Dedication

To the Builders of Missouri Valley College
— the founders whose spiritual vision projected it — the Board of Trustees who created and managed it,
— the Faculty who remained and endured during days of adversity — the Contributors of Buildings and of money who provided
the material bases,
With our eyes looking hopefully toward even greater things, we dedicate to them the
SABIDURIA of 1925.

V

Foreword

If in after years
this book can bring back to you memories
of the happiest years
of your life — if it can bring to you a realization of the sacrifices made by those who have gone before our labors will have been rewarded.

Football, 1924-25

THE 1924 Football Season, while not marking a championship year for the Vikings, could not be called a failure. Of the seven games that were played the Vikings won three, lost three and tied the other. While there does not seem to be much to this mere statement, the figures show that the Vikings forced their opponents to take advantage of every foot gained. In only one game of the season did the opposing team gain more ground from the line of scrimmage. The actual figures kept from a play-by-play score book show the following:

YARDS GAINED FROM THE LINE OF SCRIMMAGE

Valley.....	134	Missouri Wesleyan.....	88
Valley.....	167	Central.....	19
Valley.....	61	Westminster.....	136

This year we lose by graduation five men that have endeared themselves to the hearts of the students and football fans of the whole conference. All of them are letter-men and four of them have played on the Viking team for four years.

Holliday, from Oregon, played guard. He was one of the hardest fighters that ever wore the Viking colors.

Holloway, the tall boy from Marshall, good anywhere in the line, but specializing on the end position.

Johnson, fullback and the terror of every line that faced the Vikings. "Watch Johnson" was the slogan of our opponents.

Swisher, "the fighting fool." All-state center, Viking captain. The all-state position speaks for Swisher and it does not exaggerate.

Sydenstricker, "The best half in the state of Missouri," as he was once introduced. Fast, shifty, and brainy. Valley may equal him, but she will never best him in the halfback position.

Every name in this list will live along with those of "Chief" Maddox, "Ikey" Armentrout and "Moose" Durrett, with whom they fought in the immortal season of 1923. A higher compliment could not be given.

The following is a very brief resume of the entire football season:

MISSOURI WESLEYAN 13 VIKINGS 6

The first game of the season was fought in a drizzle and a sea of mud. Two fine teams met for the first time, and neither had an alibi, although both wished for dry weather. The game was confined to punting and sliding, with comparatively little excitement.

CENTRAL 0 VIKINGS 16

The game was played at Fayette on a warm day. The Eagles put up a good fight, but the Vikings got under way and kept their goal clear.

WESTMINSTER 15 VIKINGS 0

The Blue Jays came over for vengeance and they got it. It was the heaviest team Missouri Valley has faced for many seasons, and they swept the Vikings before them as they did all others who faced them in 1924.

DRURY 10 VIKINGS 0

The comparatively light team of the Panthers was exceptionally fast. The so-called "Pony Backfield" dashed around ends and won a clean-fought game, characteristic of Drury.

HIGHLAND 0 VIKINGS 59

Although a walkaway for the Vikings, giving the Subs a chance, the boys in plaid from the Jayhawker State had to be shown up to the last minute. They played hard against an experienced team that had them out-weighted.

JEWELL 0 VIKINGS 0

The best game of the season for the Vikings, and a decided moral victory. The big red team seemed to be able to stand only when they had their backs against their goal-posts.

TARKIO 12 VIKINGS 41

A good game to finish the season. Tarkio had a good team, but not good enough. These five men playing their last game for Valley were like demons, and nothing could have withstood their onslaughts.

Basketball

Basketball in Missouri Valley has never been as successful as some other forms of athletics. It takes several years to develop a good basketball team, however, and since five of the men on the first squad are Freshmen the future looks more promising than it has before.

The team took several good trips this year and there were a number of good games at home.

BILLS WHITE STORCK DURRETT

Basketball

MISSOURI VALLEY has not a winning basketball team—yet. But she shows a decided improvement over last year. One thing can surely be said in favor of the men on the Viking Squad. At no time did they give up and decide to stop playing. The last game was harder fought than the first. It takes real grit to stand up and be beaten continually and yet keep on fighting, but that is what the Squad of 1924-'25 did, and they are to be congratulated on their efforts.

For the last three years Missouri Valley has asked the High Schools of the surrounding counties to take advantage of their wonderful gymnasium by participation in a basketball tournament. These invitations have always brought several schools together for a good time and some exciting rivalry. In February, 1925, the third tournament was held and attended by teams from the high schools of Corder, Sedalia, Marshall, Alma, Independence, Prairie Hill, Sweet Springs and Warrensburg.

It was a well-balanced tournament, and the games were interesting and well attended. The last Bracket was composed of Warrensburg and Independence, Warrensburg winning with a score of 33 to 19.

PROF. J. J. DYNES, Coach

MISSOURI VALLEY has five tennis courts which are kept in good condition throughout the entire year. The men's team has met the team from Central College in a number of matches at Marshall and at Fayette. Last year our tennis team was sent to the State Meet at William Jewell. The students take a great interest in this form of athletics and the courts are full at all hours of the day in good weather. The girls, while as yet they have organized no team, play regularly. The College gives credit to students who sign up and play at least thirty-six hours each quarter.

Baseball

BASEBALL in Missouri Valley has been one of the Major sports and has had many enthusiastic followers. Unlike a number of colleges, this sport seems to still hold its own against other sports which seem to be supplanting it. It has been a little difficult in some cases to schedule games with schools in our conference, but we have had no trouble in getting a number of good games.

During the season of '24 several games were scheduled with Wentworth and Kemper Military Academies, and one of the feature games of the season was a two-day visit which was paid us by the Haskell Indians. For a number of years the teams of Missouri Valley have played against the Indians and these games are always well attended and supported by the town as well as by the students.

The season of '25 promises to be as much of a success as any other in the past. Although we lost by graduation several men who will be missed, their places are being filled in a very satisfactory manner. The team played one game with Wentworth Military Academy and won, 7 to 1. This was the opening game of the season. A number of other games are scheduled. Two with Central College, two with Kemper Military Academy and several others which have not yet been announced.

We hope that this sport will continue to receive the same attention as it has in the past and that baseball will not be given up by the college.

Track '24

FOR THE first time in the history of the school, M. V. C. had a representative track team. There has been a growing demand for this branch of sport for some time and Coach Godfriaux answered that call by putting Eddie Purcell in charge of the squad which reported for duty. By consistent work this little group of about fifteen men were moulded into a very presentable team.

Two meets beside the State Meet were scheduled and the team made a fine showing for the first season. When the State Meet, which was held at William Jewell, came around a team of about ten men was sent to represent M. V. C. A fine showing was made at this meet also. Tom Conrad was the only man who succeeded in getting a first, and consequently was the only man to make a letter during the season of '24.

Track '25

THE TRACK season of 1925 has not advanced very far by the time this book has to be ready for press; however, from the prospects it promises to be a far better season than the previous one. There are about twenty men out this year and Coach Godfriaux is giving a great part of his time to help the men in their work.

All of the men, with only one or two exceptions, who were out last year are back. The only man who made a letter in track last year, Tom Conrad, was elected captain.

Only one meet has been held previous to the writing of this article. That meet was with Wentworth Military School at Lexington. The team showed up exceptionally well in this first contest. Of the thirteen men who took part in this meet, eleven made points, which goes to show that the team is well balanced.

There are several other meets scheduled besides the State Meet, which is to be held at Fayette this year.

ALYNE DANBURY
Director of Girls' Athletics

Girls' athletics in college is becoming more important each year. There are four "gym" classes each week at which time the girls play basketball, indoor baseball, volleyball, and take other forms of exercise.

THE girls have organized class teams and have staged several interesting games. The combined Junior-Senior team defeated the Freshman team in an exciting contest. The College team defeated the High School girls by an overwhelming score.

The class games create more interest than outside contests because more of the students are involved and the feeling of class rivalry is more pronounced. These games are doing a great deal to stimulate an interest in Girls' Basketball as well as other forms of athletics for the fairer sex.

Girls' Athletics

DURING the spring quarter a new form of athletics is taken up by the girls. They are doing more outdoor work. One group is taking track work, another group has organized a hiking club and goes on a two to five-mile hike every week. These two groups first mentioned are supervised by the girls themselves under the direction of Miss Danbury.

The regular gym classes meet each week in the gymnasium and play different games, such as volleyball and indoor baseball.

The girls who are to take special parts in the May day exercises, in the May Pole dances, etc., are drilled in this art during one of the regular gym classes each week.

Another sport in which the girls take part is tennis. When the weather permits the courts are in constant use, both by girls as well as boys. Credit is given for taking part in any of these various types of sport.

Bairdean Literary Society

THE Bairdean Literary Society has started under a new regime. The membership has been limited and made optional. More interest and earnestness has been manifest. After a short period of adjustment the society has gone ahead and the members have shown their desire to accomplish something worthwhile in the literary field. The programs have been interesting and helpful. Through the co-operation of the members with the efficient officers the society has come through the crisis stronger and better than before.

The Forum

THE FORUM is the newest of the college activities, having been organized near the beginning of this year. It is the college debating club. The Forum is regularly organized, with its staff of officers and rules governing its activities. The membership is limited to twenty-five. It is co-ed, and modernly democratic. Its plan calls for ten regular sessions each year, at which some worthwhile subject is debated by members delegated for that purpose, often followed by a general discussion. The discussions are directed by two members of the faculty whose business it is to help the teams in their preparation.

The interest in debating is growing in Missouri Valley, recovering from the war period. The Forum seems to have stepped into this breach, and is taking the place of the literary society debates of former years. While there has been great regret that the old-time inter-society debates have gone, yet there is a good prospect of the revitalizing of the interest in debating since the students who have a special inclination to develop forensic ability can now do it through the Forum.

The members for the year have been:

JOHN ALLEN	WILLIAM PAUL BARNDT
HERBERT CLAYTON	HERBERT DORAN
RENARD DREGGER	LAWRENCE GILLILAND
HAROLD HARVEY	RUBIFERN HUDSON
ANNA JOHNSON	LANSDEN MAHARD
NELLIE PARSONS	AMOS PENCE

Intercollegiate Debates

IN intercollegiate debate there have been three teams developed and used this year, two of men and one of women. Two questions have been discussed. The first was: Resolved, That Congress should have the power to re-enact a law, by a two-thirds majority, which has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. The men representing the affirmative on this question were Jack Holliday, Amos Pence and Lawrence Gilliland. They debated with William Jewell and Westminster. Both debates were "no judge debates." The men representing the negative were William Paul Barnds and Herbert Doran. They met Central College and Central Wesleyan.

The second question was: Resolved, That the U. S. should grant to the Philippines their immediate independence. The debaters were Nellie Parsons and Lola Wagle, defending the affirmative, and meeting women from Central College and Cadets from Kemper, which, by the way, has become a Junior College. Both were "no judge debates."

It may be of interest to record here that the "no judge" type of debate of great questions among college students is coming to be quite the thing. There are several things commending it. In the first place the student in preparing his speech need not fear what some judge might think through the influence of his bias, and is therefore free to speak his mind, and be much more honest in the statement of his case. It must be clear that there has been much insincerity in college debates in days past. Then in this sort of debate, after the debaters have finished their speeches the subject is thrown open, and any one from the audience is free to ask any speaker on either team any question that he seeks further light upon. Debating bids fair to become one of the most profitable of college activities.

Dramatic Arts Club

THE Dramatic Arts Club although only in its second year has made a niche for itself in the school life and in the community. Three plays will be given this year. Two have been performed already and both have met with an instantaneous and enthusiastic reception by students and friends of the college who saw them.

The "Full House," under the very capable direction of Miss Ginevra Belwood, showed the effects of earnest and concentrated effort on the part of the cast and directors. This play was repeated under the auspices of the D. A. R.

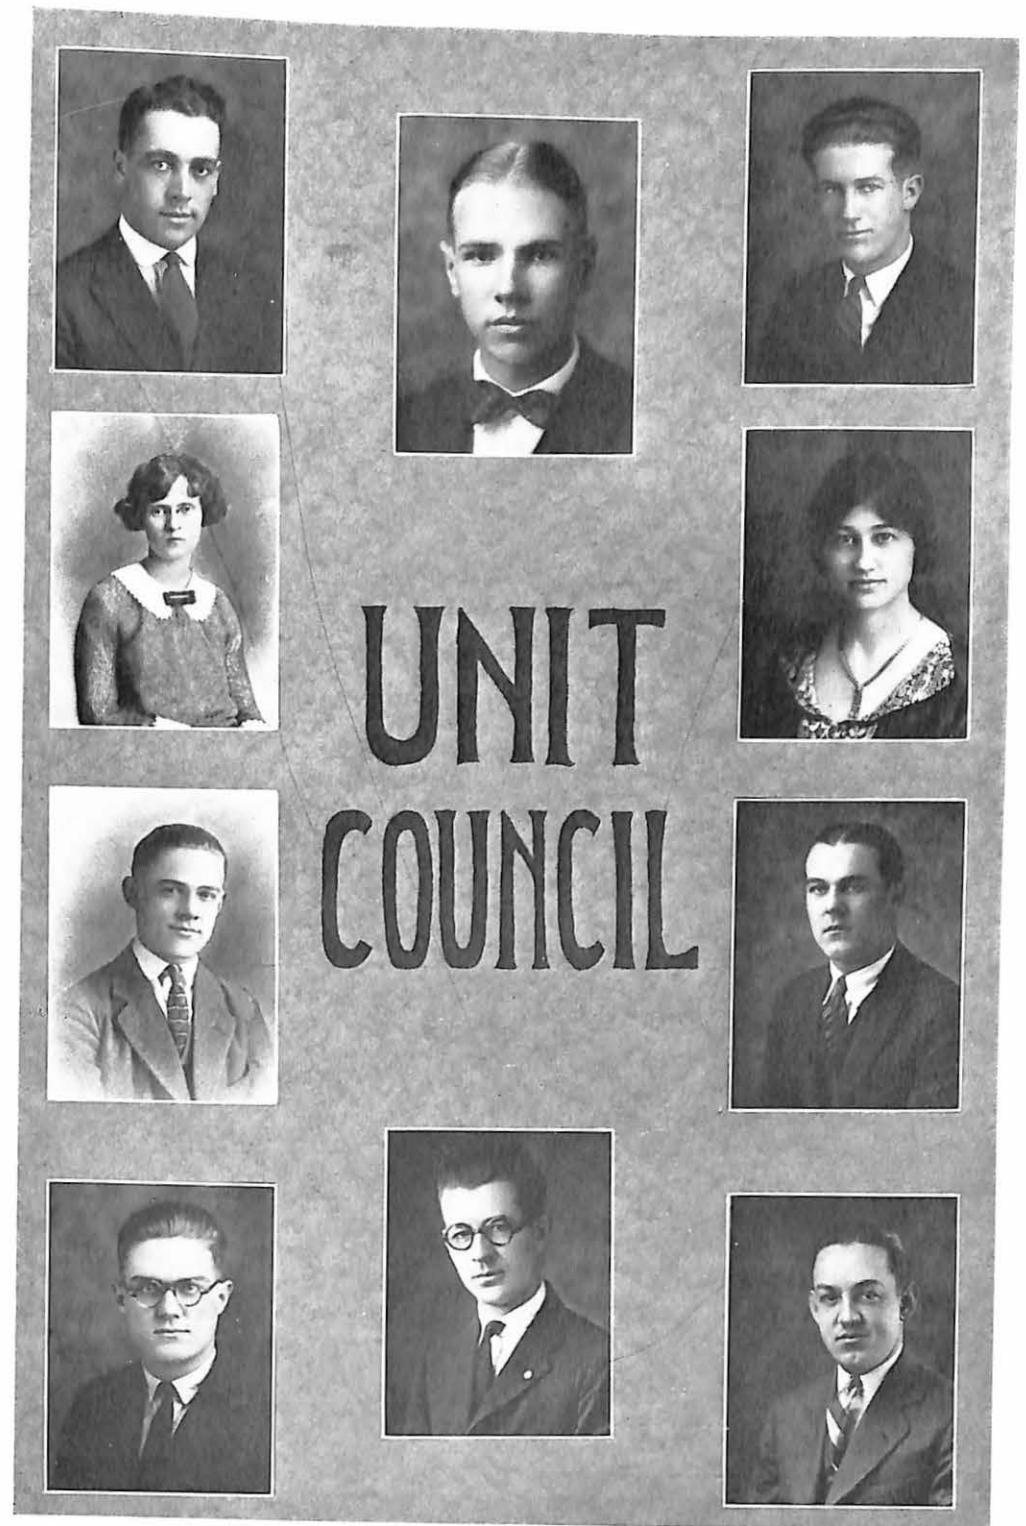

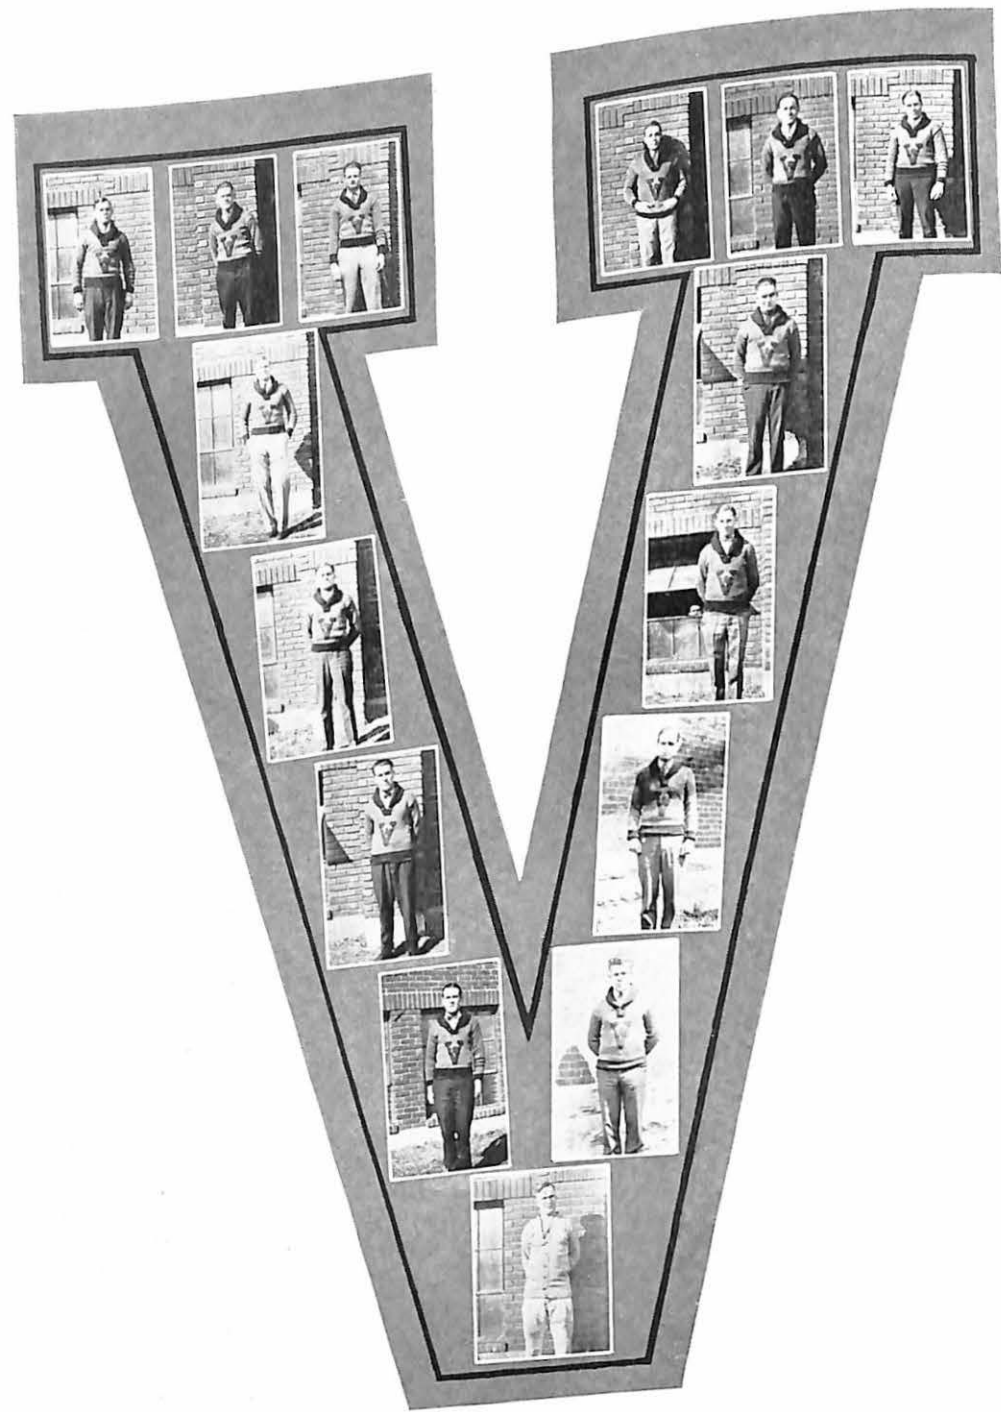

The second play, "The Thirteenth Chair," was directed by Miss Mary West, whose prowess as an actress was not belittled by her prowess as director. This play was of entirely different type from anything attempted by the college before and the cast is to be congratulated upon the very efficient way in which the difficult stage presentation was given.

As yet no definite commencement play has been selected but it is needless to say that it will be fully as entertaining as the others.

As usual the club will hold its formal banquet, this year on May 12th. It is planned to make this an annual affair.

Some of the accomplishments of the club this year might be mentioned. While it obtained a wealth of new material from the Freshman class, several new stars were discovered in the firmament of dramatics among former members. That is always a plausible thing because it gives more people a chance to display their latent talent in this line. For the play, "The Thirteenth Chair," the club constructed an entirely new set of foot-lights for the Chapel, which will be permanent. These add very materially to the necessary lighting effects.

The club owes much of its success this year to Prof. B. L. Seawell, who acts as faculty advisor and who comes to their assistance with valuable advice.

"V" Club

THE "V" Club is made up of the letter-men of Missouri Valley. There are fifteen members of this organization and they have as their president, Tommy Sydenstricker.

One of the important purposes of this organization is to promote clean athletics and their efforts have not been in vain.

The present members are:

The 1925 Glee Club presented a very interesting program which drew many favorable comments from the people of Marshall as well as from the people of the various towns in which they presented their concert while on their eastern trip. They were assisted in some of their concerts by Miss Mary Margaret Harriman, violinist, and by Mrs. R. C. Kenney, special soloist. The management of the organization in planning for the trips and other business of that nature was in charge of Miss Lola Wagle.

A very successful tour through north central Missouri was taken, differing somewhat from all previous ones. In addition to this trip there were two local concerts, the season closing with the joint concert of the Girls' and Men's Glee Clubs, which is scheduled for commencement week.

Gospel Team

THIS year of '25 has been a good one for the Gospel Team in its various activities. Probably no organization can boast so high a percentage of attendance and such a faithful execution of duties.

Our special speakers have contributed much to our lives through their interest and their talks. When members of the Team led the meetings we have always profited.

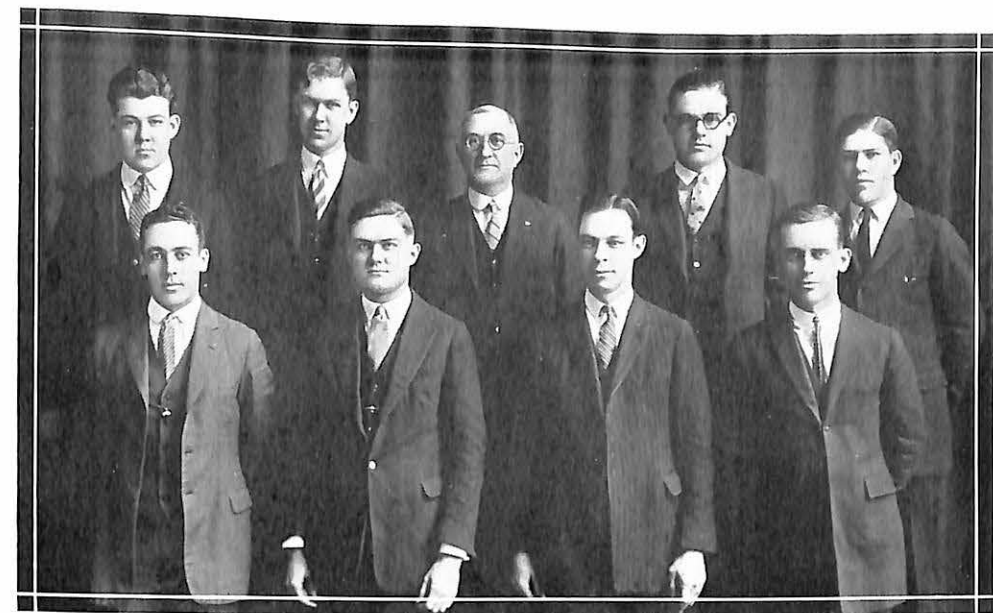

During the fall and winter we have made as many trips as were made in all of the past year. Two of our members have been called to hold special meetings with gratifying results in each case.

Our aim has been to foster the religious life of the members of the team and of those about us on the campus and in the field. In this aim we have been blessed. The people of each community we have visited have always made us feel that they wanted us to come back and our contacts have always been mutually agreeable and beneficial.

Not the least important thing in our work has been the discovery of each other; then we see each one as he aspires to be and every one is moved to help.

The officers feel that they have had the hearty co-operation from all the members, the other students and the faculty, and they look forward to greater accomplishments in the future.

Can your community use us?

Y. M. C. A.

AS AN activity in the student life of Missouri Valley College, the Y. M. C. A. furnishes a channel for religious discussion and Christian experience. Indeed, the purpose of the denominational school is to augment secular learning with that of religious instruction, to develop character and a well-rounded judgment in its young students. The Y. M. C. A., then, assists the Board of Religious Education in forwarding its program, to invoice its religious leadership and to direct students in their impressionable days to follow the principles of Jesus.

If in a year's time our organization would help a single student to find Jesus and make Him the guiding power of his life, our order would be receiving dividends, but what a meager investment? What of a business organization which would be satisfied with the minimum profit? Our purpose is to invest the capital of Christian manhood so that it will bring in the greatest premium for the Master.

The life of the Y. M. C. A. is not bounded by its weekly services of worship. The stag party in the fall, which has come to be the Freshman's debut of physical brawn, the joint Y. W. and Y. M. social of the mid-fall quarter and the spring hike. All of these play their role in the "Y" program.

The new students became acquainted with the Y. W. C. A. at the joint reception with the Y. M. C. A. on the first night of school at the opening of the fall quarter. Since then the Association has tried to make the girls on the campus realize the importance of walking hand in hand with Jesus. Weekly devotional meetings were held on Tuesday mornings before the opening of classes and on Thursdays at one o'clock. The programs have varied from devotional meetings to discussion groups on the great problems that are before the world today.

The present student generation in a few years will be citizens not only of America but of the world. They will face the coming crises. Will they solve them as Jesus would have solved them? If the Y. W. C. A. can show that Jesus' law of love is the greatest law and can make Jesus vital to the girls it will not have failed.

The

3 dimensions of a good bank

THE theory of "four dimensions" has no place in the mind of the man or company who is face to face with the problem of selecting a suitable banking connection.

Three dimensions, and only three, enter into this problem and if they are found to be right, the problem is solved for all time.

If you consider this bank as your bank, you will find its "dimensions" to be—

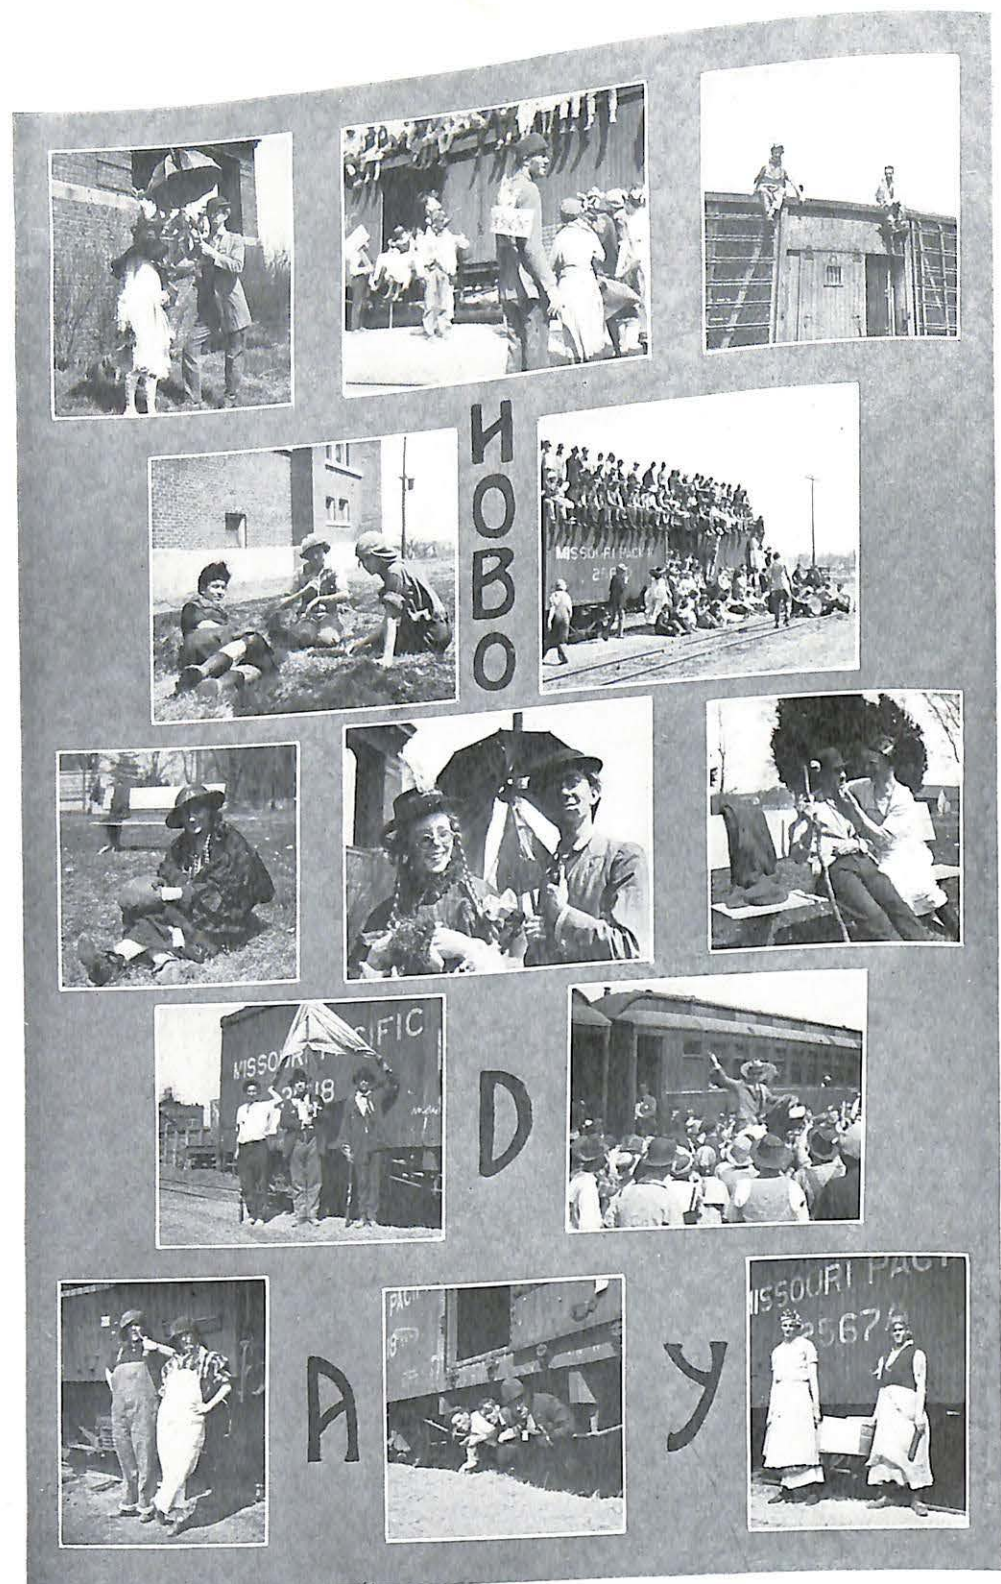

1. Large enough that its strength, security and facilities may be adequate for your every requirement.
2. Broad enough in spirit and perspective to assist you to realize all the possibilities of your business.
3. Small enough that its officers may know you and be thoroughly acquainted and heartily in sympathy with what you are working to accomplish.

Aren't these the "right" dimensions for a banking home for you?

A restaurant proprietor, who evidently believed in advertising, asked a number of his patrons to give him some sort of testimonial about his place. Among them was a sour-faced man who had ordered a lot, but eaten little. "There are," he said, in answer to the proprietor's request, "some of your things for which I don't care, but I'll give you a testimonial. Your salt and pepper are, in my opinion, quite up to the standard."

A curate of a fashionable church was endeavoring to teach the significance of white to a Sunday School class. "A bride," he said, "invariably desires to be clothed in white at her marriage, because white stands for joy, and the wedding day is the happiest day of a girl's life."

A small boy asked: "Is that why all the men wear black?"

A. M. Downes, late secretary of New York's fire department, related at a dinner a fire story: "At the end of the first act of a drama," he said, "a man leaped hurriedly to his feet, 'I heard an alarm of fire,' he said, 'I must go and see where it is!' His wife, whose hearing was less acute, made way for him in silence, and he disappeared. 'It wasn't fire,' he said on his return. 'Nor water, either,' said his wife coldly."

"Well, did he pay you?" asked the wife of a dentist who had been to collect a bill for a full set of false teeth that he had made for the man almost a year before.

"Pay me!" growled the dentist. "Not only did he refuse to pay me but he had the effrontery to gnash at me—with my teeth!"

"Dress Dress!" the deacon impatiently exploded. "That's all the modern girl thinks about. It's a mad race after fashion."

"Verily," replied the minister, "every girl is trying to outstrip the other."

Bob: "Is that the bloom of Florida health on your cheeks?"

Eva: "Of course. Why?"

Bob: "Well, then, you are a little healthier on one side than on the other."

Ask Lammie. He nose.

A Northerner riding through the West Virginia mountains came up with a mountaineer leisurely driving a herd of pigs.

"Where are you driving the pigs to?" asked the rider.

"Out to pasture them a bit."

"What for?"

"To fatten 'em."

"Isn't it pretty slow work to fatten them on grass? Up where I come from we pen them up and feed them on corn. It saves a lot of time."

"Yaas, I s'pose so." drawled the mountaineer. "But what's time to a hawg?"

A SLIGHT HITCH.

Stranger: Sir, do you remember giving a poor, friendless tramp fifty cents one cold night last winter?

Jones: I do!

Stranger: Sir, I am that tramp; that fifty cents was the turning point in my career; with it I got a shave, a shine, a meal and a job. I saved my money, went to Alaska, made a million dollars and last week I came back to New York to share my millions with you. But, unfortunately, I struck Wall street before I struck you—and—have you another fifty cents that you could conveniently spare, sir?

MAKING BOTH ENDS MEET.

The baby rolls upon the floor,
Kicks up his tiny feet,
And pokes his toes into his mouth—
Thus making both ends meet.

The dog attached to a tin pail,
Goes howling down the street,
And, as he madly bites his tail,
He maketh both ends meet.

The butcher slays the pensive pig,
Cuts off his ears and feet,
And grinds them into a sausage big—
Thus making both ends meet.

The farmer coops his ducks and hens
Feeds them with corn and wheat;
The means must justify the end,
For thus he makes them meat.

"That man," remarked Lynn C. Doyle, the great detective, "is undoubtedly a vegetarian of the most pronounced type."

"How do you make that out?" queried his friend.

"Oh, that's dead easy," replied the detective.

"He has carrotty hair, reddish cheeks, a turnip nose and a sage look."

"Did you ever try any of my biscuits, Judge?" asked the proud young housewife.

"No," replied His Honor absently. "I never did. But I dare say they deserve it."

Chamber of Commerce

HAVE you ever stopped to think what a Chamber of Commerce means to a town? Primarily it owes its existence to and builds its policy upon the fact that a town, in order to grow and expand, must be advertised—must advertise itself. But there are a thousand and one little services, exclusive of the general purpose, which a Chamber of Commerce renders its town which make it indispensable to the townspeople. The Chamber of Commerce—an organization of citizens and for the citizens—is at your service.
