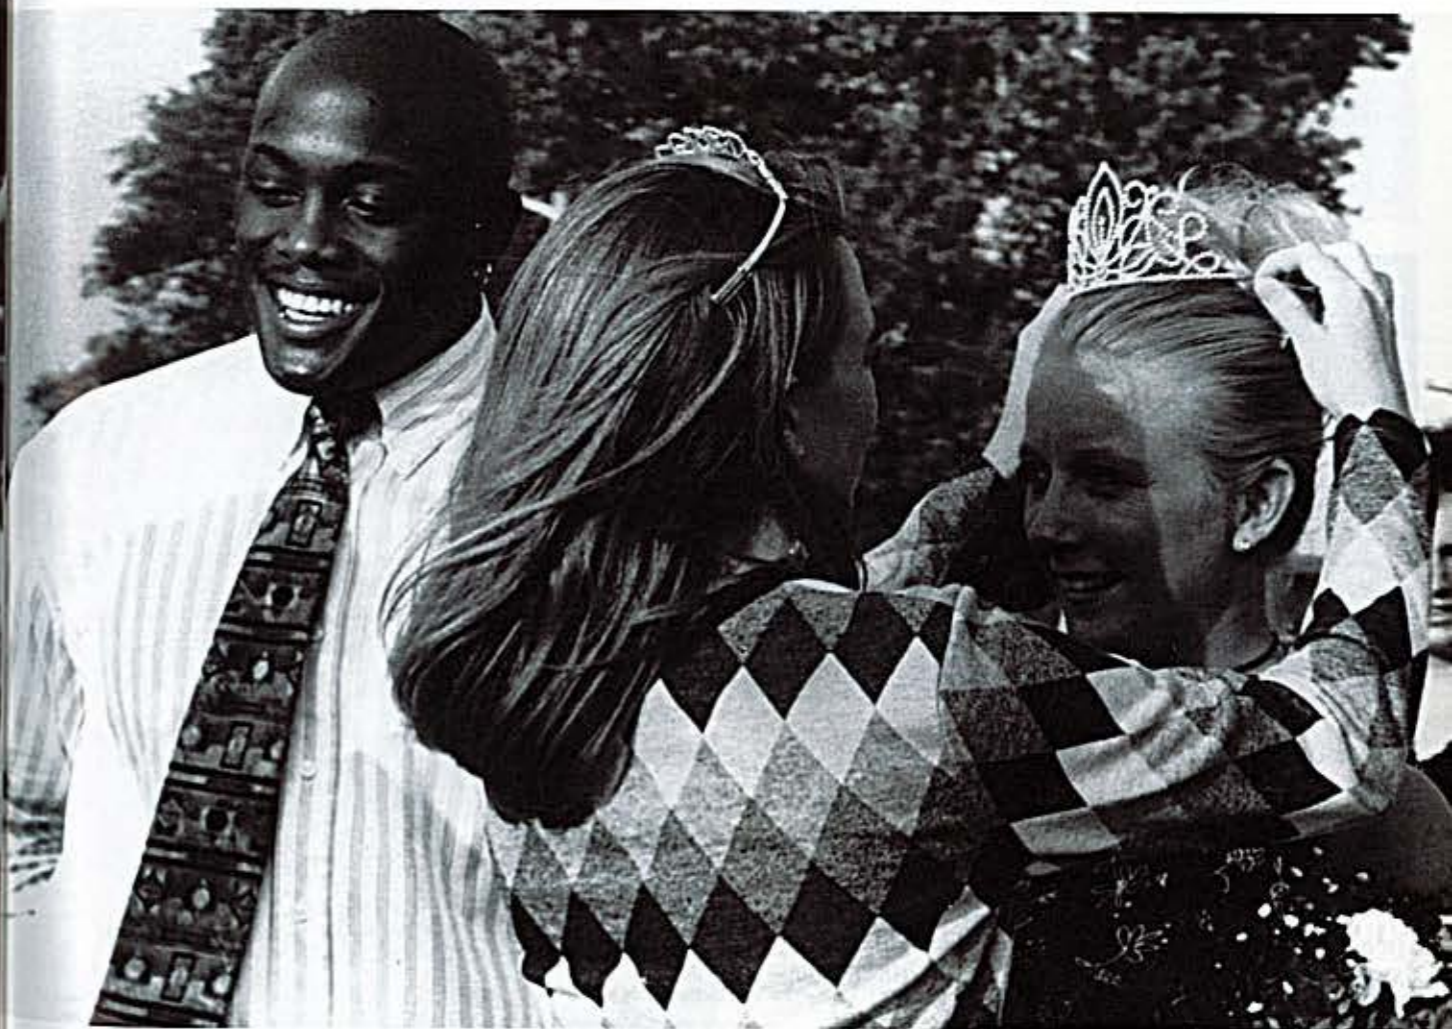

HOME

COMING

[Coach] Stanley noted that with all of these traditions, especially at Homecoming time, it is no wonder that more "Valley alum send their kids to Valley more so than at any other school." —Mandy Chapman

Homecoming is the time for memories, when Valley Alum come back to their alma mater once more. Its time to look back at who they were, how they lived, and what they are now. And in retrospect, it was worth the agony and the heartaches. And so they come back, year after year, to support their old team, taking them back to those days.

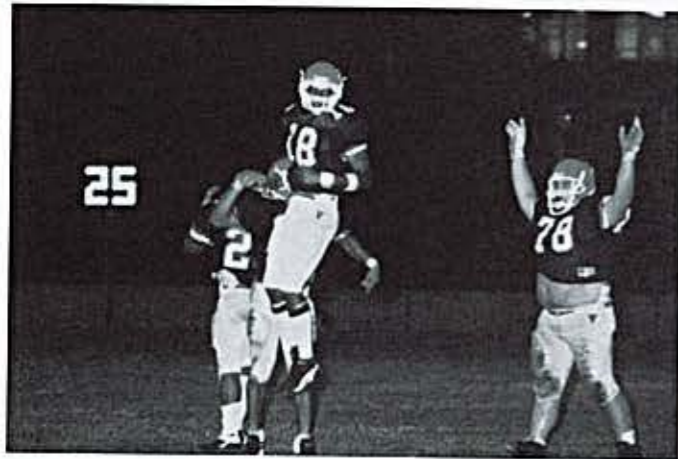

The 1996 Homecoming Queen Jen Pratt crowns Becci Hunholz, MVC 1997 Homecoming Queen, as King Bobby Lashley looks on.

VALLEY WILL ROLL

SMOKE IN YOUR EYES
 (Below) Meg (Autumn Ellis) blows smoke in Chick's face (Bathsheba Love) while Lenny (Amber Hassing) looks on.

Crimes of the Heart

Laughter was no crime at any performance of Crimes of the Heart by Beth Henley. A stellar cast under the direction of Ian Desmond made the audience quake with laughter. Long hours of rehearsals and set construction were required to produce the quality show that the audience witnessed. The story of the Magrath sisters from Hazelhurst, Mississippi and all their trials was brought to life by a colorful cast of characters which were performed by some rather talented group of students, none of whom are unfamiliar to the stage at Missouri Valley. — Nicole Renner

ANYTHING FOR YOU, DEAR
 (Right) Lawyer Barnett Lloyd (Cleven Ficklen) swears to Babe Botrelle (Amy Bourque) that he will find a way to clear her name for attempted murder.

YEAH, WHATEVER!
 Lenny Magrath closes her eyes in frustration as Meg, her sister, tries to justify certain behaviors.

I'LL DO MY BEST
 (Left) Lawyer Barnett Lloyd tries to comfort another sister, Meg, with promises that he will be able to clear Babe of her "crime of the heart."

HAPPY REUNION
 (Below) Babe Botrelle enthusiastically greets her sister Meg who she has n seen in a great while.

STILL SING THE BLUES?
 (Left) Meg and Doc Porter (Morgan Bell) share a little bourbon, and he asks Meg if she still sang her sad songs that she sang so well.

REMEMBER WHEN...
 (Above) Meg tries to understand Babe's method of thinking as Babe speaks to Lenny of the reason why her mother hanged the cat with her when she died.

BLOCK THAT BALL
Kristin Paul and Becky Huskey jump to block the volleyball as Baker prepares to dig.

GO VALLEY
Right: Brooke Harmon and Delfina Torrez prepare to attack while waiting for the ball to come back across the net.

GREAT TEAMWORK

GET READY LADIES
Abby Hout and Danielle Wade await intimidatingly for Baker University to serve the ball and get things going.

GO DANIELLE!
Right: Danielle Wade jumps into an awesome spike to send that ball flying.

BUMP THAT BALL

Teamwork

Coach Kenny Holstine noted his two most enjoyable experiences with the girls as getting to know them, and their tremendous focus along with their true winning attitudes. They are a volleyball team that is willing to rise to the occasion.

Sounds of Christmas

Caroling, wishes sent to Santa and a baby being born one blessed night are all part of Christmas tradition.

This year's Christmas concert had a different flavor than in years past. Mrs. Diana Malan used this concert to highlight her seniors and other solo and small group numbers. It was fun for all the students, and many students were highlighted, not just the seniors.

This year's Christmas concert was also a departure from the very traditional styles of music. There were songs that had a pop feel as well as the very traditional pieces. This year, the international students from America Samoa and Panama had an opportunity to share their culture with the audience.

There was a different feel and flavor to the Christmas concert this year. It came from hard work and the introduction of different traditions to the holiday atmosphere. —Nicole Renner

See How They

Run

Mix-up and mayhem were what kept the audiences of See How They Run laughing throughout this show. This is the story of a vicar in England, his wife, a former love, a nosy church goer and local busy-body, and many others including a Russian intruder.

Ian Desmond led this cast in yet another triumphant performance here at Missouri Valley College. A few good bouts of stage combat helped this show give the sense of chaos needed. The performers once again made sure that the humor was not lost to the audience.

Team Huddle!

Somebody feels dumb.

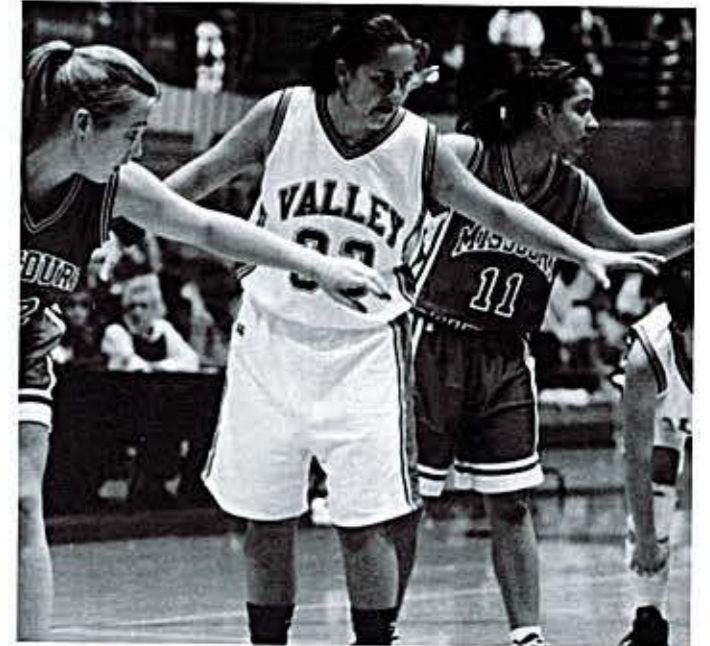

Don't you feel used.

Women's varsity player BJ Crouch is awaiting the opponents, ready to defend the MVC hoop.

First year coach Melissa Gray has had a rocky year. Three starters were taken away last year, however, two transfer students were brought in to fill the gaps. The team has been plagued with injuries and departures. In fact, three of the five starters have been out with injuries. The team has played hard through out the season, keeping their heads held high. The Heart of America Conference is one of the NAIA's toughest, with three teams ranked in the top ten nationally. Even with the tough competition, Missouri Valley has players excelling in individual categories. Hard work in the off season and quality recruits will result in a successful season next year.

Valley rolled this season with a 16-13 overall record and a 11-6 conference record. This record gave access to the Heart of America Athletic Conference Tourney. Making it all the way to the Quarter Finals against William Jewell.

Valley has All American Athlete's this year including: Donovan Brown 1st team, Koby Achane 1st team, and Jason Allwood Honorable Mention.

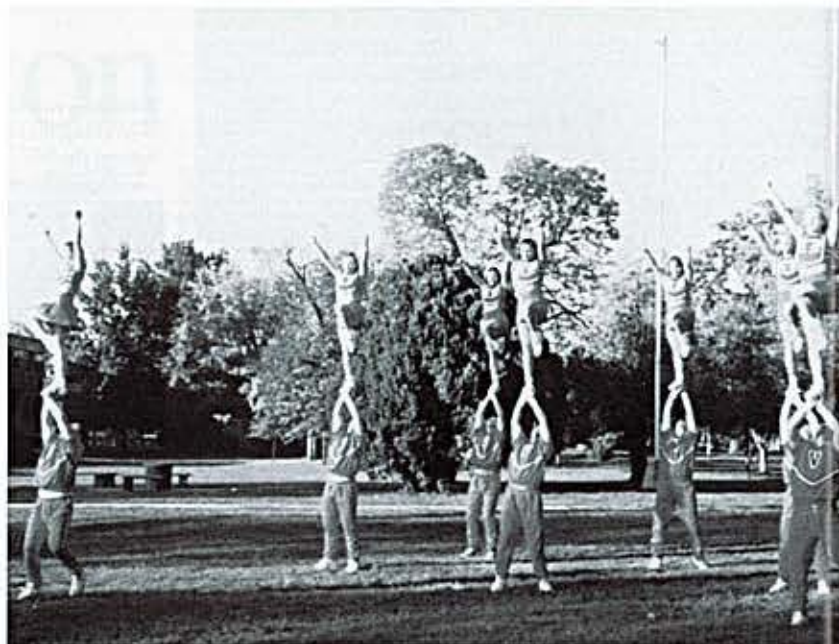

The Varsity Women's team consisted of 15 players. "It's been a good learning experience. I've learned the players' styles, and they have learned mine, and we can carry that into next year," said Coach Melissa Gray.

During half-time Coach Gray and Assistant coaches Rex and Jesi gather the team around for a pep talk and water break.

MO. Valley's cheerleading team prepares for competition.

PRICELESS. After endless hours of practicing the national's routine, and with the only ounce of energy Kristie Schwan has left she asks, "Are we done yet?"

The cheerleaders plan on heading to Orlando, Florida over Christmas break for Universal Cheerleading Association's college national's January 7 - 11. The competing team will consist of seven girls and nine guys.

FLORIDA BETTER BE A BLAST! "I'm not gonna lie, I have lost it! I need a break!" Chad Satcher honestly exclaims.

The squad spent countless hours repeating one cheer, one chant, many stunts, basket tosses, and series tumbling preparing to send in the flawless video tape for bids to national's.

IT'S A BIRD, IT'S A PLANE, NO! IT'S A VALLEY CHEERLEADER!!! Heidi Tracer and Darci Ward defy gravity in basket tosses.

VALLEY TEES OFF FIRST YEAR OF GOLF

With Dual meets 0-3, and with their best finish 6th of a 12 team field, the mens golf team got off to a rough start. The team was made up of Tim Fulkerson, Brett Snow, Mike Mitra, Phil Cassell, Ariel Mears, Alex Ivan, Jeff Perry, and Shaun Guerin. The low golfer of the team was Tim Fulkerson, with an average of 81. Tim was also the winner of two dual meets.

For the women's team "the future is looking very good," said Coach Damron. The team was 2-0 in dual meets and placed 3rd at the Lindenwood Invitational Tournament. Their big finish came when they placed 2nd in the conference, right behind Evangel. The women never placed lower than 3rd for the season. Joy Leslie held the lowest stroke average and finished 7th in the Conference. Elizabeth Wheeler earned All-Conference honors with her 3rd place finish at the Conference golf meet.

Nunsense Is Habit Forming

The theatre department decided to try something a little different this year, so they held the musical in the spring. Although there were a few conflicts, Diana Malan pulled her cast together and made the show happen. The cast worked very hard on portraying nuns (and a monk), and with the help of Sr. Wildt, they had their habits on straight.

The cast delighted audiences with their off-beat humor. The nuns may have been a little unorthodox in their language and banter, but it was what the show was all about. They had to bury the four sisters that they had in the freezer. They died because of Julia's soup.

In the end it all worked out, and the last of the nuns were buried.

Twelve Valley students publish.

The Missouri Writers' Guild honored Sarah Rogers as The Walter Williams Outstanding Journalism Student, the third MVC student in five years—following Leeanna Snorgrass in 1995 and Sara Knop in 1996. Rogers' "Backyard Big Top," illustrated by Amber Hassing, was published in Springfield!

For the second year in a row, the Guild awarded Dr. Loren Gruber first prize in its Best Juvenile Short Story category. "Beowulf Earns His Name" won in 1997; "The Windigo Waits—and Watches" in 1998. Both were published in Hodgepodge.

In addition to Rogers, ten others in Gruber's Freelance Writing and Creative Writing classes have been published in five course offerings. They include former students Matt Allen, Tom Bolling, John Gant and Judy Morris. Also, current students Jessica Bunnell, "The Prejudice," In Other Words; Misty Leslie, "Hitting Made Easy," Sports Illustrated for Kids; Nicole Renner, "A Greater Reward," The Steeple and "Make the Most of It," College Bound; Melinda Slater, "Personal Postcard," The Friend; Kevin Smith, "The Bug of My Dreams," Springfield!; Lori Wilson, "Jewell Patek," an interview, Carrollton Democrat.

A devotional by Margaret Tyler, Dr. Ralph Speer's Literature and Composition student, was published in Turn into the Wind.

TELEVISION WORKSHOP

"There are highlights and there are lowlights, but at least there are still lights, camera, and action!"

A VISIT TO PENNYTOWN. The Delta newspaper staff Adam Musil, Leann Brown, Warren Clark, and Dr. Speer are standing in front of a memorial sight in Pennytown.

TELEVISION PRODUCTION

Associate Professor Rick Urdiales sits in front of the new equipment the school bought for the mass communication department. He and MVC are keeping the department up to date with the fast changing television world.

5, 4, 3, 2, 1 ACTION

Students have the opportunity to film, or be filmed with the television studio in the Mass Communication department. It has been a very good hands on training experience for everyone that has gone through the department.

Time Crunch Creates 'Deadline' Anxiety, Fatigue, Frustration

It's about Time

The Delta

"We started with a small staff last year, and we've developed a staff that's included more than 20 new writers," said Dr. Speer.

The Executive Vice president of the Chamber of Commerce stated several people in the community have been enjoying the paper.

The Sabiduria

"This is the best unified group we've ever had, we're even beating the deadlines that we beat last year," said Dr. Gruber.

The yearbook is a full-time, year-round job that takes a lot of devotion.

KMVC-TV

"The highlight of our T.V. season is the annual Chamber of Commerce auction," said professor Rick Urdiales.

The auction is a live televised auction from MVC studios and runs 6 hours.

KMVC-V91.7

"Our programming is designed to primarily serve the student population, as well as the community of Marshall," said professor Rick Urdiales.

A variety of music is played from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m., Monday thru Friday, with specialty shows on the weekends.

Pick a disc, any disc

Students of MVC enjoy the opportunity of working at the campus radio station. Like any radio station, V91.7 has its ups and downs, but remains a success throughout the campus and community.

On Air Personality

Mass Communication major Josh Branch was a regular disc jockey on MVC's V91.7 throughout the year. Fall students who already knew the radio equipment had to relearn the new updated equipment bought in Spring.

A plantation to write about

Field trips everyone enjoys

The newspaper staff also visited the Sappington Memorial Building in Arrow Rock. This made an interesting article for the Delta. Many students enjoy the field trips and working together on the paper. It takes a lot of hard work from the faculty and students. Everyone seems to cooperate extremely well, which generates an awesome paper each circulation.

Reed Kepner, Associate Professor of Biology and former Dean of Mathematics and Science, received the John McCallum Excellence in Teaching Award last year.

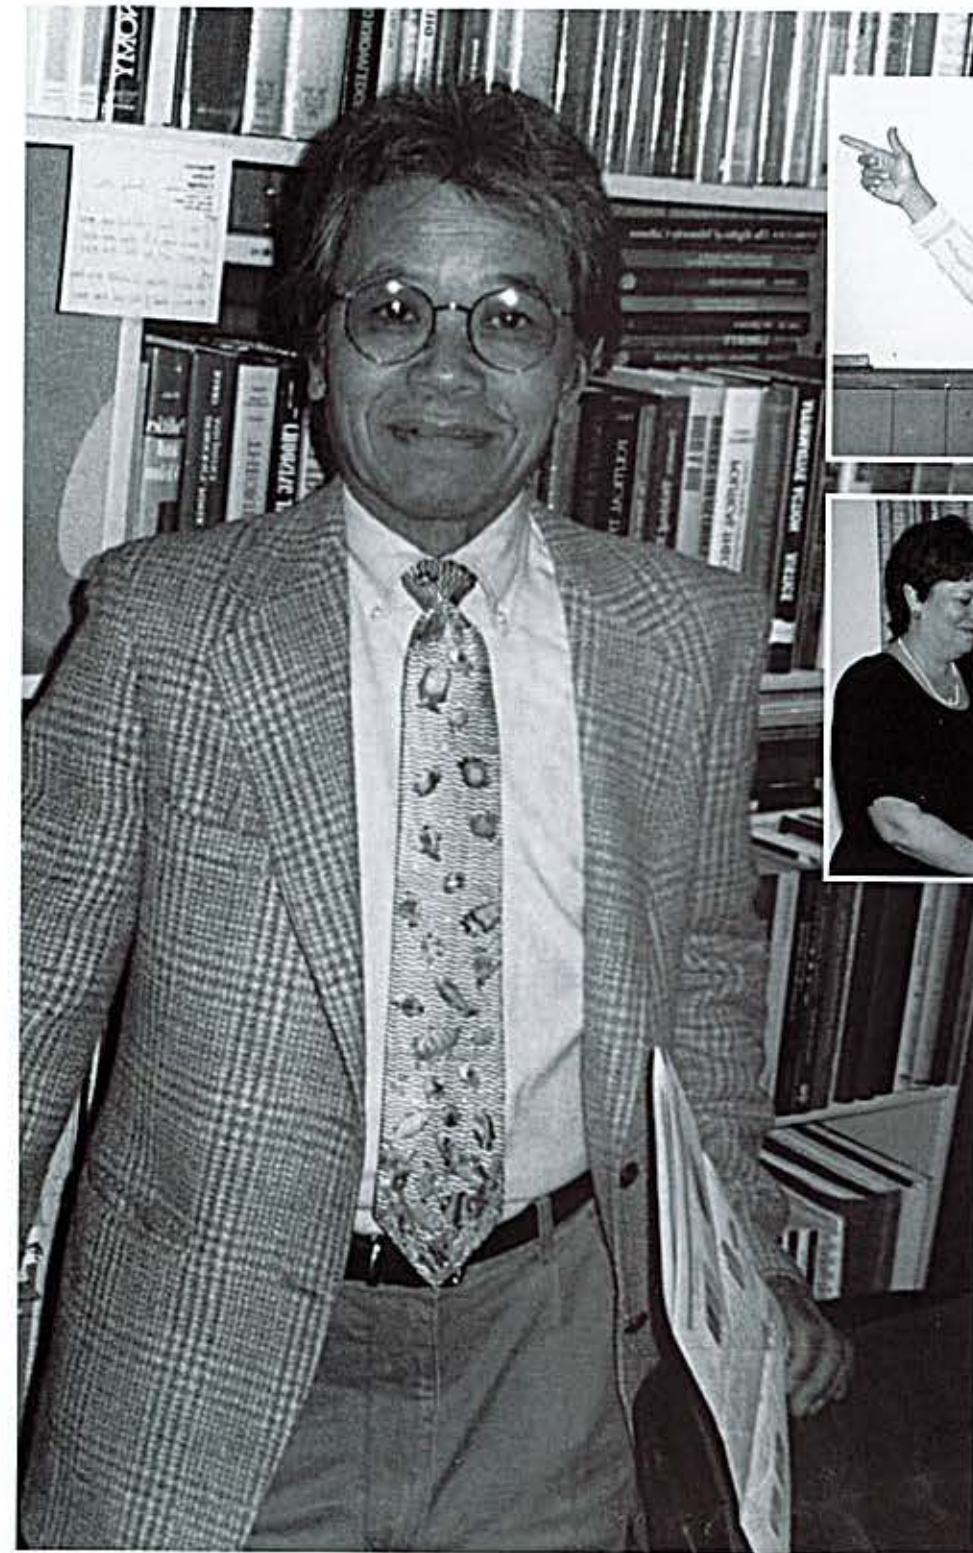

A wide reader and self-styled curmudgeon, he inspires colleagues and students alike to achieve excellence. He takes pride in landscaping the campus. Accordingly, MVC's Arbor Day has been renamed Reed Kepner Day.

"I feel there is no use in dealing with students unless you can get them where they want to go in the future. That's why I drag them kicking and screaming through the course."

Dedicated to Reed Kepner

Acay receives 1998 McCallum Award

ABOVE: Dr. Marilyn Ehler, Vice President of Programs and Academics, presents Dr. Gerardo M. Acay, Associate Professor of Political Science and Public Administration, with the 1998 John McCallum Excellence in Teaching Award.

A Missouri Valley College faculty member since 1990, Dr. Acay distinguishes himself as a dedicated professor, as a widely read faculty member who loves to debate philosophical issues — especially with colleagues at lunch who wish to discuss Carl Wittgenstein's positions.

A respected scholar, he has written numerous papers. This year, Dr. Acay presented "On H.L.A. Hart's Theory of Obligations: A Re-examination," at the annual meeting of the New York State Political Science Association.

One Hundred Thirty One seniors walk

Banks, the Hustons honored as Doctors of Humanities

Nineteen December graduates, two January graduates, 85 May graduates and 25 Summer candidates walked in Valley's 109th Commencement, May 17.

Donna Klepper Huston delivered the Baccalaureate address, urging the seniors to pack five items: the Bible, an etiquette book, a copy of Dale Carnegie's How to Win Friends and Influence People, a YMCA membership card and a slip of paper with the college's Marshall address, 500 E. College.

Ernie, "Mr. Cubs," Banks delivered the keynote Commencement address.

He asked the seniors to continue to learn — and to approach their careers and life with enthusiasm.

In baseball, Banks said, a player is both an individual when at bat and a team player on the field facing an opponent.

Ernie Banks, Donna Klepper Huston and John P. Huston were hooded as Doctors of Humanities.
